WILL IT BE JUDGE POWERS?

A Washington dispatch, sent out several days ago from the national capitol, says that Ex-Congressman Samuel L. Powers of Newton is believed to be slated for one of the five judgeships in the customs court of appeals, which has been created by the passage of a new act. The dispatch continues:

The President wants him as the New England member of the court, having decided when he first took up the selection of the judges that that section was entitled to representation on the court. Mr. Powers has the endorsement of Senators Lodge and Crane and his selection is pleasing to the Massachusetts delegation in the house.

The appointment to the customs court is one of the choicest gifts within the power of the President to bestow. As a judge Mr. Powers would receive, as will the other customs judges, a salary of $10,000 annually. This is exceeded in the federal judiciary only by the salaries of judges of the supreme court of the United States. The position will carry with it prestige and social position at the capital, it being specified in the tariff act that the court shall sit in Washington.

Mr. Powers was one of President Taft's ablest lieutenants in Massachusetts in the last campaign, in which he did valuable work for the republican nominee. President Taft not only likes Mr. Powers, but wishes to recognize his political services. A position on the customs court of appeals will carry with it substantial reward.

In making the selections of judges for the court the President was restricted by the very nature of the business of the court to lawyers of standing and experience, who were familiar with tariff and customs matters. During his service in the house Mr. Powers' legal standing was recognized by assignment to the committee on the judiciary and an appointment as a member of the managers on the part of the house in the impeachment proceedings against Judge Charles Swayne.

The customs court is a court of appeal, and probably no case will be brought before it before October.

AN INVENTOR'S WARNING

Hudson Maxim, the famous inventor, is an authority on the cigaret habit. "Carbonic oxide," says Maxim, "when inhaled in small quantities produces faintness, dizziness, palpitation of the heart, and a feeling of great heaviness in the feet and legs. These are exactly the effects of the cigaret and the depression and nervousness which follow as a reaction make the victim crave some balm or tonic for his malaise. He is then led to consume the drug in ever increasing quantities. This progressive use of the cigaret is especially true with boys in the period of rapid growth. The wreath of cigaret smoke which curls about the head of the growing lad holds his brain in an iron grip which prevents it from growing and his mind from developing just as surely as the iron shoe does the foot of the Chinese girl."

SOCIAL EDUCATION

Methods of mental training by analysis have reached a high grade of perfection in the schools; methods of physical training in gymnasiums and various athletic systems, with and without apparatus, have been carried into a fine art; but methods of training the imagination by special synthetic exercises, is a field yet quite new in education.

The Sloyd work is, perhaps, the most direct method employed by the public schools where the imaginative faculty is effectively co-ordinated with the mental and physical energies. In this system of manual training great skill in the handling of tools is gained through the mental pictures of conferring pleasure upon others through gifts which speak of the personality of the giver. The highest motive is aroused in this work.

In special trade schools, the synthetic method is used through "learning to do by doing" with a concrete object in view which is useful in the business of living. It is here that the utility of a subject becomes the chief agent in gaining skill. This idea in true education is growing rapidly and spreading into almost every line of business and the professions. We have schools of salesmanship, schools of advertising, schools of printing, schools of dressmaking and millinery, textile schools, cooking schools, etc., etc.

In all these special lines, the mental image of a concrete and useful result is the chief correlating agent for the training of mind and hand to act in unison. The motor, and sensory nerves act in harmony by unifying them with the sympathetic system, which is the seat of the imaginative energy.

Any system of instruction which does not provide for the equal employment of the three nervous energies, fails in reaching practical results.

In the professions, music, voice culture, painting and sculpture are successfully taught by synthetic methods:—a plan which gives the reasoning powers ample play in the application of the knowledge so gained.

The application of knowledge is a process quite different from its acquisition. In the practical use of skill, (or knowledge) memory is largely concerned. Both ideas and muscular movements are involuntarily suggested and facilitated by repetition while the mind is engaged with the subject in hand. In acquisition, a basis for memory is provided for.

There is perhaps no subject so important as language in the culture of the young in the public schools. Few really good English scholars are graduated from the high schools. Spelling, punctuation and composition appear to be neglected. Many who are proficient in grammar are unable to compose a descriptive article in a concise and readable form. There are no lack of ideas, but great deficiency in the ability to express them clearly. The schools in England are far ahead of America in this respect. The underpaid correspondents in the business offices in London are often better able to express their ideas in good English, than the professors of English in this country.

The bearing of a good English education upon the social side of life needs no emphasis. At any gathering of school graduates, the language current explains the situation. Mostly slang, with great ability. It was acquired under synthetic conditions. Apply the same conditions to the acquisition of good English, and the same facility would accrue.

It is a well-recognized fact, this deficient language training. The corrective is a question of method.

The use of the typewriter and the dictionary in the public schools with a definite and useful motive will make a good speller out of a poor one. Better results will be replaced under this plan, if a large and carefully arranged vocabulary is practiced upon; one that is arranged according to sound groups. The reading aloud of such a vocabulary would also train the vocal organs to articulate clearly and correctly.

Here is a synthetic remedy for poor English, with a three-fold result. Good spelling, manual training in English composition and vocal culture.

But such a vocabulary must express good moral ideas in a form that appeals to the imagination, in order to be of the highest synthetic value.

NEWTON OFFICIAL ANSWERS MANY QUESTIONS

There is one man in Newton city hall who is called upon daily to answer inquiries upon a multitude of topics regarding the Garden City, to set prospective residents aright on perplexing problems; in fact, in the course of a year hundreds of information seekers instinctively search him out, says the Boston Globe.

He always has the desired information at hand, or at least can put his finger upon it with little more than a moment's notice. As a result of classifying and indexing a vast amount of facts and figures appertaining to Newton of the past and present, he is able to supply the wants of many a stranger seeking accurate information, or to refresh the memory of associate officials.

This man is Col. Isaac F. Kingsbury, city clerk of Newton, one of the most popular officials in the busy Middlesex city. He is one of the oldest in point of service, this being his 27th year as city clerk, an office which he will evidently continue to ably fill as many years as he may care to serve.

The information seeker visiting Newton city hall seems to naturally call upon Col. Kingsbury, confident that his wants will be supplied with quickness and accuracy if he has a difficult problem. For some time employees in other departments in the city hall have watched with no little interest the stranger, intent upon solving a problem in some way connected with the city, when he comes into the building. Almost invariably the stranger walks up the half flight of stairs, just through the double doors, hesitates a moment while he gets his bearings, and then makes a course down the corridor, turning in at the right through the always open door of the city clerk's quarters. Inside, Col. Kingsbury and his assistants are never too busy to quickly lay before the visitor the desired information.

Not all the information seekers are enabled to make a personal call to the office, where they are pretty sure to get what they desire. Neither are all the requests for information for the personal benefit of the inquirers. A month does not pass but that there are received numerous urgent requests from officials of other communities far and near for "points" regarding different phases of municipal problems as applied in Newton. Mayors, city clerks and other officers of a goodly number of cities throughout the country write, for illustration, for enlightenment upon the practical result of administration in the municipality in which the board of aldermen has such a small number of committees. In replying to these requests, Col. Kingsbury has spread the Newton idea of city government a great many miles beyond the confines of the city.

Then there are a great many personal problems which find their way to the office, with request for solution or advice. One not infrequently sees an old soldier emerging from the city clerk's quarters, and as one pauses one hears him quietly, yet sincerely, express his gratitude for assistance cheerfully rendered in the hour of need. Whether their problems regard pensions, the prospects of a none too steady son or many a serious difficulty which one would hesitate to confide to another, they know where they may find a firm friend and a sincere adviser.

Although Col. Kingsbury has for more than a quarter of a century been city clerk of Newton, he had a thorough insight into the public affairs of the community even before he took his present office, having been four years a selectman when Newton was a good-sized town.

He was born in East Newton (now Chestnut Hill), Jan. 2, 1841, in the homestead bought by his grandfather in 1816. His parents were Isaac and Mary A. (Homer) Kingsbury. He was educated in the common schools of Newton and in Bridgewater normal school. Upon being graduated from the latter institution he preferred to reimburse the state for his tuition, and entered the employ of the Taunton copper company in its Boston office.

Here he remained until Aug. 13, 1862, when he enlisted in Co. K, 32d Mass Infantry. He received promotion as sergeant in his company, sergeant major of the regiment, second lieutenant, first lieutenant, adjutant and captain. On the latter commission he could not be mustered because of the reduced number of men in the regiment.

Frequent narrow escapes from injury were his lot. His sword had been sheathed at Gettysburg, when he went to the assistance of his colonel, who had been wounded. A shot struck the scabbard, which had been swung to the right leg, indenting the steel case but saving the leg. The sword, never since withdrawn, he now prizes highly.

In the spring of 1864, when a lieutenant, he was detached from his regiment and assigned to duty as brigade inspector of the 2d brigade, 1st division of the 5th corps. He received a severe contusion of the right breast from a canister shot at the charge on Laurel hill, May 12, but did not leave the field. A fragment of a shell exploding within a few feet of him at Bethesda church, June 3, struck his right hand and made amputation of the index finger necessary. This injury was followed by critical illness.

While convalescing he was ordered to Gallops Island for mustering and forwarding detachments of recruits. With the close of the war he entered the U. S. customs service, being mustered out July 15, 1865.

In 1872 he was made chief clerk of the adjutant general's department of Massachusetts with rank of colonel. He held this position under each executive from Gov. Washburn to Gov. "Ben" Butler, resigning March 26, 1883, to become city clerk of Newton.

Previously, in 1870, '71, '72 and '73, he served the town of Newton as selectman. He was one of the organizers of Clifton guard, now Co. C, 5th regt., M. V. M., and was its first captain. He was one of the organizers of Charles Ward post 62, of Newton. Col. Kingsbury represented his regiment on the state commission which located the Massachusetts monument on the battlefield at Antietam. He is a member of the Massachusetts commandery of the military order of the Loyal Legion.

He has held membership in the Newton musical association, the Handel and Haydn society and the Cecilia club, having served as director of the two latter organizations. For many years he was parish clerk of the First church in Newton, but later became a member of the Church of the Redeemer at Chestnut Hill, of which he was one of the first wardens.

Col. Kingsbury was married to Miss Laura D. Holmes of Bridgewater, Jan. 4, 1865. They have two children, Mary M., wife of Dr. Vladimir G. Simkhovich of New York, and Dr. Isaac W. Kingsbury. His home is at West Newton (Boston Globe.)

Another year of experiment in house heating apparatus finds the "WINCHESTER" heater still in front, and satisfying the wants of the most critical. It is a pretty good proposition to find in your cellar in zero weather, for steam or hot water. Made by Smith & Thayer Co., 236 Congress Street, Boston, Mass.

BOULEVARD RESURFACING COMPLETE.

The street department this week completed the resurfacing of the south roadway of Commonwealth avenue from Weston bridge to Lake street at Chestnut Hill, one of the biggest contracts which it will undertake this year.

Between Hammond and Lake streets the roadway will be kept closed to traffic for several days, in order to allow the materials to harden sufficiently to stand the wear of the large number of automobiles which traverse the thoroughfare. Between these points there is considerable grade, and heretofore there has been much difficulty in keeping the surface in good condition. While the south roadway is closed between these streets, automobiles will be diverted to the north roadway, usually reserved for horse drawn vehicles.

With the completion of this work the Commonwealth avenue boulevard is likely to become even a more favorite course for automobilists than heretofore. Besides being up to the "sandpapered" standard the roadway is also dustless.

SCHOOL NOTES

The high school students of Malden, Mass., have come forth with a public statement against cigaret smoking, drinking and profanity. Let other schools follow suit.

Students of the Akron, Ohio, High School have been given new blotters bearing Johnny Hayes' advice against cigaret smoking,—the same advice quoted in the January number of The Crusader. Look it up.

Justice Stubbs of the Indianapolis Juvenile Court has declared that the sales of tobacco to schoolboys shall stop, if the court has to send all the merchants of West Indianapolis to the workhouse.

"In Germany," says the Rochester Post Express, "cigaret smoking in public is prohibited among boys attending schools,—not by law, but by the rules of the schools and universities,—and severe punishment is meted out for a violation of the rule."

FUNERAL OF MRS. GEO. M. BOYNTON

Funeral services for Mrs. Julia Holmes Boynton, widow of Rev. George M. Boynton, who died at the home of her son, Louis Boynton, in New York, took place last Friday at Newton cemetery chapel.

Rev. Edward M. Noyes, pastor of the First Congregational church at Newton Centre, returned from his vacation in Maine to officiate, and was assisted by Rev. Dr. William H. Cobb.

Mrs. Boynton had been a resident of Newton Centre about 20 years. Two years ago, following the death of her husband, she moved to New York, where she had since made her home with a son. She was a sister of the late Rev. Theodore J. Holmes, who was at one time pastor of the First Congregational church in this city, and was for some years an active member of Newton Centre Woman's club.

She is survived by four sons, Louis, a New York architect; Harry, who is connected with the Atlantic Monthly; Percy, assistant professor in Chicago university; and George H., a New York banker. Mrs. Boynton was well known in Newton Centre.

Auburndale.

—Misses Magee left this week for a vacation trip.

—Harold P. Young is home from a fortnight's stay at Flushing, L. I.

—Mrs. J. W. Davis and family of Central street have left for a month's vacation trip.

—Miss Elizabeth T. Ordway of Grove street is sojourning in Maine or a few weeks.

—Mrs. Mary G. McAllister of Central street will pass the next few weeks at Ocean Park, Me.

—Miss H. M. Crane has left for Ogunquit, Me., where she will remain at the hotel until Sept. 1.

—William Fuller and family of Maple street left Saturday for a month's visit to different summer places.

—Miss Abby Chamberlain of Woburn street returned Saturday from an enjoyable sojourn at Whitcomb Highlands.

—Mrs. W. F. Spooner of Aspen avenue has gone to Westworth, N. H., where she plans to remain the rest of the season.

—Walter C. Allen of Grove street spent the early part of the week at Whitcomb, where Mrs. Allen is passing the season.

—Mrs. Amanda W. Burr and John Burr returned this week to their Auburndale home, after a pleasant stay at Nantucket.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Johnson of Grove street left this week for a month's stay at Lake Umbagog, Cape Breton, Nova Scotia.

—An enjoyable meeting of the Mothers' Association took place Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Marcelle L. Kelly of Central street, when plans were made for work during the next few weeks and a social tour was enjoyed.

—Frank W. Hobart of Melrose street, one of the most popular Boston & Albany conductors, with Mrs. Hobart, are spending a vacation at Sedgewick, Me.

—Mrs. Horace Dutton and Miss Dutton of Hancock street closed their home this week, for a vacation trip of several weeks to different resorts in New England.

—Dr. Mortimer H. Clarke is having repairs made to his dwelling on Grove street, which was recently damaged by a fire which was believed to have been set by sparks.

—George W. Langley of Kaposia street, one of the veteran conductors of the Boston & Albany railroad, left this week with Mrs. Langley for a month's well earned rest.

—Charles E. Fogg and family this week closed their residence on Bourne street, and are located at the Atlantic club, Point Allerton, where they will remain until the middle of next month.

—Robert Stowell of Auburndale avenue, who recently returned to his home here after a several weeks' illness in Wellesley, is steadily improving and his complete recovery is now looked for by his many friends.

—An alarm was sent in last Thursday afternoon from box 41 for a blaze in the quarters of James J. Barrett and family in the four-tenement building, owned by E. A. Holmes. The efficient work of the department kept the damage down to a comparatively small amount.

—An open air service, which was attended by many persons, took place Sunday afternoon at Norumbega Park. The service was conducted by Rev. Maurice A. Levy, pastor of the First Baptist church at Newton Centre, and consisted of a short address and music.

—Repairs are being made to the apartment house of Joseph W. Holmes, 89 Charles street, which was damaged by fire the latter part of last week. The flames started in an unoccupied apartment on the first floor, and worked into the second floor by means of the rear stairway. Damage was about $200.

—After a tour of Europe lasting five months, Mrs. George R. Eager, Miss Mabel Eager and Miss Florence Tower have arrived at their home here. They had a most enjoyable trip, returning in good health. They plan to pass part of the remainder of the summer visiting different summer places.

—Bishop W. S. Mallallie of Auburndale has accepted an invitation to be one of the guests of honor at an outing of Bethel church of East Boston, at Point of Pines to-day, when President Taft is expected to be present. Bishop Mallallie will be guest of Ex-Governor John L. Bates, the son of the pastor of Bethel church.

—The Friday evening meeting at the Congregational church the next few weeks will be of particular interest, according to plans announced by the church officials. This evening the meeting will be in charge of E. G. Frost. Next week the service will be led by Mr. Persen, while on the succeeding week Rev. Dr. Otis Cary will be in charge.

PLAYING FOR AUGUST CUP

At Brae-Burn Saturday W. S. Wait won the prize for low score in the qualification of the competition for the August cups, with 37—38—75. In second place was W. E. Stiles, who scored 39—39—78, while S. W. Stevens was third with 38—41—79. Qualification was at 18 holes, scratch, and the players making the 24 lowest scores were drawn in three flights of eight for scratch match play for the cups. The finals must be played on or before Aug. 31.

Drawings for play in the competition by those qualifying have been made as follows:

First eight—W. S. Wait vs. J. N. Manning, C. Zueblin vs. S. W. Stevens, A. D. Locke vs. W. B. Herrick, L. B. Rogers vs. W. E. Stiles.

Second eight—P. E. Whiting vs. A. E. Burr, E. F. Lovejoy vs. C. S. Cook, Jr., C. F. Nye vs. S. A. Shannon, J. Gould vs. A. J. Selfridge.

Brae-Burn was well represented at Hatherly Golf club at North Scituate Beach, last Saturday afternoon, when 93 players went out in the amateur handicap stroke competition. F. S. Snow of Brae-Burn returning with the prize for the best net score, his card being: 56—20—66.

—A best selected nine-hole golf ball sweepstakes was the afternoon event on Saturday at the Woodland G. C. In class A, J. H. Dodge, T. W. Gilson and C. E. Barlett tied for first and second places, all returning net scores of 27. Class B resulted also in a tie, J. W. Frederick and H. W. Schaschke scoring 26 net. Those playing in Class A were J. H. Dodge, T. W. Gilson, C. E. Barlett, N. W. Dean, W. G. Clark, L. E. Chester, H. L. Paine, A. Howard, T. H. Clarkson, L. G. Hodgkins and L. B. Folsom. In Class B those who completed cards were J. W. Frederick, H. W. Schaschke, F. C. Almsworth, J. H. Goodspeed, R. W. Bartlett, H. M. McDowell, H. L. Nuremburg and R. Stearns.

—Tipover victims on the Charles river Sunday numbered four young men, one being pulled from deep water by Park Officer Murphy. Two young men living in Quincy tipped over their canoe while trying to change seats near Brigham's point. One swam to the bank, but the other was unable to swim. He got a hold on the overturned craft, but was unable to keep his grasp and went into the deep water. Murphy, who had come up in a rowboat, pulled him from the river and carried him to the emergency room of the police station, where he was given treatment. Two other young men tipped over from a canoe about 5.30 o'clock opposite the park police station. One swam ashore and other canoeists assisted the other to the bank. They were then taken to the station for treatment.

CITY HALL CHAT

City Clerk Isaac F. Kingsbury left Saturday for his annual vacation of a fortnight, which he will spend with Mrs. Kingsbury in their Maine camp.

After an enjoyable sojourn of a fortnight in Maine, Frank M. Grant, assistant city clerk, returned to his duties Monday. He has now recovered from a fractured arm, which he sustained in June while playing in a baseball game between the First Universalist and Central church teams.

Francis W. Sprague, 2d. clerk of the Newton court, left Saturday for Barnstable, where he will remain a month with his family, who have been summering there for some time. George F. Wales of Newton Centre was sworn in as acting clerk, and will fill the position during the absence of Mr. Sprague.

Mayor Hutchinson's valuable brindle Boston terrier dog strayed away from his honor's home on Chestnut street last Friday evening, and the police were on the watch for the dog for several days.

Street Commissioner Charles W. Ross began his vacation Monday, going to Minneapolis, where he will spend the greater part of two weeks. During his absence the street department will be in charge of Deputy Commissioner George E. Stuart.

Alfred M. Russell, agent of the board of health, left to-day for his vacation of a fortnight.

Harold Young, assistant to Mayor Hutchinson, returned Monday morning from a fortnight's vacation spent with relatives at Flushing, L. I.

WANT GYPSIES OUSTED.

Effort is being made by Newton Centre residents to oust a band of about 50 gypsies who have camped off Boylston street in the Thompsonville district. The gypsies came here direct from Brazil, where they had spent the winter.The gypsies are said to be the same band who caused trouble in Newton Centre last summer, when one of their members was arrested on a charge of picking the pocket of a man of $100 while telling his fortune.Those who desire to oust them have learned that they have leased
the lot upon which they have pitched camp from the owner. It is believed, however, that the health board may find the sanitation in the camp unsatisfactory and on that ground order the gypsies to move. The outcome is being watched with much interest by residents of the south side of the city.

REAL ESTATE.

John T. Burns, Newton, reports the sale of the E. N. Brewer property, 20 22 Maple street, Watertown, to May
A. Downes who buys for investment.
The property consists of an 18 room
double house and 5000 feet of land, all assessed for $5500.The above broker also reports the sale of 46 Walnut Park, Newton, to M. O'Connor of Boston. Mrs. Ellen Healey was the grantor. The property consists of a frame house and 13,560 square feet of land, all assessed for $8000. Mr. O'Connor will make extensive improvements and occupy.Mr. Willard Gross of Lynn has signed agreements for the purchase of a lot of 6000 square feet of land on Hunnewell avenue, corner of Oakleigh road, Newton. Mr. Stephen Moore to be the grantor. The lot is valued at $3200. Mr. Gross will erect a single dwelling. John T. Burns of Newton was the agent.Mr. F. B. Fletcher of Newton has purchased through John T. Burns a lot of 6955 square feet of land on Oakwood road, near Mill street, Newtonville. The grantor was Adams
D. Claflin, Execut. for Wm. Claflin estate. The lot is valued at $1300. Mr.
Fletcher will develop the land.Through the real estate office of Alfred L. Barbour three lots of land have been sold, to be built upon on Auburn and Greenough streets, West
Newton.Orpheum Theatre—Mr. Lindsay Morrison will next week depart from the beaten track of stock producers and will enter the class of original producers when he will present for the first time on any stage the beautiful romantic scotch comedy drama
"Annie Laurie." Historically the action is as correct as it is possible to make a drama and most of the characters from Annie Laurie down are real living characters of Scotch history, but it is not this historical ac-curacy in which lies the chief charm of this beautiful play. It is in the love story which runs through it and the delightfully humorous situations that mark the action of the piece. The entire company will be used in staging
"Annie Laurie" and this insures a careful handling of the lines. The stage direction will be in the hands of Jos. W. Walsh who has so admirably staged all the productions of the Lindsay Morrison stock company since the opening of the season. Manager Morrison has in preparation for the week of August 16th a mammoth production of that greatest of all rural plays, "Quincy Adams Sawyer." No detail of the original production which appeared a short while ago at the Boston Theatre will be missing and the lines will be handled by the members of the Morrison Stock company.

SHARP SHOWER.

Lighting struck twice in this city yesterday afternoon during the short but severe storm. The chimney of a vacant house at 98 Allison street was struck and some of the bricks knocked off. An alarm of fire was sent in from box 245, but there was no fire.
Lighting also struck in the rear of a block at Morse and Galen streets, but did no damage. Many wires were felled by the storm, and considerable damage was done to wires. In Watertown one of the pinnacles of the Unitarian church was splintered, an electric car struck, while on Main street, and a water main broken by a

SIX CENT FARES CONTINUED.

The Board of Railroad Commissioners yesterday issued an order approving the petition of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company for authority to continue its system of charging an additional cent for the transportation of passengers who request transfers. A year ago the board gave the company permission to experiment with this system, and when the time limit placed upon it expired recently the company requested a further trial. In its order the board says:"After a careful examination of the statement of receipts of the Newton Street Railway Company prior to consolidation (with the Middlesex & Boston) and of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company for July 1909, we are of opinion that we ought to approve the withdrawal of free transfers for a further period. We deem it in the public interest, however, that the period should be a limited one, in view of the consolidation of the companies, and therefore order that the petition of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company be granted for an experimental period of one year from the date hereof."Much of our summer furniture is well adapted for winter use in den and livingroom,—especially with a fireplace.We have a few pieces in stock that we would rather sell below our regular price than carry over. We may have something that will interest you.Come in, and ask, at least,
and find out the price.

Patent Tension Steel Shears Free

To every new subscriber to the Newton Graphic

The Latest and Most Useful Household Invention

The cutting edge on these shears is indestructible and will never wear dull. They will cut anything and everything, from wet tissue paper to a heavy horse blanket. Note the Patent Tension Spring. It does away with resharpening entirely. Eight inches in length.Eight-Inch Patent Tension Spring ShearsThe Shears are manufactured of the very highest grade steel, perfectly tempered and heavily nickel plated on a highly polished surface. The patent tension spring takes up all the wear on the rivet so that the cutting edges will never wear dull. A simple turn of the little thumb screw will adjust the blades to cut anything from the thinnest and most delicate fabric to the heaviest material. Every woman who has had the exasperating and trying experience of attempting to cut with a dull pair of shears, will appreciate the value of this new invention.Read This GuaranteeWe guarantee the quality of the material and the workmanship in these shears to be first-class in every respect. That the tension spring doubles the usefulness of the shears and does away with the necessity of resharpening. A printed guarantee certificate accompanies every pair and contains the following. "If this pair of shears breaks or becomes defective in any way within five years from the date delivered it will be replaced with a new pair free."—By The Hamilton

Safety For Your Estate

Our method of administering estates and trust funds has not only all the advantages of an individual trusteeship, but other points of superiority that one-man direction cannot have. Sickness, accident or death cannot endanger a trust confided to us, because no one man is responsible for it. Our executive board act together, and are ready for business every business day in the year.

Every investment made, or other important action taken, represents the collective wisdom of a group of men expert in trust management, and their services cost an estate no more than it would pay an individual.

All our securities are officially inspected three times a year. We give bonds equal to twice the amount of the personal property of an estate we administer; and these bonds are backed by a guarantee of $4,500,000. An individual acting as executor or trustee rarely is required to give security.

WATERWAYS

By Mrs. Emmens Crocker

The year 1909 was heralded by the trumpet call of "Conservation," such a call as had never before been sounded! A call to take up the arms of peace and lay the foundation for a work so mighty in its effect on the welfare of coming generations "that they shall rise up and call us blessed." The keynote of the new year is certainly "Conservation"! It resounds throughout the land almost to the drowning of all other cries; and it is well, for nothing can be of such benefit to the nation now and for all time.

While the conservation of all our natural resources is most important, there is one the conservation of which is more vital than all the rest, —Water,—for, next to the air we breathe, water is the most important factor in human existence.

What is the very first step to be taken to guarantee a plentiful, continuous water supply, without which all agricultural pursuits are precarious, not to say useless endeavors, without which all industries suffer directly or indirectly, without which commerce is hampered, without which animal life is reduced to a question of hours? It is to preserve the forests we have, and to create others as fast as human labor and time will permit. The watchword of the year is, "Plant Trees!" Commissioner Whipple says: "You must have water. You must have the forests in order to have the water."

Is it not then fitting that the General Federation should have added a subcommittee on Waterways to its Forestry Committee, and that the Massachusetts State Federation should have decided to make Waterways one of the departments of its Forestry Committee, as the two have been proved undivorcably interdependent? Therefore, by taking up waterways, we relax not a jot in our pushing forward of the forestry movement as a national, State, township, or individual problem, for, although water in itself is more important than wood, the forest is mother to both.

The greatest impetus to waterways has come from the South, where the people of that alluvial soil have suffered so disastrously from floods. At first, we of New England were inclined to sit in our rocky hill fastnesses and say we had no water problem of any moment, but we have awakened to the fact that ours is quite as great as theirs, though perhaps of a different nature. This problem is like many evils which work slowly: it may ultimately prove even worse. Never before have our manufacturers and farmers so lacked water as this fall. Never before was so facturers and farmers so lacked water as at the time of the last heavy rains, because more silt was torn from the denuded hillsides and deposited upon it. Then, too, a large proportion of the water ran off for lack of the natural reservoirs to hold it, so there was none in reserve to supply the needs of the dry time, which therefore has been more protracted by loss of forests. In a flat country like Kansas, for example, when it rains, the water penetrates farther into the ground and is held in a great measure, so that it is capable of furnishing moisture for the crops, often for many weeks.

Aside from the vital need of water for drinking, culinary, and cleansing purposes, to say nothing of the water requirements of the farmer and the manufacturer, there is a fast-growing need for internal water transportation. Any one who was connected in any way with manufacturing or commercial interests during the last few years of prosperity previous to the panic of October, 1907, cannot fail to have had it brought home to him in a personal way by the extreme congestion of freight during that period. When time turns the wheel of fortune over, bringing prosperity again to the top, the same difficulty will once more have to be faced.

As the forest is mother to the water, so is water, in form of water powers and waterways, mother to the conservation of all other natural resources. The supply of metals, coal, oil, and gas will some day be exhausted, but by the proper preservation, creation, care, and use of water that day may be placed much farther into the future. In any case water and wood will in the end have to take the place of all other natural resources, because they are reproductive, while the others are formed but once in creation.

After having taken a glance at the vital and intensely practical phases of the water question, there still remains one of interest and importance, —the aesthetic. What enhances the beauty of a country more than well-kept, properly surrounded ponds or lakes, brooks or rivers? In making a new waterway or improving one of those we already have, let us see to it that it shall be made a thing of beauty, which shall truly be a joy forever.

Thirty years an honored and valued employee of the city of Newton is the record held by George E. Stuart, deputy street commissioner, who this week observed the anniversary of the event.

Mr. Stuart needs little introduction to the public of the municipality which he served, or to the commissioners throughout New England, for he is a well known authority on matters pertaining to his business. Newton's "sand papered" streets are a byword throughout the commonwealth. That they are so is in a considerable measure due to the efforts of Mr. Stuart in keeping them up to the standard.

He first entered the employ of Newton on Aug. 1, 1879 as an attaché of the highway department, which was then in its infancy. From year to year he has risen from one position of responsibility to another, until he is now next to the head of his department, Commissioner Charles W. Ross.

Mr. Stuart can tell an interesting story of the rise and growth of the highway department of Newton and of the extension of its work from caring for country roads through all the stages of progress to the justly famed highways now possessed by the city. His services in connection with his department have been faithful and efficient, and he has at all times had the confidence of the public as well as that of the various administrations under which he has served.

Mr. Stuart was born in Waverley in 1856. When a lad he moved to Newton, where he attended the public schools. He is a son of the late Timothy Stuart and a direct descendant of Duncan Stuart, one of the pioneer settlers of New England.

He is a charter member of the Massachusetts highway association and holds membership in several other organizations, including a number of fraternal societies.

He is also prominent in Catholic social and religious circles and takes an active interest in the welfare of his home city.

LOCAL BASEBALL NOTES

By a batting rally in the fourth inning Newton Catholic club Saturday afternoon won the second game in its series with St. Augustine's of South Boston, 12 to 7, on West Newton common.

This completed the three games arranged between these teams, Newton winning the first and the second being a tie. The catching of "Jim" Ryan, the former Newton high player, was a feature. In the fourth inning Newton hit Stacko for five runs, and he was replaced in the next inning by Barron.

The teams lined up as follows: Newton Catholic club—O. McCourt p., Ryan c., Burke ss., Fitzgerald lb., Donahue 2b., Hurley 3b., Talbot lf., Green cf., Cavanaugh rf., St. Augustine's—Stacko p. and cf., Barrow p. and cf., Doyle c., O'Donnell ss., Bailey lb., Conroy 2b., Finlay 3b., Macks lf., McNeill rf.

Newton got 12 hits and St. Augustine made only 7.

Playing with a team picked up at the last moment, most of the regular team being unable to take part, Newton Y. M. C. A. was defeated by Norwood press club, 20 to 1, in the association series at Norwood last Saturday. Newton made four hits, against 10 made by Norwood. Barrows and Wood were the battery for Y. M. C. A.

$20 FOR ASSAULT ON FOREMAN

Convicted of assault upon his foreman while working near Auburndale station, Daniel F. Gorman, aged 37, a lineman living at 50 West Central street, Natick, was fined $20 in court here Monday.

Calvin C. Alder, the foreman, testified that Gorman was working with him in the employ of the New York Central road in this city last Thursday, and that words resulted over Gorman being sent to Wellesley for a relay box because he went only as far as Riverside. Gorman, he testified, used unpleasant language. Finally Alder discharged him.

They went to the freight house, Alder said, where Gorman drew a knife and advanced toward him. Another lineman grabbed Gorman and told him to put away the knife. Gorman told the court that he might have had the knife in his hand, but that he did not intend to carry out any threat to cut his foreman. He paid the fine.

THE GLOUCESTER WATER TRIP

For a hot day's outing there is nothing more enjoyable and exhilarating than a North shore trip to Gloucester by one of the Boston & Gloucester steamship boats. "It is the real thing." The boats leave Central wharf, foot of State street, week days at 10 A. M. and 2 P. M., and leave Gloucester at 3 A. M. and 2.15 P. M. The Sunday boat leaves Boston at 10.15 A. M.

THEATRES

Keith's Theatre—There was a time when such an organization as the Fadettes was considered a whole show in itself at highest prices, but B. F. Keith evidently believes in double shows, judging by the program he is announcing for the week of August 9th. Besides the Fadettes there is a list of vaudeville attractions such as one would expect to find only at the height of the season, for every act is without exception a star feature. Ben Welch, the Hebrew and Italian impersonator is now conceded to be one of the foremost in this class of work, and he is on the bill. Then there is Fred St. Onge, the old time champion bicyclist, who with his company of experts, give one of the most difficult and amusing wheel acts that has ever been put forth. Kelly and Kent are two entertainers who have long held the headline place, and Miss Kent's impersonation of a bowery girl has never been duplicated. Then there is Sadie Jansell, the musical comedy star; the Flying Martins, who have one of the swiftest acrobatic acts; Clinton and Jermon in a sketch called "Back to Louisville," and Estelle Wordette and Company in a sketch.

POLICE

Nathan Barnett, aged 42, living at 1234 Boylston street, Upper Falls, was arraigned in court Monday on a charge of assault and battery upon Mrs. Etta Pierce of Chestnut street. Barnett told the court he went to the store conducted by the complainant's husband to collect $15 which he had loaned the firm. He got $9, he said, and then several men and women began punishing him. He left the building with a bruised eye and an injured finger, he declared. Associate Judge Copeland discharged the complaint against him.

The case against Walter A. Blinn, 25 years old, charging non-support of his family, which first came up in court here two months ago, was Saturday dismissed for lack of prosecution.

It is reported to the police that quantities of wood are being taken mornings from the old Potter dwelling at 404 Waltham street, owned by Mrs. J. A. Potter.

EMPLOYEES IN CONVENTION

A resolution that all state, city and town employees should be paid at the rate of $2.25 a day, and that they should receive remuneration for all legal holidays, was adopted just previous to the close of an all-day convention of the National federation of state, city and town employees, the third annual convention, held Sunday in Hibernian hall, Nonantum building. Mayor Hutchinson addressed the convention for 10 minutes, declaring himself in favor of organized labor seeking shorter working hours but asserting that he was not in sympathy with the law which says they shall not work over eight hours even if they wish to do so.

A resolution was passed that bills be introduced into the legislature to do away with all contract work of towns, cities or the state.

"I believe that organized labor has a right to bring influence upon the legislature to secure shorter working hours, but I am not in sympathy with the law which says that employees shall not work over eight hours," said Mayor Hutchinson.

"If employees are willing, I see no harm in them working more than eight hours if they wish," he continued. "I believe there will be a modification before many years in the present law."

"I believe that during the eight hours employees should give faithful service, but I do not go so far as to say that they should not smoke during working hours, although it has been claimed that a half hour is occupied in every eight in 'lighting up,'" he added.

Speaking of the relations between the heads of departments and employees in this city he said that there is one employee who has been in service of the city 38 years, one 37 years, five 36, eight 35 and eight from 25 to 30 years. There are 27 of these, he said, between the ages of 65 and 70. These statistics won for the mayor a round of applause, and he was given a rising vote of appreciation.

A number of matters of vital interest to unions within the federation were transacted. The federation president was instructed to call upon Supt. Ross of Newton cemetery to secure payment for holidays on which employees here have worked without remuneration since last autumn.

Representative William H. O'Brien of Boston spoke on the labor question as it applies to government employees. The announcement was made that the pension commissioners will in October give members of the unions of the federation an evening in which to advance arguments for pensions for veteran employees.

The following officers were elected: Michael F. O'Brien, Boston, national pres.; James A. Gorman, Boston, national sec.; Ernest H. W. Smith, Brookline, national treas.; and seven national vice presidents: J. P. Kilday, Boston; James McFall, Stoneham; Jeremiah Fitzgerald, Worcester; James Wilson, Fall River; Jeremiah Herlihy, Newton; J. F. Andrews, New Bedford; J. W. Sterart, Somerville.

CARUSO AND CIGARETS

Few habits claim more victims than the cigaret habit. One of the latest victims is Enrico Caruso, the famous Italian tenor. Three years ago, warned against their use, he stopped smoking cigarets. His throat would not stand it, the doctors said. For a while all went well, but little by little the habit returned until it gained its full grip again. Now he is in Italy, hoping that another operation will save his voice. If the cigaret habit causes the world to lose Caruso's beautiful voice, there will be a still larger black mark against that sorry habit.

SEE WHAT "JEFF" SAYS, BOYS!

Probably the strongest physical makeup in the world belongs to the famous boxer, James J. Jeffries. James has something to say to boys. It is worth reading and heeding, boys. This is it.

"I'd give a boy or anybody else the same advice that his mother would give him. But the trouble is that boys think they know more than their mothers and fathers, and when they find that they don't, it is too late. . . Every little boy that smokes a cigaret may be perfectly sure that he is doing his best to make himself no account. . . Cigaret smoke ruins a boy's lungs. The same cigaret smoke poison hurts a boy's brains, so that he can't use his brains well, either. . . Do you suppose I'd have this chest on me if I had had a box of cigarets in my pocket when I was a boy? What I tell you about cigarets is also true about all the other foolish things that boys and young men do. . . A boy is born with a certain amount of strength. He has got to keep that and add to it by living in the way he ought to live. The best thing that he can do is to mind his mother."

—Mrs. Daniel Ford and daughter Catherine of Pennsylvania avenue left on Thursday for a fortnight's stay at Fall River.

—Mr. James Estelle of Oak street has accepted a position in the technical school of the General Electric company of Lynn.

—Work has been resumed on the foundation for the new edifice of St. Mary's parish at Newton Upper Falls, the differences between the contractor and the owner of neighboring property having been adjusted, after causing a few days' delay. It is expected that the work will now be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Lower Falls.

—John S. Connolly of Columbia street has returned from a visit to Philadelphia and Atlantic City.

—The body of George H. Brady, who was drowned last Friday in New Haven, Conn., and who was well known in Newton Lower Falls, was brought here Monday afternoon for burial in St. Mary's cemetery, Needham. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. John G. McGrath. Mr. Brady was 22 years of age.

—While driving on Walnut street Monday afternoon Rev. J. G. McGrath, assistant pastor at St. John's church had a narrow escape from injury. The king pin of the carriage occupied by Mr. McGrath and his driver broke, and the horse pulled the front wheels away from the rest of the vehicle. The horse took fright and ran away, being caught on Cedar street. Fortunately neither of the occupants of the carriage were hurt beyond receiving a shaking up, but the carriage was considerably damaged.

FROST FAMILY REUNION.

A delegation of members living in different parts of this city took part in the 14th annual reunion of the Frost family, descendants of Elder Edmund Frost, who settled in Cambridge in 1635, at Field's Point, R. I., on Tuesday. A number of the Newton attendants were elected to important offices in the association for the ensuing year. Mrs. G. Howard Frost of West Newton was chosen recording secretary and treasurer; John E. Frost of Newtonville was chosen corresponding secretary, and G. Howard Frost was elected a member of the executive committee.

McKenney & Waterbury Co., 181 Franklin St., corner Congress, are offering some rare bargains in Gas and Electric Table and Floor Lamps, from an assortment of over Five Hundred styles, an unusual opportunity for those in want of more light for their homes.

POLICE NOTES.

—Mrs. Alice Petriquin, aged 24, whom Inspector Fletcher brought here from Portland, Me., early this week, charged with larceny of $15 from Mrs. Annie MacLean of Thornton street, was fined $10 in court yesterday. Mrs. Petriquin said she came here to work in a mill at Nonantum, but remained there only one day as she did not like the position. She roomed at the house of Mrs. MacLean. Being in need of money, she told the court, she took some which she saw in the house. She said the amount was only $12.

Edward Joyce of 11 Boyd street was found not guilty in court Wednesday of larceny of milk owned by a Cambridge firm. It was alleged that he had taken the milk from the door of a market on Center street, but it was brought out in the testimony that milk had frequently been left there for Joyce. John Grinkiewicz, 30, of 44 Mechanic street, Newton Upper Falls, was found not guilty of larceny of $100 from a sister-in-law. It was testified that he took the money from a box in which he had kept his own money, and that when he learned that it belonged to his sister-in-law he made restitution.

—In court yesterday a man and woman living in Worcester who were ejected from an electric car on Boylston street Wednesday evening were arraigned for drunkenness and had their cases placed on file. Three others had their cases continued on probation.

NORUMBEGA PARK.

The chief card next week will be the big European acrobatic act of the Florenz Troupe. These marvelous gymnasts are said to have no equal on the vaudeville stage either in America or Europe.

Everybody who has ever seen a vaudeville performance at Norumbega Park remembers Lizzie Otto who played the piano for the vaudeville acts before the present orchestra was installed for accompaniment. It is needless to say that her wonderful talent at the piano is given full swing in her act on the stage. Miss Nelson is said to be a vivacious singer who gets more out of a song than anybody else. Another act sure to be a hit will be Hanley and Jarvis, conversational comedians. They never grow tiresome. The average audience will begin laughing at the Grotesque Randolphs the moment they appear on the scene. They are another feature of the bill.

Charles Hawtrey's Twang.

"Once on a time"—it is Charles Hawtrey who tells this tale—"I tried to sink my identity in the part of a man who was my dearest friend. I had known him since he was a baby. I wanted to sink my own identity and copy him. I was not allowed to. This is how it happened:

"De Wolf Hopper had put on in London a burlesque of a play in which Mrs. Langtry and myself were acting. Some one burlesqued me, of course. He had merely a few lines to say, but he did it very well. It so happened that on the night it was produced I was not acting. So I strolled round to Hopper's theater and suggested to him that I should take the part myself that night. The idea of parodying oneself seemed to me rather original. He consented, and on I went just in dress clothes, as the character called for. It was a great success, all except the identification. I lost that, but not enough. The London Times came out the next morning with the following: "The resemblance to Mr. Hawtrey was certainly remarkable and would have been more so had it not been for the pronounced American accent." "That was the first and last time I have ever been accused of a twang,"—New York Tribune.

Sixteenth Century Meals.

Judging from a passage in Harrison's "Description of Britain," breakfast eating in the sixteenth century was held to denote effeminacy. "Heretofore," he writes, "there hath been more time spent in eating and drinking than commonly is in these days; for whereas of old we had breakfasts in the forenoon, beverages or nuntions, after dinner, and theroeto reare suppers when it was time to go to rest, now these od repasts, thanked be God, are verie well left, and ech one (except here and there some young hungry stomach that cannot fast till dinner time) contenteth himself with dinner and supper onlie. The nobilitie, gentrie and students ordinarie go to dinner at 11 before noon and to supper at 5 or between 5 and 6 at afternoon. The merchants dine and sup seldom before 12 at noon and 6 at night, especially in London. The husbandmen dine also at high noon and sup at 7 or 8, but out of the tearme, in our universities, the scholars dine at 10."

Saved by His Wit.

The French author Martainville was a royalist and did not hesitate to attack the French revolution and its authorities. Presently, of course, he was summoned to appear before the revolutionary tribunal, with the terrible Fouquier at its head. The revolutionary tribunal at that time did not hesitate to send everybody to the guillotine who had ventured to attack them. Martainville expected to go with the rest of the victims. "What is your name?" asked the revolutionary judge. "Martainville," said the young author. "Martainville!" exclaimed the judge. "You are deceiving us and trying to hide your rank. You are an aristocrat, and your name is De Martainville." "Citizen president," exclaimed the young man, "I am here to be shortened, not to be lengthened! Leave me my name! A true Frenchman loves a witticism above all things, and the tribunal was so much pleased by Martainville's grim response that it spared his life.

The Krakatoa Eruption.

Perhaps the most remarkable volcanic eruption known was that which took place in August, 1883, at the island of Krakatoa, in the strait of Sunda. Streams of volcanic dust were thrown seventeen miles high, and more than a cubic mile of material was expelled from the volcanic crater. The air waves started by the eruption traveled around the earth seven times. The noise was heard at Macassar, 960 miles away; at Borneo, 1,110 miles distant; in Western Australia, 1,700 miles away, and even at Rodrigues, distant more than 2,900 miles. The dust and powdered pumice thrown out of the crater made the entire circuit of the earth before settling down and were the cause of the strange sunsets that were observed for many months.—New York American.

A Crusher.

A consequential little man entered the commercial room of a big hotel not long back and gave a vigorous pull at the bell. As no one answered he rang again more loudly than before. A maidservant then came in, and the following colloquy took place:

Servant:—Who rang that bell?
Little Man (making a point of his height)—I did.
Servant (acrossfully)—And who lifted you up to it?—London Telegraph.

TAX RATE $18.20

No Increase Over Last Year.

As we go to press, the Assessors announce the tax rate for the year as $18.20, the same as in 1908. This result is obtained by the large increase in personal valuation the new figures being $19,199,290 an increase of $1,250,140 over last year. The real estate valuation is increased $612,950 to $51,597,600, making a total valuation of $70,796,890.

On Saturday last Mrs. Chaney gave an afternoon bridge party of 15 tables, followed in the evening by music and dancing at the Seams club for which Mr. and Mrs. Chaney were host and hostess.

—Under direction of Physical Director Macpherson, who recently returned from a month's stay in Portland, the gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A. is being put in first class condition for the beginning of another season next month. The boys' classes will be resumed the latter part of next month while the men's classes will not be reorganized until October. From present indications the association will start the new season under bright auspices.

REAL ESTATE.

The estate at 83 Eldredge street opposite the Hunnewell Club has been sold by Henry J. Salt of the R. S. Barrows Real estate agency of Boston. Same consists of a 3 story frame dwelling together with 8000 sq. feet of land. There are 11 rooms in the house and all modern improvements, same belonging to William Z. Ripley trustee. Property has a taxed value of $9500. W. H. Bliss buys for investment.

Ida F. Boyce has sold to M. Genaske, the estate 266 Commonwealth avenue, Newton, consisting of a single frame house and 7888 square feet of land, the whole assessed for $7000, or which $5400 is on the building and $1600 on the land. Alvord Bros. represented the buyer and A. Dudley Dowd the seller.

HE SAW MATCHES, NOT NAILS.

The action of a man who sprang at another and caused a lively scuffle in which both persons went to the ground was commended by Judge Kennedy Wednesday, the testimony showing that the scuffle started when it was alleged, a little boy was being roughly used.

The court's commendation of the prompt and effective action was made after a lengthy hearing in the case of Frank W. Williams, 28 years old, of 87 Charles street, Riverside, charged with assault and battery upon Vincent Barrett, the 6-year old son of Mrs. Alice Barrett, who lives next door. It was alleged that Williams used the boy so roughly that he bled considerably.

Several witnesses testified that the boy was playing with a hammer and some nails in the rear of his own home, when Williams chased the child. He finally caught the lad, they said, passed him over the piazza to his mother, then grabbed the boy away again and held him by the neck and trousers above his head.

George J. Zitch, a neighbor, said he saw the boy being roughly used and though Williams must have become mentally unbalanced for the moment. He rushed over and scuffled with Williams, he said, with the result that both rolled over on the ground. In the meanwhile, it was testified, the boy was passed to his mother, who passed the child over the fence to Mrs. Arthur Salder, another neighbor, for safe keeping until the trouble was over.

Williams said that the boy was playing with matches instead of nails, and fearing he might set fire to the premises he chased him. He declared the boy was injured by falling when Zitch attacked him. In reply to questions of the court, Williams said he had spent the afternoon in Boston. He had taken three glasses of ale and one drink from a bottle of whisky which he had brought home. He then went canoeing, he said, and lost his paddle. It was restored by a metropolitan park officer and he then came ashore. It was shortly after this, he said, that the trouble began.

"The conduct of one of the witnesses in endeavoring to restrain a man whom he believed was inflicting injury to another's child was, under the circumstances, entirely creditable," said Judge Kennedy. A fine of $15 was imposed upon Williams. He appealed and was held in $300 for the higher court.

NEWTON TRUST COMPANY

Since the organization of the Newton Centre Trust Company (now Newton Trust Company) in 1894, its directors have always endeavored to conduct its affairs in such a manner as to entitle it to the full confidence and approval of every patron, that it might become a benefit and credit to the City of Newton. The result of this policy has been a steady, healthy, and never-ceasing growth, until at present the Newton Trust Company is the largest and strongest banking institution in the suburbs of Boston.

SOCIAL EDUCATION

The bearing of language upon social education is important.

It is the vehicle of impression and expression as well as the varying forms of consciousness. It is the means by which the truth is expressed implied or concealed. By its scope we measure the breadth and calibre of the individual mind, and through its almost endless shades of meaning, the social fabric is sustained, cultivated and more highly organized.

Language is the garb of ideas, the medium through which all conceptions seek and find recognition and the instrument that wounds and heals to a degree unknown in warfare or medicine.

Language may be expressed, implied or otherwise evidenced. It has many forms and representations in both man and the lower orders. In man alone it is indicative of self-consciousness. A person's command of language determines the degree of his consciousness of self, or in other words, it is the insignia of rank in the order of civilization.

The ordinary forms of language representation include the spoken, the written and the printed.

From a vocal standpoint, language is comparatively simple. The vowel tones constitute the body of words, while the consonants modify and limit. The different vowel tones in English are few in number, the more important ones being primarily something less than fifteen. Considered alphabetically there are but five. In writing and printing these five do the work of all the tones in a somewhat arbitrary and interchangeable manner.

The consonantal elements of English are more numerous. There are many ways of modifying a vowel sound by the organs of speech. The alphabetical representation of the consonants, however, number something above twenty, and in writing and printing they are made to do each other's work primarily and in combination. The chief characteristic of words as such, is the syllable, which is the representation of a vowel tone more or less modified by consonantal obstructions. The longest syllable in the English language is the word "strength". With the weak tone value of its short vowel and the strenuousness of its consonantal grouping, the correct pronouncing of this word requires not only strength but courage.

If the syllable is the chief characteristic of language outside of the idea expressed, both spoken and written (or printed) English can be more readily acquired by combining vocal syllables with the act of writing (or type-setting) and the expression of an idea. Speech, or its silent equivalent, thought, brings the motor energy of the brain into activity, the idea expressed exercises the imagination, or sympathetic energy, and the several acts of gesture, penmanship and type-setting (or typewriting) exercises the sensory energy. These easily proven facts have led to improved methods of teaching the young to read sentences before requiring them to memorize the alphabet. Learning arbitrary signs which have no utility in themselves that is apparent at the time, is a severe strain upon the imagination and forces unnatural mental images into consciousness as a correlating agent. The effects of this morbid habit formed early in life is an influence which is rarely ever shaken off afterwards.

Good English composed from special classes of words, selected with reference to an oft-repeated combination of consonants and applied to the different vowel tones, makes the best practice exercises for spelling, reading and writing. Typewriting and type-setting are in the same category as penmanship, and skill in all these branches can be easily attained by an exhaustive vocabulary which includes all the group combinations.

With this initial grounding of the syllable in language, the whole field is a matter of repetition and the various shades of meaning required in the desired expression of an idea.

VACATION SCHOOLS CLOSE.

The vacation schools at Newton Centre and Nonantum, which had been held for four weeks, closed last Friday afternoon. The attendance was very large, and the school authorities were much pleased with the progress made by the pupils. An interesting exhibition of the work done in Newton Centre was held in the Mason school building, when many parents and friends were in attendance. The usual custom of an exhibition at Nonantum was not carried out. The average attendance was about 700, and about 600 of this number attended at Nonantum.

TWO FEET OF SNOW.

By M. QUAD.

[Copyright, 1939, by Associated Literary Press.]

The Widow Spillman had been a widow for two years when Elder Hope lost his wife. The two families had lived in the village for ten years and had always been the best of friends. The widow's mother had come to live with her after her bereavement, and the elder's only daughter had become his housekeeper after he had laid his good wife away.

There was no reason on earth why the gossip of Pontiac should have begun saying within three months after the death of Mrs. Hope that the elder would take the Widow Spillman for his second wife. When the people began to talk the widow sat down in the rocking chair one afternoon and did some thinking and said to herself: "The elder was a good man to his wife, but he is fussy and set in his ways. He's a bit stingy too. He wants liver for breakfast every morning in the year, and I can't bear liver. No, I couldn't marry him."

About the time the widow had come to this wise decision the elder sat down on the sunny side of the barn and also tackled the case.

"Nice woman, the Widow Spillman is," he said to himself, "but she's been a widow for two years and got to be independent. Don't want to be bossed no more. She's also got cranky notions. Throws the dishpan away as soon as a hole comes in the bottom and won't use a teapot without a handle. No, it wouldn't do for us to get married."

Both parties had arrived at satisfactory conclusions and would have gone their way in peace but for those same gossips. After a bit the widow began to hear that the elder had said this and that about her, and things reached the elder's ears that made him indignant. He went over to her house one day to ask for an explanation, but was bitten by her dog at the gate and turned about and went home. She started to go over to his house next day, but found him driving a hog out of the garden, and in the driving he steered the hog so that the animal ran against her and upset her. After an elder has been bitten by a widow's dog and a widow has been knocked down by an elder's hog it is war to the knife.

For a year or more the whole village enjoyed the situation. The people were divided on the question. What didn't happen, one or the other side made happen. What the principals didn't say, one or the other side made them say. It finally came to the point where the widow said to her mother: "I can't stand this no longer. I shall go over to Templeton tomorrow and consult a lawyer about bringing a suit for scandal, with damages at $10,000."

That same day the elder said to himself: "The Widow Spillman is going beyond all bounds. I've stood it and stood it until I can't stand it no longer. I'll go over to Templeton tomorrow and start a suit against her and bring her to time."

Both went over to the county seat town next day in a blinding snowstorm. They were the only passengers in the stagecoach, but kept as far apart as possible, and not a word was exchanged. On the way back they were again the only occupants of the coach, and the snow became so deep and was coming down so thick that the driver lost the road and ran his vehicle into a pasture. He then unfished his horses and floundered off with them, and the two passengers were left to take care of themselves. The elder got down to find the snow up to his knees and himself all turned around. He yelled and yelled, but there was no answer. It was not very cold, but the situation was an unpleasant one. He saw no other way but to stay by the stage. The widow got down in her turn, and she also got back again. For a long hour nothing was said. Then she exclaimed:

"This is a pretty state of affairs!"

"And who's to blame for it, I want to know!" retorted the elder.

"You are! What did you go to Templeton for?"

"To sue you for slander. What did you go for?"

"To sue you for the same thing!"

Then there was silence for another hour. The widow wept, and the elder sighed, but neither would speak. Finally the widow asked:

"Elder, must we stay here all night?"

"Guess we'll have to."

Then there was silence up to midnight. Both pretended to sleep, but it was the roughest deception. It was the elder who at last broke the silence by saying:

"Widow, if we sat on the same seat we'd be warmer."

"Yes."

He moved over, and three minutes later he said:

"If I was to put my arm around you we'd be warmer still."

"Mebbe."

And ten minutes later a voice broken by emotion might have been heard saying:

"Elder, I never, never set my dog on you that day. I wasn't even home."

"And I never meant to drive that pesky hog agin you—never!"

That was the beginning of explanations mutually satisfactory, and when the elder finally reached a farmhouse with the widow on his back and the farmer looked up wonderingly there was little to be said.

"Widow Spillman, you know. Snow two feet deep. Stage is over there in the pasture. Widow and me are going to be married next month."

THE WONDERER

I wonder what the sign meant? It said "Take this road to Boston." I positively and absolutely refused to take that road to Boston. Why we have here in Boston some of the worst roads in the country and why I should take that road to Boston, unless for a sample, is more than I can understand. I would be willing to bet a dollar bill against a doughnut that if I took that road to Boston and placed it on the common, not one out of one hundred would know that it was a road. Why! that road—Well if I am to tell the story I had better start at the beginning. My wife is in the country (Hooray) and I have been in the habit of going down on Saturday afternoons and coming back on Mondays or Tuesdays. This is supposed to be a vacation for me. Foolishly the other week I took down my near automobile and expected to have a good time on the cape. But circumstances alter cases and I was forced to bring it home Sunday. While taking it down I struck some of the worst roads in the state but coming back—Well if I was to say what I thought of the roads of the cape the paper would suspend. At the top of the hill coming out of Skunktown-on-the-pike I saw the sign above mentioned. Just at this time the machine struck a desert of Sarara of sand and proceeded to try to dig a hole big enough to hide herself in. I got out and watched the little thing for a few minutes and figured the thing up this way. "Well, I have got about a gallon of oil, and it looks as if blueberries were fairly plentiful nearby and possibly in the course of two or three days the machine will dig a hole deep enough to find water so I won't worry. But what is this? Take that noise outside!" It seems that while the machine was throwing sand like a dredging machine two others had arrived and had to stop and wait for me. So I opened the transmission box and commenced to pile in sand as if I wanted to get all the abandoned farms on the cape in the box. By good hard sprinting I managed to get aboard just as the machine topped the hill. Then we all piled on to the state road and things went grandly for awhile until we struck another mile of sand. This was right side of a cranberry bog and for awhile it looked as if the bog would beat out the machine I bet 37 cents on the bog at the end of the first fifteen minutes but the machine took the money by at least a foot. After that it was all state road and I saw every other machine go by in a cloud of dust and got ambitious. Said I, "I too will raise a dust". And I did. When I arrived in Newton I was dust from heat to foot. My eyes were full. My ears were full. The car was full and I thought as I emptied my shoes that I had taken about all the sand in the state home with me. But I am going again. Yes Sir, I am going down to the cape again and defy the roads. But!!! I am going in a flying machine.

THEATRES

This distinction has been given to Harry De Coe, the Englishman, who started London by his wonderful feats of balancing. De Coe places four tables, one on top of the other, and on top of this he places two chairs. Then with two more chairs he climbs to the top of this rickety heap and in the most incredible manner manages to put a third chair on top of the two already there. Then climbing up on the tables he balances a fourth chair, and not only that but he sits on it and smokes a cigarette. During most of the operations the entire pyramid of tables and chairs seems to sway, but De Coe accomplishes the feat in the most matter of fact manner. He comes to Kelt's next week as a feature of one of the big bills that has been making the summer season a memorable one.

The Fadettes continue to give their popular concerts before the regular vaudeville bill begins, and Mrs. Nichols and her forty players are more popular than ever.

Another big feature of the bill will be Gus Edwards' "Blonde Typewriters," with Percy Chapman in the musical comedy called "A Picnic for One."

James K. Murray and Clara Lane, the opera singers will present a new sketch said to be better than anything that they have previously presented. Others are Quinn and Mitchell in a farce called "The Land Agent," the Hanlons who have something new in the way of an acrobatic act, and Russell and Held in songs and dances.

Orpheum Theatre—There are few rural plays on the American stage that have such an appealing interest for the public in general as "Quincy Adams Sawyer" and no play is so typical of New England in the manners and customs which it portrays. For this reason Manager Lindsay Morison considers himself extremely fortunate in securing this place for the Orpheum Theatre next week. When it is considered that this coming engagement will be the very first time that "Quincy Adams Sawyer" has ever been released for stock in this country, Manager Morison's enterprise may well come in for a great deal of praise. The play itself has been described as one great big laugh from beginning to end and containing the sweetest love story ever told. Its scenes are laid in New England and in New England it has been most successful although it has been received with the greatest of favor throughout the country.

Grand Opera House—The season at the Boston Grand Opera House opened on Saturday evening, August 7th, with A. H. Woods' sensational melodrama, entitled "Convict 999" and the same play continues all this week. "Convict 999" is a thrilling melodrama, and is alive from beginning to end with startling scenes and hair-breadth escapes. Capt. Kelly's troupe of "Dave Devil Zouaves" don wonderful feats of wall scaling and ladder climbing. Next week's attraction will be Lem B. Parker's new powerful drama of contemporary American social life, entitled "The Final Settlement". The theme of the story is said to be daring and sensational, and attacks those members of society who seek recourse to the divorce courts to relieve themselves of undesirable mates. The climaxes and situations are said to be startling and spontaneous and the story well told and consistent. The company will be one of unusual excellence. Matinees will be given as usual on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. The Grand Opera House is very handy to reach, being just above the Dover Street "L" station.

DEATH OF JOHN MORAN.

John Moran, aged 69 years, died Sunday in Newton hospital, where he had been ill for sometime. He was a resident of 231 River street, West Newton, and for about 25 years had been employed as gardener on the estate of George L. Lovett, West Newton hill. He was born in Queens county, Ire., but had lived in this country the greater part of his life. He is survived by his wife; a son, Andrew, and one daughter, Mary. The funeral took place Wednesday morning when high mass was celebrated at 9 o'clock at St. Bernard's church, where he was long an attendant. Burial was in Calvary cemetery.

The rumor that Congressman Weeks' appointment to the chairmanship of the important committee on Post Offices and Post roads, was due to Speaker Cannon's desire to kill the proposed legislation for postal savings bank, is an insult to Captain Weeks. As a matter of fact, the Congressman did not know he was appointed to this committee until the list was read during the closing hours of the session. His interview on this subject in another column is a frank statement of his position on the matter in question.

The war game which is to be played in southeastern Massachusetts next week is about as extravagant a use of public monies as can be imagined. It is said that the estimated expense of the "game" will be well over one hundred and sixty thousand dollars. It is inconceivable that the resulting benefit will justify the expenditure of such a large amount, to say nothing of the subsidiary damages which will come from the passage of troops across an inhabited country.
The city of Newton, thru its property of the state tax will pay something like $3300 towards this piece of nonsense. Does any citizen suppose that our board of aldermen would make such an appropriation for such a purpose without a protest being made, and yet it is appropriated by our state authorities without comment and we have to help foot the bills.

I print with real pleasure this week, the views of Congressman Weeks relative to the recent tariff bill passed by the Congress.

DARIUS COBB IS 75.

Darius Cobb, the artist, reached the age of seventy-five years last Friday, and his anniversary finds him in the enjoyment of excellent health and as vigorous as he was when he reached the half-century mark. He is round and about town every day and everywhere is greeted on the street
by numerous friends. In his younger days Mr. Cobb was an athlete and feels that he then built the strength which carried him through Civil War service and which he has husbanded for his older years. He says that he considers himself good for a quarter of a century more of work in his profession, and he is now engaged on his most important painting. This work depicts the last surviving comrade of the G. A. R. decorating graves on the final Memorial Day. Mr. Cobb was born in Malden on Aug. 6, 1834,
the son of Rev. Sylvanus Cobb, D. D.
His mother was before her marriage Eunice Hale. Mr. Cobb is the twin brother of the late Cyrus Cobb, who achieved fame as a sculptor. He resides on Boylston street, Eliot.

CITY HALL NOTES.

Mayor Hutchinson will begin his vacation next week. He plans to spend two weeks in the Casco Bay region, Me., and will be accompanied by Mrs. Hutchinson.

MR. WHALEN DEAD.

The death last Sunday evening of Andrew F. Whalen at the age of 41 years removed a familiar character who had long been well known to residents of wards 1 and 7. For about 20 years he had conducted a livery and huckling business in this city. He was born in Ireland, but came to this country when a young man. Death came after an illness of five weeks at his home 167 Adams street. He is survived by his wife and four sons. Funeral services took place Wednesday morning, high mass of requiem being celebrated at 9 at the Church of Our Lady. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery at Waltham.

The beautiful fairy spectacle "Cinderella" is now given at Wonderland at 3.30 o'clock in the afternoon as well as at 8.30 o'clock at night. This great show—the big free show of the season at this popular park—engages
the services of sixty boys and girls, and from beginning to ending is a most fascinating, brilliant entertainment, characterized by daintiness and refinement in every costume, movement and color scheme. The music by Teel's band is of the best. There are new incidentals every week. The big new number is the "Florodora" sec-tette, sung and danced by twenty young lads and lassies, and it made an instantaneous and popular hit.

Every evening, previous to the performance on the stage, there is a parade on the great board walk which encircles the lagoon, of all the members of the "Cinderella" company, headed by Teel's band.

FORESTRY IN MASSACHUSETTS.

"How foolish do men appear, destroying the forest cover without regard to consequences, for thereby they rob themselves of both wood and water!"—Humboldt.

"Forestry is the science and art of forming and cultivating forests, the management of growing timber." It is the treatment of trees in mass.
The man who manages a forest is a forester. The care and treatment of shade and ornamental trees, or groups of trees, is not forestry and the one who gives this care and treatment is not thereby a forester. His official title may be tree warden.

About one-half the area of Massachusetts is either wooded or waste land. Almost none of the woodland is as productive as it should be, and much has little value except as a cover for the soil. Some of the waste land is not worth the taxes. All this would yield an increasing profit if properly forested. Of the woodland which we have, hundreds of acres are burned every year. Our forest taxation is unsystematic and impractical.
Because of this danger from fire and this burdensome taxation, many are deterred from cultivating timber who would otherwise do so. The water flow of Massachusetts is affected by alternating floods and droughts caused by the destruction of forests on the hills and steep slopes within the State, and still more from the same causes in the White Mountain regions. From lack of tree-planting along our brooks and streams, our valuable soil is being carried to the sea to fill the harbors and mouths of rivers, from which it must be dredged
at vast expense.

The public shade-trees of Massachusetts are too generally in bad condition, even in cities and towns noted for the number and beauty of their trees, and in parks otherwise well cared for. Through forest, park, street roadside, and private grounds the un-conquered insect pursues his triumphant way—gypsy and brown-tail moths, San Jose scale, borers, and many others, with fungous and other diseases in their train.

The principal official agencies dealing more or less directly with these problems are the State Forester, the Massachusetts Gypsy and Brown-tail
Moth Commission, Massachusetts
Forestry Association, Metropolitan Park Commission, Trustees of State
Reservations, Massachusetts Highway Commission; forest wardens, tree wardens in towns, and various tree
officials in cities; forestry schools and experiment stations; Society for the Protection of New Hampshire Forests, American Forestry Association, United States Department of Agriculture.

What can women do? The Forestry Committee earnestly recommends for this year's work (1) that the clubs master the few simple elementary facts and principles of forestry and tree management; (2) that they learn the character and work of the above agencies, especially of those affecting their own locality, with a view to intelligent and sympathetic co-operation. Without the support of an educated public opinion, this well-equipped forest and tree service of Massachusetts may work largely in vain. Let the clubs furnish this support by making themselves centres of enlightenment and influence. To this end the committee will gladly answer any questions, will furnish lists of books for use in clubs and to be placed in libraries, also articles and items for publication in local papers; will,
so far as possible, speak to clubs for expenses only, and suggest other speakers with their terms; will furnish outlines of study for one or more meetings and any other help or information in their power. A bulletin upon "Shade Trees" (No. 125), prepared jointly by the Massachusetts Agricultural Experiment Station of Amherst and the Massachusetts Forestry Association, is just out. This is by far the best and most comprehensive treatment of the whole subject
as related to Massachusetts conditions. The Forestry Committee has arranged with the Massachusetts Forestry Association to have this bulletin sent to Forestry Club members and others whose names are sent in by club Presidents, as requested.

Two subjects somewhat kindred to forestry, Birds and School Gardens, have been this year assigned to the Forestry Committee which offers the same assistance as on trees and forests. The committee would suggest that winter is the best time to begin the study of birds and of tree identification. Florence Merriam's "Birds of Village and Field" and Miss Huntington's "Studies of Trees in Winter" are probably the best books for the purpose.

TO COST A FORTUNE.

The coming maneuvers will cost Massachusetts approximately $165,000
according to a statement made by Adjutant General William H. Brigham. The estimate of $500,000 General Brigham characterized as "absurd and wild in the extreme," as he is confident that this amount will more than cover the expense to all of the States taking part. When the matter of having the annual tour of duty assumed this form General Brigham took the stand that it should not be attempted unless the expense could be kept within the amount which the State ordinarily pays each year for the regular tour of duty, and as a result he is confident that the cost will be kept within that figure.

The pay of the Massachusetts defending force will not exceed $140,000 including the pay of officers, which is upon a per diem basis ranging from $2.50 for a subaltern and $5 for a captain to $15 for a brigadier general. To this amount $10,000 has been added for the cost of transportation and $15,000 for subsistence, both of these estimates being considered conservative.

While no figures are available concerning the expense to other States, General Brigham is of the opinion that none will spend more than the usual amount, at least so far as pay and subsistence are concerned. It is understood that the National Government is to bear the expense of transportation for the troops of other States, and if this is true it is hard to see in what way these maneuvers are to cost more than the ordinary tour of duty.

MRS. HEALD DEAD.

Mrs. Elizabeth Heald, the widow of the late Daniel A. Heald died last Tuesday after an illness of a few weeks. Mrs. Heald was a native of Claremont, N. H. and the daughter of Edward L. and Elizabeth W. Goddard.
She was a graduate of Abbott Academy at Andover and had lived in Newton Centre at the home of her brother, Mr. C. M. Goddard on Beacon street for some years. Mrs. Heald was actively identified with the work of the First Church. Funeral services were held at ten o'clock this morning at the Goddard home on Beacon street in charge of Rev. E. M. Noyes, and the interment was made this afternoon at Claremont, N. H.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Senator Mulligan of this district, according to the list published recently by Practical Politics, one of three senators who is placed on all the 78
roll calls of the last legislative session. In the House, Representative Bishop missed but one roll call in 14, Representative Garcelon missed
8 and Representative Converse is not placed on 28.

According to the list published by the Republican state committee, Newton will have 27 delegates in the various conventions held this fall. Ward 1, two, ward 2, five, ward 3, four, ward 4, three, ward 4, four, ward 5, and ward 7, four. The state convention will have 1816 delegates, the second councillor, 253, the first Middsex senatorial, 57, and Middlesex county, 401.

NOT TRUE.

Referring to the rumor that has been given wide publicity to the effect that his appointment as chairman of the Post Office Committee of Congress is a blow aimed by Speaker Cannon at the postal savings bank plan, Congressman Weeks makes the following statement:

"The despatch which you have called to my attention has appeared in many other newspapers, but is entirely without foundation. I have never had any conversation with the Speaker, or anyone else, about my views on the Postal Savings Bank policy, or any other matter which is likely to come before the Post Office Committee of which I have been appointed chairman, but this misrepresentation of the facts has secured such wide circulation that I think I ought to say that I shall approach that subject at the proper time absolutely without prejudice, but I am not and shall not be in favor of the establishment of a Postal Savings Bank system or of considering a Postal Savings Bank System until the Monetary Commission makes its report.

"The commission has ample power to consider not only the currency system, but the entire banking system of the United States, and it will have a carefully considered report to make at the earliest possible moment. If the tariff had not been under consideration this summer, I have no doubt that the Monetary Commission would have been ready to report to the congressional session of Congress, but owing to many members being intimately occupied in tariff matters, it has been impossible for the Monetary Commission to do any work this summer.
It is, therefore, probable that a report cannot be made until a year from the coming winter, but in either case, it does not seem to me that it would be wise or sensible to undertake the establishment of another form of banks when the Monetary Commission will be likely to cover
the whole subject."

Upper Falls.

—Mrs. Arthur Rumery is critically ill at her home on High street.

—Mrs. Rose Knight of Pawtucket, R. I., is visiting Mr. James Wilde of Oak street.

—Mr. Andrew Hayden is enjoying his vacation at Boothbay Harbor, Me.

—Mrs. Margaret and Catherine Haggerty of Chestnut street are at Oak Bluffs for two weeks.

—Mrs. Julia Wright of Chestnut street has returned from a two weeks stay at Concord.

—Mr. William Sullivan of Elliot street is rapidly convalescing from his recent illness at York Beach, Me., and has returned to work.

—Mrs. John Temperley and family of Chestnut street have returned from a month's sojourn at West Campton, N. H.

—On Wednesday evening Miss Grace Cahill of Boylston street gave a whist party at her home in aid of her table at the lawn party to be held on Labor Day. Over 15 tables were in play.

—The members of Wellesley grange 16, P. of H., held an outing Thursday at the home of their master, Joseph Mason, 28 Richardson road, when games, music and refreshments comprised an interesting program.

—The funeral of Mrs. Johanna Kelly, widow of George Kelly, who died at the age of 56 at her home, 1269
Boylston street took place Wednesday morning, high requiem mass being celebrated at 9 o'clock at St. Mary's church. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery in Needham. Mrs. Kelly was born in county Cork, Ire., but had lived here many years. Death came after illness of a year. She was a sister of Mrs. Thomas Gannon of Newton Highlands.

—On Wednesday afternoon fire broke out in one of the barns belonging to the William Welch estate on Reservoir street (Needham sh.).
Owing to the dryness of the roofs of the surrounding buildings the other barn and seven surrounding buildings were threatened, but the good work of the neighbors and the help of the Newton Fire department which was called upon owing to the Needham department fighting another fire, it was confined to the barn where it broke out, which was a total loss.

Lower Falls.

—Marshall and Chester Spring are spending a week in their camp at North Wilmington.

—Mrs. M. D. Reed left last Friday for Maine, where she will spend a vacation of two weeks.

—Antonio Roig, a former student at Wellesley Hills, is visiting friends here for a few days. Mr. Roig is now engaged in the automobile business in Porto Rico, and he drove his car here from New York.

—The choir boys of St. Mary's Episcopal church returned Saturday evening from Hampton Beach, where they had been in camp several weeks. The campers were in charge of John Law, the choirmaster, and the party had a most enjoyable time.

—Rev. P. H. Callanan has begun preliminary arrangements for the annual Labor day picnic of St. John's parish, which will take place on the extensive grounds opposite the church on Washington street hill. Plans are being made for a number of novel features this year. The different committees will probably be selected next week.

—The work of building the new foot bridge over the Charles river is rapidly nearing completion. The new structure is of steel, and will last a great many years. It replaces the old wooden footbridge which had spanned the river for many years, and which last spring was declared to be safe
no longer. The old bridge was closed, and after a time arrangements were completed whereby it would be replaced by a new bridge by the city of Newton, part of the expense to be shared by the town of Wellesley. The wooden structure was demolished, and new foundations put in. Then came a considerable delay in receiving the steel work for the new bridge.
This was received in sections, and is now being placed in position as rapidly as possible. Many persons in this vicinity who have found the footbridge a great convenience in past years will welcome the opening of the new bridge.

PROBATE COURT.

Middlesex, ss.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Amanda Danforth Brooks late of Newton in said County, deceased.

WHEREAS, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court, for Probate, by Ellen Adelaide Brooks who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named,
without giving a surety on her official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge in said County of Middlesex, on the sixteenth day of September A. D.
1909, at nine o'clock in the forenoon,
to show cause, if any you have, why
the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic a newspaper published in Newton, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Graphic:

The sight of an occasional watering cart on Sundays, is a pleasing reminder that Sunday is the best of days; but why limit the use of water to Sundays, letting us go dry for the rest of the week?

During a residence of twenty years in this city, I have frequently remarked on the thorough manner in which our streets were sprinkled, presenting a marked contrast to some of the other towns in the country. To drive out on a summer morning on streets pervaded with a cool dampness has been delightful. One might be unconscious of drought, unless driving beyond the Newton limits. This distinction has now been abandoned; only temporarily, let us hope. Streets hot, dry and dusty are now our portion; reminding one of some country cross-roads more than of our elegant city. That we have taken a long step backward is no mere theory but the practical observation of one using the streets every day.

This change cannot be due to the lack of money, because the cost of street watering is assessed directly against the abutting property. If it is due to a scarcity of water, the problem is serious. Probably some means could be devised by which water for sprinkling the streets could be drawn from the river. I hope that you may give some attention to this matter, and that another season may see an improvement.

AS OTHERS SEE US Newton - A City Of Homes

There are nearly 40,000 people in this city and several thousand of them go away every summer to the beaches and the mountains—from habit. Some even go to Europe. Then they come back and wonder why they went away, says A. J. Philpot, writing in the Boston Globe.

He continues: While these people are gone thousands of other people come from far distant places to see and admire Newton's spacious residences and gardens, its shaded streets and avenues, and its beautiful river and the parks along this river. And these people say to themselves, "Newton is an ideal place in summer."

The people of Newton have to go away to find that out. They suffer all kinds of discomforts in travelling, in hotels and boarding houses, only to return with a deeper consciousness of the fact that there are few places in the world that equal Newton in summer or in winter.

When a stranger comes to Boston almost the first question asked is:

"Have you seen the Newtons yet?"

"No! Then you must, for Newton is our handsomest suburb."

"I thought Brookline was your handsomest suburb?"

"Well, Brookline is very handsome and all that, but it can't be compared with Newton—with the Newtons."

"Why 'the Newtons'—are there many of them?"

"Yes—10 or 12 perhaps—all different you know, yet very similar and under one city government."

This is the kind of conversation one is apt to hear most any time when a stranger visits this part of the world, and it is usually followed by a series of more specific questions something along this line:

"What is Newton particularly noted for?"

"Its splendid residences, its beautiful gardens, its splendid streets and roads all shaded, its parks, its river scenery and the canoeing on the Charles river."

"No business in the place?"

"Yes, the usual stores, a few factories and—well, let's talk about Newton as a summer resort, for it doesn't amount to much in a business way. It is a city of homes and residences, and gardens, and parks and canoeing, and canoe clubs, and of visitors who think it is the finest place in the country."

And that's just about what Newton is—a city of fine homes with spacious lawns and gardens, and with all the evidences of such prosperity and happiness among its inhabitants as makes one forget for the time being that there are either sociological questions or economic questions or any other kind of questions concerning humanity which need thought, study or solving in this world. Here things seem to have reached a state where troubles do not exist, or if they do, they are not anywhere in evidence.

A minister from Newton at a conference in New York a few years ago when asked where he hailed from in Massachusetts, replied with someunction:

"From the finest place God ever made."

"It must be either Newton or Brookline then," said the chairman.

"Newton," was the response.

"The statement may seem a little extravagant," explained the chairman to the conference, "but I must say I think the young man is about half right at least. I have been in Newton and I understand his feelings. Brookline, like Boston, is very largely a state of mind. Newton is a state of feeling—you feel all right in Newton. In Brookline or Boston you just have to imagine you're all right, and you have some doubts about it even then."

So it can be readily seen that the fame of Newton is something more than local. It is world-wide, and there is no city within a 50 mile radius of Boston that is visited by so many people out of pure curiosity and because of its many intrinsic beauties as is Newton.

There is dignity about Newton and about pretty much everything in Newton, but there is no ostentation about the place—no evidence of extravagant wealth or extravagant tastes. Yet it is a high line of prosperity in material things which is in evidence on every side here, but along with this one is conscious of refinement and good sense. There are probably lots of people in the place who just make a "front," for you find them everywhere the "fourflushers"—but the whole aspect of the place seems to be one of solidity. It is said that the men of affairs improve their credit by living in Newton. There seem to be a few places "to let" here.

There may be "social stratum" in the different communities which make up Newton, but if so they are not very strongly in evidence anywhere. Most of that beautiful river which winds around Newton for 10 or more miles, and the banks on either side, are owned by the state and used as a public reservation—free to all. That sort of thing has a tendency to level social distinctions, for the poor as well as the rich can enjoy all of this reservation. The people of Nonantum are as much favored by nature as are the people of Auburndale.

And in all of these canoe clubs and boat clubs along the river are members who live in other cities and towns, and who come here regularly with their friends to canoe on the river. In the clubhouse of the Y.M.C.A. at Riverside there are more than 600 canoes, and not far away from this is the B. A. A. boat club house with 200 or more canoes. The oldest boat club in the river is the Newton boat club at Riverside, which was established about 25 years ago. From that club the canoeing craze spread until today there are something like 2000 canoes in Newton—yes, probably more when the whole stretch of the river and its inlets are considered, from Needham to Waltham and Watertown. About two-thirds of Newton is enclosed or encircled by the Charles river.

And this of course, is what makes it a great summer resort, and added to this are the parks and reservations. First come the beautiful park and reservation around the Chestnut Hill reservoir at the Boston line. This is owned by the city of Boston, and part of it is in Brighton, part in Newton and part in Brookline. This is as fine a park in many respects as there is in the state. But, of course, no boating is allowed on the waters.

The next most attractive park from a public standpoint is that around Echo bridge, across the Charles river at Newton Upper Falls. This is known as Hemlock Gorge reservation, and it is a very picturesque spot with a rocky gorge, through which the river flows below the silk mill. There are fine oaks and hemlocks in the groves, a large dance hall and platform for picnickers, and to crown it all the gorge is spanned at its most beautiful and impressive point by the high arch of Echo bridge, which carries the large pipes of the Metropolitan water system. The view from this bridge is beautiful at all times, but especially so at this season of the year. There is a remoteness and a quietness about the whole reservation which is very impressive.

Below Echo bridge, on the Newton side of the river, extending to Newton Lower Falls, is a section of the Metropolitan park about two miles in length all along the tortuous course of the river, which is also rarely beautiful. It is well wooded and well cared for, and is naturally very popular with canoeists. At the Newton Lower Falls there is a short carry for canoeists after which comes Lower Falls park, another fine reservation which runs down nearly to Riverside, where most of the canoes in Newton are kept and where the big canoes clubs are centered. From this point also run the electric lines.

Riverside is probably the liveliest place on the entire river, especially on Saturday afternoons, Sundays and holidays. The river is crowded with canoeists from early morning until late at night. Every car and every train is loaded with them—with men, women and children. There are usually from two to four persons in each canoe, and from this point the canoeists go both up and down the river, but most of them go down toward Norumbega park and Waltham for there is more room on the down stretch and the scenery is as good in one part of it as another. This stretch of the river around Riverside and Auburndale has many beauties of its own, however. At Auburndale park there is a wide inlet which is a favorite haunt with many canoeists, and Norumbega park is enjoyed by thousands of people at all times.

Newton touches the Charles river again at Nonantum below Waltham, and here there is also a very beautiful stretch of river, which is enjoyed by many canoeists. And again it touches the river opposite Watertown at the lower Metropolitan park reservation, and hundreds of power boats as well as canoes are to be found, for the river from Watertown to Boston is very largely given up to power boats these days. And it is a fine trip in a power boat from the West Boston or Harvard bridges up the river between Cambridge and Brighton to Watertown and Newton. So popular has it become that where there were not more than a half dozen power boats a few years ago on this stretch there is now a fleet of at least 300, and they are tearing up and down the river at all hours.

In the very heart of Newton there is a sheet of spring water, between Newton Highlands and Newton Centre known as Crystal lake, in which there are a few boats and canoes and around which are some pretty residences. At the Center is a splendid playground maintained by the city for the children. At Newtonville is Cabot park, a well kept bit of ground with some fine trees. At Newton Corner is another neat little park—Farlow park.

But in point of fact the whole city of Newton seems like a park. Nearly every house and estate has a garden or park, and there is such an abundance of trees and foliage and flowers on every hand that the place seems like a vast garden. It is naturally popular with automobilists, for the streets and roads are kept in fine condition. And further, these Newtons are in the heart of very wealthy communities. The city is inclosed by Boston, Brookline, Watertown, Waltham, Weston, Wellesley and Needham. So it is a sort of driveway for the people that live in these places. The Commonwealth boulevard which runs from Chestnut Hill to Auburndale is one of the finest pieces of roadway in the state.

For the benefit of those who do not know it might be well to state that Newton consists of Chestnut Hill, Newton Center, Newton Highlands, Waban, Newton Upper Falls, Newton Lower Falls, Auburndale, which includes Riverside, West Newton, Newtonville, Nonantum and Newton—commonly called Newton Corner. And it should have been mentioned that this Corner touches a section of the Metropolitan park and the river also.

It mustn't be imagined that Newton is given up wholly to canoeing and sport on Sundays. The river is given over to this sport, but the sport is largely indulged in by "outsiders."

Most of the Newton people go to church on Sundays, for they have some of the finest churches in the state in this city. And if they don't go to church, it is possible they go on the river, or visit the parks or stay at home. And "be it ever so humble there's no place like home"—when you live in Newton.

Heating houses in a zero town is an easy proposition if you have a "WINCHESTER" heater in your cellar. You don't burn up money in coal. The corrugated fireproof gives the greatest results. Made for steam or hot water by Smith & Thayer Co., 236 Congress street, Boston, Mass.

In a game characterized by an unusual batting rally in the eighth inning the strong Walnut A. C. team of this city defeated the Newton Catholic club players, 5 to 4, on Newton Center playground on Saturday afternoon. Up to the eighth the Catholic club led, 4 to 1. A Walnut player made a hit to first base, which was at first mistaken for a foul, and this let in three runs and allowed the runner to reach third. He then scored himself. The Catholic club went out in one-two-three order in the ninth. The winners made four hits and the Catholic club got seven. Gaw and Cummings were the battery for Walnut; McCourt and Ryan for the Catholic club.

Manager Thomas J. Lyons of the Catholic club team is making arrangements for a series of championship games with the Walnut A. C. team of the south side. The series promises to attract many fans, as considerable baseball rivalry has developed between the north and south sides.

Newton Y. M. C. A. baseball team crossed bats with the Iroquois club of Lynn on Cabot park Saturday afternoon, and came away victorious, 6 to 2. The association team lineup as follows: Thomas P. Falvey c, Barrows 1b, Wood 2b, Halliday 3b, Lonergan ss, Hansen and Haskell if, Hines cf and Day rf.

Among the well known Newton players in the tournament for the White mountains championship, finished at Crawford on Saturday afternoon, were H. C. Johnson, George W. Pratt, C. S. Penhallow, Harold Plimpton, T. B. Plimpton and G. C. Walworth.

CRUELTY TO HORSES ALLEGED.

James N. Bombard, 48 years old, a contractor living at 50 Tarlton road, and two drivers employed by him were arraigned in court Tuesday on charges of cruelty to animals upon complaint of the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

It was testified that two horses owned by Bombard had been worked in a pit off Commonwealth avenue while in bad condition from sores. An agent of the society said that he had warned the drivers against working the horses, but that he had seen them hauling sand later. The defendants pleaded not guilty and were represented by counsel.

Bombard was fined $15 on each complaint. One of his drivers, Henry Pine, 24 years old, living at 55 Langley road, was fined $10, while another driver, Passual Pazzi, 38, of Newton Highlands was found guilty and had his case placed on file. Pazzi said he usually worked as yard man, but drove one of the horses a half day when the regular driver was otherwise occupied. Pine appealed and was held in $300 for the higher court. Bombard's lawyer pointed out that the complaint had been made by a former employe, possibly not solely because of his love for animals. Judge Kennedy said, however, that the former employe had done a service to the community whatever his motive may have been.

MOTHERS' REST.

The service on August 15th at the Mother's Rest will be conducted by Rev. E. M. Noyes.

CITY HALL.

The work of fitting up the old Jackson school building at Nonantum for quarters for the Independent Industrial school will be completed this week. This building, which was abandoned when the new Stearns school was opened, will be put in condition to receive the pupils of the Independent school conducted by the city through the generosity of an anonymous contributor. Last spring these pupils were taught in Stearns school, but near the end of the school year it was decided that the Jackson school would be much more convenient. The work will cost about $1000, and before adjourning for the summer the aldermen passed an appropriation of this amount. It is planned to open a branch of the Independent Industrial school also in the new technical school at Newtonville early in the autumn.

Statistics of the board of health show a death rate of 8.94 for the past month, against that of 10.36 for the corresponding month last year. There were 29 deaths in July, against 33 the same month last year. There were on hand the first of the present month four cases of diphtheria, an increase of one case over the previous month; four cases of scarlet fever, a decrease of nine; five cases of typhoid, an increase of three; and only one case of measles, a decrease of 20 from the previous month. The board fumigated 72 rooms in July.

The forestry department has removed the trunk and roots of an old elm at Beacon and Center streets, Newton Centre, which was damaged in a storm several weeks ago. The elm was one of those set out about 75 years ago by the late Marshall S. Rice, when as a surveyor he laid out Center street as a thoroughfare.

Registration figures issued by the city clerk's office show 6265 voters in this city at the present time as a result of the annual revision of the list, a decrease of 446 from the number registered Dec. 8 last. There is a total loss from the previous figures of 635, caused principally by transfers and deaths, while there is a gain by transfer of 189. Precinct 1 of ward 4 holds the record for the largest precinct registration with 674. The registration by precincts is now as follows: Ward 1, prec 1, 281, prec 2, 434, total 715; ward 2, prec 1, 652, prec 2, 428, total 1080; ward 3, prec 1, 668, prec 2, 417, total 1085; ward 4, prec 1, 674, prec 2, 110, total 784; ward 5, prec 1, 330, prec 2, 518, prec 3, 161, total 1009; ward 6, prec 1, 460, prec 2, 382, prec 3, 118, total 950; ward 7 (one precinct) 632.

DIED ON WAY TO OLD HOME.

Instead of a family reunion which had been planned at the old homestead of Rev. Samuel Francis Smith, the author of "America", there was held there Tuesday morning funeral services for the late clergyman's son, Samuel F. Smith, who died on his way home from the Iowa state reformatory, from which he had recently been pardoned.

Smith was released after serving five years of a sentence of 11 years which he received in 1904 while mayor of Davenport, Ia., for embezzling trust funds amounting to $100,000. Having lost his property in Davenport, his family consisting of his wife and daughter returned to the old Smith homestead at 1181 Centre street, and here Smith had intended to join them and pass his remaining years.

Instead, his body was brought to Newton Centre, he having been taken seriously ill while on a train at Toronto, Can., passing away later in a hospital there.

The funeral was private, being attended only by the family and a few intimate friends. There were a number of floral offerings. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Dr. Andrew W. Archibald, former pastor of Porter Congregational church at Brockton, who has been living at the Smith homestead for several years. Burial was in Newton cemetery.

A humorous sketch entitled "Won by A Leg" is given by Gordon Eldrid and Company. Taneen and Claxton will present their immensely funny comedy musical act; and the Komo-graph will show some new motion pictures.

Paragon Park—The automobile patronage at Paragon Park has assumed such proportions since Manager Dodge opened up a special auto gate entrance and a reservation for free parking for automobiles that he is already announcing the Palm Garden open for automobilists through the month of September after the regular season of the Park closes on Labor Day. It is a great boon to automobile parties to have such a place as the Palm Garden famous for its cuisine and elaborate wine list, and the run to Nantasket is made all the more with the anticipation of the amusements and sights of Paragon Park and dinner in the Palm Garden while enjoying the band concerts and watching the festive amusement seekers about the lagoon.

The scheme of giving for the fireworks display on Saturday nights a pyrotechnic exhibit made exclusively for Paragon Park has made a decided hit and this plan will be followed at all the Saturday night fireworks shows for the balance of the season. The two ring free open air circus continues to be a great feature of Paragon's many amusements. New features are the balloon ascensions of Prof. Lawrence Davis, and Valding & Davis on the Flying Trapeze.

POLICE NOTES.

The police were Monday asked to assist in a search for two persons missing from their homes in this city. John Farrell reported that his son Joseph, 17 years old, had gone from his home at 230 Chapel street, Norantum, and it was learned that he had left Newton accompanied by two other boys. Thomas Mullaney, the 11 year old son of P. Mullaney of 122 Cedar street, Newton Centre, was reported missing from his home.

THE NEW TARIFF

Interesting Interview With Congressman Weeks

The following interview with Congressman John W. Weeks relative to the passage of the new tariff law will be of interest to Newton readers:—

The Payne Bill, as nearly as a measure can be, has been framed to carry out the purposes of the National Republican Convention, which pledged the Republican party to revise the tariff in such manner that the difference in cost of labor and a reasonable profit to manufacturers should be maintained. Of course, there was no specific pledge to revise the tariff downward, but in the minds of most people revision means lower rates and, therefore, people have been and are likely to be disappointed at the results which will be obtained from this bill.

For instance, the cost of food products will not be any lower and would not be any lower in my judgment if they were on the free list, their prices being governed almost entirely by supply and demand. The cost of clothing should not be materially higher, if higher at all. The cotton schedule, except in a few of the finer grades, is practically the same as the Dingley rates. The same statement applies to wool schedules and while clothiers have sent out statements about the increased cost of clothes under the Payne tariff, most of these statements, if not all of them are greatly exaggerated.

After a careful investigation of this subject I am convinced that under the worst possible conditions the added cost to the cloth which would be made in making any suit of clothes would not be over 80 cents; that is, over 80 cents increase due to the tariff itself, but unprincipled dealers may take advantage of this situation to greatly increase their prices and lay to the tariff something which should be charged to their own cupidity.

In my judgment Massachusetts has fared remarkably well in this revision. The State has been pledged for years to a reduction in the duties on raw materials,—especially desiring free coal, hides, iron ore and lumber. The duties on all of these articles have been reduced; hides have been put on the free list; the duty on coal has been reduced from 67 to 45 cents; the duty on iron ore has been reduced from 40 to 15 cents; the duty on lumber from $2 to $1.25. My own judgment is that a lower duty on coal would not make any appreciable difference to consumers in New England. No coal is being shipped here from Canada at this time. Canada is obtaining about $4,000,000 a year from its duty on coal, which is 50 cents a ton. Any lower duty than the duty which has been placed in the Payne Bill would be dependent on reciprocity with Canada. No one who has investigated the subject believes that Canada would give up the large revenue which she is now receiving from coal; therefore, any lower duty than 45 cents would not have been effective and would not have produced a result which would have benefited consumers in New England.

After a careful investigation of the subject, I am also convinced that the duty on lumber has no material effect on its retail price. Spruce, for instance, which was selling at $24 a thousand two years ago sold during the panic months and the months which followed as low as $19 a thousand, but is now selling at $25 a thousand; $1.25 is but 5 per cent on its present selling price and on an article which has had such extreme variation in price as that, it is inconceivable that a 5 per cent duty could affect materially its selling price to the retailer. Therefore, while New England has obtained concessions in these so-called raw materials and in many others which it uses, such as pig iron, scrap iron, etc. the duties on our manufactured products are maintained at substantially the rates which have made our industries very prosperous.

Of course, I am not entirely satisfied with the bill; no one is and no one ever will be satisfied with a tariff bill. For instance, if I had had an opportunity to have done so, I should have voted against the corporation tax, but to vote against that would have necessitated my voting against the whole bill, which I did not feel justified in doing. There are many other things in the bill which do not accord with my judgment, but on the whole I believe it is the best tariff bill that has ever been passed and that it will meet the conditions of today as well as the Dingley Bill did those which existed in 1897.

I have learned why the older and more experienced men in Washington are almost always inclined to be "stand patters." After nine months of consideration of the tariff in one form or another, it is apparent to me that no part of it can be opened up without practically taking up the whole subject and to obtain results which will satisfy even a majority of the people is nearly impossible. Very frequently one reads that the men who are engaged in revising the tariff are not competent to do so. But they have at their disposal all the expert knowledge which those who have to carry out the tariff law have,—that is the Treasury officials. Then again, the men who have served for many years on the Ways and Means Committee and the Finance Committee of the Senate have become experts in such matters. I heard Mr. Payne, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, discuss the bill as presented to the House nine hours and a half,—consuming two afternoons and it seemed to me that he answered every question asked him and covered every subject, as well as could be expected of any expert and it is fair for me to say that Mr. Payne's handling of this whole subject, his definite knowledge, not only of schedules, but of the history of schedules, has so impressed the House that I think he stands higher in that body today than he has during his twenty-six years of highly creditable service.

Very frequently stories are sent out from Washington that improper influences are being used in connection with legislation and this has been particularly true during the consideration of the tariff bill. It is undeniable that a large number of interested persons come to Washington to be heard and to, as far as possible, convince legislators that their views should be adopted. They do this in different ways,—submit briefs to the proper committees, appear before the proper committees and make arguments and go to their immediate representatives and senators and try to convince them that it is desirable that their views should become part of the finished law. To a certain extent this is necessary. They furnish all legislators with a vast amount of information and it becomes the duty of the legislator to eliminate what is not desirable and adopt the part which is desirable.

Not only are different sections of the country affected differently by certain schedules, but even the same community may have interests diametrically opposed to each other and it becomes necessary for the judicially minded legislator to hear both sides and try to determine what will be best for every interest which may be involved, which includes, of course a vast number of people who have no direct interest in tariff legislation; but I am convinced that improper influences are reduced to a minimum for after all these months' experience I have not seen or heard of a single instance which could be substantiated.

Mr. Cannon has been charged with having packed the Conference Committee, because he did not put Mr. Hill of Connecticut on the Committee instead of Mr. Calderhead of Kansas or Mr. Fordney of Michigan, it being charged that Mr. Fordney was put on the committee because he was a "stand patter" and especially interested in the lumber schedules. If I had been the Speaker charged with the duty of making up the Conference Committee I should not have put Mr. Hill on it. The Conferees included Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island, Senator Hale of Maine and Mr. McCall of Massachusetts,—naturally and properly. If another New England man had been put on the Committee it would have been charged at once that New England was being given an undue influence and it would have been most unwise for a New England standpoint to have had any basis for this charge. There is prejudice enough against New England without creating any more, and I think Mr. Cannon, whatever his motives may have been, was wise in his appointments to the Conference Committee.

LODGES.

With many members in attendance Garden city lodge N. E. O. P. held its first trolley party of the season Wednesday evening, leaving West Newton at 7 for Lexington Park, where a vaudeville program was enjoyed. Dancing followed. The arrangements were in charge of Miss Anna Kenna, and the affair was pronounced a success. It is proposed to hold a number of other trolley parties during the next few weeks.

BOY CAUSED ACCIDENT.

A serious accident caused by a mite of a boy throwing a piece of ice at an electric car occurred in Newtonville yesterday forenoon, the victim being Mrs. Katherine Ryan of 90 West street, Needham.

Mrs. Ryan was riding on a west bound Newton and Waltham car on Washington street near Mt. Vernon street, when she was struck in the breast by a piece of ice and severely bruised. The motorman, George Hicks heard her scream and quickly brought the car to a stop. With parolman Frank Dow, who was riding on the rear seat, he gave chase to the boy who was seen to throw the ice. They caught the boy, a 6-year old lad, living on Highland avenue, and the policeman secured the boy's name. The boy said he had thrown the ice at the car "just for fun," but did not intend to strike any of the passengers.

In the past few months there have been many complaints to the police that trains have been struck while passing through Newtonville, but this was the first time that anyone had been injured by being made targets by boys while riding on electric cars.

CITY HALL NOTES.

Communications were received yesterday by the heads of the different departments at city hall from Mayor Hutchinson, who is on vacation at Casco Bay, stating that assignment of wages of employees will make them liable to discharge. It is said that there has been only slight difficulty caused by assignment of wages of city employees, and that the mayor issued the communication simply as a warning. The heads of departments were instructed to notify the employees in their departments of the communication.

CLAFIN GUARD TO THE FRONT.

Clafin Guard, Co. C, 5th regt, M. V. M., left Newton armory at 8 Saturday morning for Boston, from which place they departed later in the forenoon for Cape Cod, to take part in the war manoeuvres. It was not known by the men where the company would begin duty, but it was understood that they would have an active part in the defensive work.

The company comprised 60 men, commanded by Capt. George F. Gullford. Many early "commuters" and others saw the company board the 8:16 Inward train, and gave the men a round of applause.

HARRIGAN-ADAMS.

Mr. Edward W. Harrigan of Newton, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Harrigan was married last Sunday afternoon to Miss Annie L. Adams at St. Mary's church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. T. H. Brosnahan. Archie T. Harrigan brother of the groom was best man. The maid of honor was Miss Alice L. Adams, sister of the bride. The bride was attired in a costume of white silk with net trimmings, she wore a veil caught with roses and carried a bouquet of Killarney roses. The maid of honor was attired in blue silk with lace trimmings with a large picture hat and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom, 26 Green street, which was largely attended by many relatives and friends from Lawrence, Somerville, Cambridge, South Boston, Waltham, Brighton, Wellesley, Natick and the Newtons.

The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts which included bric-a-brac, silverware and furniture.

After the reception the bride and groom left on a trip to New Hampshire.

THE NEW TAX RATE

COMPARATIVE FIGURES

	1909	1908
City appropriation	$1,244,952.50	$1,204,031.30
State tax	91,755.00	112,145.00
County tax	78,615.54	70,114.80
Net sewer	67,227.54	69,172.70
Met. parks	36,326.15	35,470.40
Wellesley bridge	1,301.84	1,433.28
State Highway	1.25	4.45
Grade crossings	11,063.56	10,715.59
	$1,535,224.82	$1,504,704.52
Cash in treasury	$8,084.45	40,800.18
Estimated receipts	185,000.00	200,000.00
Met. water	$6,524.96	$6,259.56
(paid from water income)

Analysis of the above figures shows that the city tax has increased $40,931.60, other items have increased $10,108.30, with total decreases of $20,525.60 of which $20,390. is in the state tax, making a net increase in the tax levy of $30,515.30. It should also be noted that while the treasury receipts have increased $17,164.24 the estimated receipts have decreased on account of the loss in corporation taxes. The net increase therefore in the tax levy is $48,351.06.

The Assessors have been able to keep the tax rate the same as last year on account of the extraordinary increase in the valuation of personal property. This increase is well worth noting, when the figures show the average yearly increase during the past five years of but $495,395, although last years figures were $894,265. There is also a slight gain in the increase in real estate, that for 1909 being $612,950 as compared with $515,850 for 1908. The total increase of $1,863,090 is also the largest since 1898, that for last year being $1,410,115.

WIRES DAMAGED BY STORM.

The rain storm caused damage Tuesday to wires and trees in different parts of this city. Linemen were kept busy repairing wires which were felled on Dudley road, Dedham, Chapel, Harvard and several other streets. Numerous shade trees from which broken branches fell into the streets were cleared away Wednesday morning by the forestry department.

Mrs. Edward Van Tassel and daughter, Elizabeth of Newtonville have been motoring in the White Mountains with Mrs. W. F. Plant of Newton, and after visiting at "Tanglewood", Mrs. Plant's summer residence at Lake Winnepesaukee will spend a few weeks at West Swansea, N. H.

William F. Plant Jr., Thomas C. Plant, Edward D. Van Tassel and Gordon Van Tassel returned on the "Lancaster" this week after a pleasant vacation spent in touring England and the continent.

NEWTON TRUST COMPANY

Since the organization of the Newton Centre Trust Company (now Newton Trust Company) in 1894, its directors have always endeavored to conduct its affairs in such a manner as to entitle it to the full confidence and approval of every patron, that it might become a benefit and credit to the City of Newton.

The result of this policy has been a steady, healthy, and never-ceasing growth, until at present the Newton Trust Company is the largest and strongest banking institution in the suburbs of Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Wetherbee of Bellevue street are passing a few weeks at Shelburne, N. H.

Miss Emma Deuschle has returned from a very pleasant vacation at Yarmouth, Nova Scotia.

The family of John T. Burns of Jefferson street is at Brant Rock for the remainder of the summer.

Mr. Frank A. Day was an honorary pall bearer at the funeral on Tuesday of the late R. H. Stearns.

Mrs. Fred H. Howard of Galen street returned this week from an enjoyable sojourn at Port Clyde, Me.

Miss Margery Webster of Newtonville avenue returned this week from a pleasant sojourn in Nova Scotia.

Rev. Charles Clarke of Miller's Falls occupied the pulpit of North Evangelical church Sunday. For the past four summers he has supplied this pulpit during the vacation of the pastor, Rev. Henry E. Oxnard.

A miniature flood caused excitement in the vicinity of Washington street and Center place Monday, when a fountain became clogged and flooded part of the street, causing an emergency call for the water department crew.

Frank D. Frisbie of Center street who has been spending several weeks at Chautauque, N. Y., left there this week for The Welles, N. H., where he will spend the rest of the summer with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Frisbie, who are summering there.

The announcement is made of the marriage of Edward J. Cotesworth of 280 Franklin street and Miss Ada R. Riman of 62 Warren street, Boston, the ceremony having been performed in this city Tuesday by Rev. James C. Sharp, rector of the church of the Good Shepherd at Waban.

Mr. John Hermann Loud will give an organ recital next Wednesday at Ocean Grove, New Jersey, upon the great Hope-Jones organ which is probably the largest in the world. His program includes selections by Bach, Rheinberger, Gullman, Kinder, Bergquist, Hacker and an improvisation.

The services at Elliot church next Sunday will be conducted by William D. Barnes of Mansfield, who has charge of the parish work during the vacation of Rev. H. Grant Person. Last Sunday a large congregation heard an interesting sermon by Rev. Dr. Clarence S. Sargent, pastor of Plymouth church at Wichita, Kas., who has been passing a few days with friends in Newton.

There was much excitement here on Sunday forenoon, when word was received from Boston that a train crew had seen the body of a man lying across the tracks between Newton and Faneuil stations. Chief Milton, Patrolman Davis, Cain and Mills joined a squad of police from division 14, Brighton, but a long search revealed no body. The Newton police then started a search west of Newton station, and at 9:30 found a man beside the tracks near Lewis terrace bridge. He gave the name of Thomas J. Cassidy, 40 years old, a millhand living at Lower Falls. He was arrested in court the following morning he paid a fine of $5 for drunkenness.

The announcement is made of the marriage of Fred J. Lackenby, an employee of the D. H. Robblee company of this city, and Miss Maggie Keith of Sunderland, Eng., the ceremony having taken place in the "Little Church Around the Corner," New York, on a recent Sunday. After a honeymoon in and about New York, Mr. and Mrs. Lackenby will be at home to their friends at 72 Charlesbank road.

Excitement was caused in the Hunnewell Hill district Tuesday afternoon, when an unknown man was discovered in the house of Walter A. Beedle, 4 Breamore road. In response to a telephone message sent to the police, patrolman Ryan secured a depot carriage and hurried to the dwelling. At the head of the cellar stairs he found Dominick Hart Jr., 31 years old, a brakeman, whom he arrested on a charge of drunkenness. In court the prisoner said he had partaken of gin and ale after being paid off in Boston, and that he did not know how he got into the dwelling. He paid a fine of $5.

The work of fitting up the old Jackson school house at Nonantum as quarters for the independent industrial school was completed early this week. Since the independent school was established through the generosity of an anonymous contributor last winter, the classes have been taught in the Stearns building. The new quarters, it is believed, will be much more convenient, and will allow more room for the regular classes in the Stearns building. Plans are on foot for starting a branch of the industrial school next month in the new technical high school at Newtonville.

Safety For Your Estate

Our method of administering estates and trust funds has not only all the advantages of an individual trusteeship, but other points of superiority that one-man direction cannot have. Sickness, accident or death cannot endanger a trust confided to us, because no one man is responsible for it. Our executive board act together, and are ready for business every business day in the year.

Every investment made, or other important action taken, represents the collective wisdom of a group of men expert in trust management, and their services cost an estate no more than it would pay an individual.

All our securities are officially inspected three times a year. We give bonds equal to twice the amount of the personal property of an estate we administer; and these bonds are backed by a guarantee of $4,500,000. An individual acting as executor or trustee rarely is required to give security.

Mr. M. C. BRUSH

General Manager Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Co.

Matthew C. Brush, vice president and general manager of the Suburban Street Railway Companies, comprising the so-called Newton street railway system having headquarters at Newtonville, will send his resignation to the directors Aug. 25, having received an offer to become general manager of the Buffalo and Lake Erie Traction Company Oct. 1.

Mr. Brush was born in Minnesota, and secured his education in the public schools of that state and the Mass Institute of Technology. He worked for five years on the Great Lakes, and then entered the mechanical department of the Union Pacific, followed by similar work for the Rock Island in Kansas, and coming east in 1903.

He had served six years in his present position, and a few weeks ago was elected director of the several companies identified with the system. He is one of the best known street railway men in New England, and is at present head of the New England street railway club.

The companies of which he is general manager here are the Newton, Newton & Boston, Lexington & Boston, Middlesex & Boston, Natick & Cohasset and Westboro & Hopkinton street railways. He is also a director of the Norumbega and Lexington Park companies.

He is a member of the Newton Club, Fales club, Waltham Business Men's association, the Delta Kappa Epsilon and an associate member of the American Street and Interurban Railway association. His home is at 425 Newtonville avenue, Newtonville.

In his new position he will manage the Buffalo, Lake Erie Traction Co., the Jamestown, Chautauqua and Lake Erie Railroad Co., the Chautauqua Steamship Co., and the Lackawanna Traction Co., consisting of about 200 miles of high speed private right of way interurban electric line running from Buffalo to Lake Erie, and 50 miles of steam road from Westfield to Jamestown and 14 steamboats on Lake Chautauqua.

FUNERAL OF MRS. HEALD.

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth G. Heald, widow of Daniel A. Heald, who died at the age of 57 at the home of her brother, C. M. Goddard, 1008 Beacon street, Newton Centre, took place Friday, Rev. Edward M. Noyes of the First Congregational church officiating. The body was taken to Claremont, N. H., her native town, for burial, the committal service being conducted by Rev. Edward N. Goddard.

She was the daughter of Edward L. and Elizabeth (Worth) Goddard of Claremont, and was born in 1852. She had been a resident of Newton Centre for about 17 years. She was a member of the First Congregational church, the Wednesday club and vice president of the Abbott Academy Alumnae association. She represented the First church as director of the Woman's Board of Missions.

She is survived by three brothers, Rev. Edward N. Goddard of Montpelier, Vt., George H. Goddard of Plainfield, N. J. and C. M. Goddard of this city, with whom she had made her home since the death of her husband nine years ago.

REAL ESTATE.

The following sales and rentals have recently been negotiated through the real estate office of E. Arthur Robinson: Frank B. Heckrotte of Boston, employed by the B. & A. R. R. has leased lower suite, 2158 Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, which he will occupy the first of September. Mr. Clifford E. Hill of Faneuil has leased lower suite 202 Central street, Auburndale, from September 1st.

E. Arthur Robinson also reports the sale of vacant lot, corner of Commonwealth avenue and Auburn street, Auburndale, to Miss C. G. Farnum and Amanda Martin of West Somerville. Miss Farnum will build a bungalow to occupy next Spring.

ORDERED OUT OF THE CITY.

Harry Emulsion and Gustaf A. Arnoldt, both 23 years old, who were arrested in the Waban district, upon suspicion of having attempted to break into a house at Brookline, were exonerated from suspicion in court here Saturday.

Brookline police questioned the men and it was determined that the prisoners had nothing to do with the attempted burglary in the neighboring town.

They were found guilty, however, of being idle and having no visible lawful means of support, and the cases were continued three weeks in order that they might leave this city, which Judge Kennedy ordered them to do. He told them that if they did not wish to attract suspicion they should secure work.

CITY HALL NOTES.

During the absence of Mayor Hutchinson the acting mayor is Thomas Weston, Jr., chairman of the board of aldermen. Mayor Hutchinson began his vacation on Monday, going to Casco Bay.

Miss Gertrude Bourne of the city clerk's office began her vacation Monday. She is at Bustin's Island, Me. for a fortnight.

City Clerk Isaac F. Kingsbury returned to his duties on Monday, after a most enjoyable vacation of two weeks spent at North Perry, Me., where he passes part of each summer.

Paymaster Braman of the treasurer's office left Monday for a fortnight's vacation at Monhegan, Me., which, by the way, is rapidly becoming a favorite vacation spot for city hall officials in the past few seasons.

Alfred M. Russell, agent of the board of health, returned on Saturday to his duties after an enjoyable sojourn of two weeks at Cottage City. William J. Hambleton, inspector in the health department, began his vacation this week. He is at Friendship, Me., with his family.

THE SAME.

A pertinent story, worthy of repetition, is that of a woman who entered a bar-room one stormy night and advanced quietly to where her husband sat drinking with three other men. She placed a covered dish on the table before him and said: "Thinking you'd be too busy to come home to supper, Jack, I fetched it to you here." After she had departed the man laughingly invited his friends to share the meal. When he removed the cover, he found the dish empty save for a slip of paper which read: "Here's hoping you'll enjoy your supper. It's the same as your wife and children are having at home."

DRUG CLERK FINED $150.

Walter G. Colligan, 33, clerk in the store of a West Newton druggist, was fined $150 in the police court Monday on charges of making two illegal sales of liquor.

The police alleged that on Aug. 11 and 12 he sold gin to a West Newton man without having the purchaser sign for the liquor. The case was heard by Judge Luce of Waltham, who was on the bench in the absence of Judge Kennedy. The fine was paid.

"Too much sun would wither thee, 'Twill shine again;

The clouds are very thick, 'tis true; But just behind them smiles the blue! Art thou weary, tender heart?

Be glad of pain;

In sorrow sweetest things will grow

As flowers in rain.

God watches and thou wilt have sun When clouds their perfect work have done."

THEATRES

Kelth's Theatre—While Hermann The Great lived he was the master magician of his time and the only person with whom he shared his secrets was his wife. Hermann was always devising something new, something startling, and at the time of his death had partly worked out several illusions which he fully expected would surpass anything he had previously produced. His widow has been working on these ever since and is now ready to show them to the public. The first presentation will be made at Kelth's Theatre during the week of August 23rd. Mme. Hermann has appeared in public before and is herself a remarkable magician, so that unusual interest will be attached to the demonstrations that she is to make in Boston. The Fadettes will give their fifth week of popular concerts, and the vaudeville bill announced is of the usual high order. It will mark the return after a number of years of Fred Hallen and Maude Fuller, who will appear in a new sketch "The Lesson at 11 P. M." The Kitabanza Troupe of Japanese acrobats, who are said to be the favorites of the Mikado, are also on the bill. Those clever German comedians, Raymond and Caverly will also be heard. Others are Tom Dempsey, the story teller, Hallen and Hayes in a singing and dancing act, and others.

Orpheum Theatre—As might be expected Manager Lindsay Morison has decided to hold the great New England play "Quincy Adams Sawyer" over next week. The enormous success attending the production this present week fully justified Mr. Morison's strenuous efforts to get the play released for stock. No more thorough presentation of "Quincy Adams Sawyer" has ever been seen on any stage. All the original scenery and properties used in the big production at the Boston Theatre four years ago are being used at the Orpheum Theatre and four of the principal characters in the piece are being portrayed by those who played them in the original. As "Quincy Adams Sawyer" Howell Hansel, the popular leading man of the company is doing himself proud and as the blind girl Alice, Miss Bruns gives a portrayal that wins the entire sympathy of the audiences. The other members of the Morison stock company are congenially cast and the piece runs just as smoothly as if it had been played by this company for a whole season.

Norumbega Park—Norumbega Park starts off its vaudeville program for the coming week in the open air theatre with another of its European importations which for several weeks now have formed such an important feature of stage bills. This time it is the Abdallah-All Troupe of Arabian Acrobats, said to be absolutely unequalled in the amazing feats which they accomplish. These seven whirling sons of the desert execute astounding feats with lightning rapidity and skill. Equally strong, although in quite a different way, will be the "Jolly Two", McNish and Penfold. Lola Merrill and Frank Otto, the musical comedy favorites, will be seen in the jolly little playlet, "After the Shower", by Louis Wesley. As an encore they render a new song written especially for them, entitled "A Bowery Swell". Mr. and Mrs. Murray Ferguson will be seen in their real travesty called "Classic Frivolities". They are the originators of the pantaloone skirts. The Reed Brothers will offer their capital comedy aerial gymnastic act, and the Komograph will show some new motion pictures.

THE GLOUCESTER WATER TRIP

For a hot day's outing there is nothing more enjoyable and exhilarating than a North shore trip to Gloucester by one of the Boston & Gloucester steamship boats. "It is the real thing." The boats leave Central wharf, foot of State street, week days at 10 A. M. and 2 P. M., and leave Gloucester at 3 A. M. and 2.15 P. M. The Sunday boat leaves Boston at 10.15 A. M.

GRAND UNION FIELD DAY ASSOCIATION.

The fourth field day of the Odd Fellows of Massachusetts, to be held at the Point of Pines, Revere, on Saturday August 28th, gives promise of surpassing the event of last year which was the largest of its kind ever held. From present indications the attendance will reach 20,000 people, composed of local Odd Fellows, visiting members of the order, their wives, families and friends.

Delegates from lodges in every state in the Union are sending in word that they will be present at this great celebration of the order. Although this field day is nominally given under the auspices of the Odd Fellows of Massachusetts, many lodges, encampments Cantons and Rebekahs will come together on this day at the Point of Pines from all points in the United States.

This invitation includes the general public as well as the members of the different branches of the order, and has been spread throughout the land. The thought of a man on the Pacific Coast receiving an invitation to come and partake in festivities near Boston and not only that but to meet Odd Fellows from every Section, shows that railroad mileage does not count in comparison with the size of the order and its bonds of good fellowship. Grand Master Collett has by Proclamation decided Saturday August 28, 1909, as Odd Fellows Field Day throughout the state.

The Grand Sire and all the Grand Masters from New England States have received invitations to become guests for the day.

A grand display of fire-works with many new and novel features, has been provided for by the Committee on fire-works. The features will be set pieces of emblems of the order, etc.

Arrangements have been made with the management of the new-up-to-date Hotel Point of Pines to serve a special grand shore dinner. The Committee have also made ample arrangements to serve light luncheon to those not desiring full dinner.

General Edgar H. Emerson will have charge of the dancing pavilion. His experience as master of dancing academies and as manager of the popular dancing pavilion at Paragon Park, Nantasket, and the popular Emerson's Saturday evening dances, Boston, promises to make this part of the day a success.

The chairman of the Committee on band and orchestra, has procured the services of the leading bands of Massachusetts.

This gala day will commence at 10 A. M. and continue until 10 P. M. All trains will stop at the Point of Pines between these hours.

A Red Cross hospital with a staff of nurses, physicians and attendants will be established on the grounds to administer to the over fatigued and be prepared for any emergency.

Up-to-date, over one hundred lodges have accepted the invitation to come in a body and there will be thousands of friends outside the order who will accompany them in order to take advantage of this wonderful occasion.

Visitors, especially from a distance will be received in newly fitted up quarters. Mothers and children will be given special attention. Basket parties will find good accommodations. There will be a dress parade, exhibition and competitive drill by the Canton branch of the order, and the degree of chivalry conferred on a number of the sisters of the order.

Over $50,000 has been expended this year on the improvements of the building and grounds. As such a crowd is expected this year, great preparations have to be made to satisfy this festive gathering and suitable decorations are being completed.

The Executive Committee of the Field Day Association are as follows: President, William W. Schofield; Recording Secretary, John E. Crook; Treasurer, Eben P. Rowe; First Vice President, Warren H. Morgan; N. I. Southwick ex. President and Arthur J. Toole advertising and press; Norman C. Reed printing; Fred E. Fletcher and John L. Howard, Cantons.

panied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be

With the Republican primaries only four weeks away Newton citizens are showing their usual lack of interest in things political. With no contests whatever in sight save for the representative nominations, this might be expected, save for the fact that this year the people of Newton have an unusual opportunity to select splendid men to serve them in the State House.

The situation is evidently developing as outlined in the Graphic several weeks ago—a feeling that Messrs Ellis and Bothfeld will be practically unopposed, with Alderman White and Mr. Pulsifer making a contest for the third nomination. This is undoubtedly the correct view to take as Messrs
Ellis and Bothfeld were not candidates of their own volition, having consented to stand only after persistent urging by some of our leading citizens.

Under these circumstances, their nomination should be a matter of course and of congratulation that men of their well known ability should be willing to give their time and service to the public. On the other hand, Messrs White and Pulsifer are candidates because they want the office and are therefore not in the same class as Messrs Ellis and Bothfeld.
It will be difficult to make a choice for third place between Mr. White and Mr. Pulsifer. Both have had experience in public affairs. Mr. White as a member of the board of aldermen and Mr. Pulsifer as a member of the board of health and as treasurer of the Newton Hospital. While Mr. Pulsifer has probably had a wider experience with men and affairs than
Mr. White, the feeling that the south side should have a representation will operate to favor Mr. White. It will probably be a close fight between these gentlemen for the honor.

The resignation of general manager
M. C. Brush of the local street railway system is a cause of deep regret to his many friends in this city, notwithstanding the decided compensation paid to his ability by the tender of his new position. During the few years Mr. Brush has been in authority in this city he has vastly increased the efficiency of the railway service and, considering the financial limitations under which he has labored,
the results achieved have been extraordinary. Coming to Newton at a period of public irritation at the street railway service, Mr. Brush by his genial personality, and splendid executive ability, has completely gained the public confidence. His relations with the 700 employees of the road have also been marked with a cordiality well worthy of comment,
and he has a reputation for fair treatment which has given him the name of "Square Deal Brush" among his subordinates.

Mr. Brush will leave Newton with the best wishes of his friends and business associates, who confidently predict an unqualified success for him in his new position.

The inauguration this week of the new Twentieth Century express between Boston and New York calls flattering attention to the complete change in public sentiment toward the Boston & Albany Railroad. This change is almost entirely due to the executive ability of Mr. J. H. Hustis, the assistant general manager, and a resident of Newton. It is hardly conceivable that only three short years ago the service was so execrable as to call forth bitter comments from patrons and action by the railroad commission of the state. Now it frequently happens that the train records show a record of 100 per cent in efficiency and the service is even better than in the so called good old days when the B. & A. was an independent company. Mr. Hustis has made good and Newton is glad to claim him as a citizen.

Newton taxpayers are to be congratulated on the fact that in the face of large increases in city appropriations and a heavy loss in corporation taxes, the assessors are able to keep the tax rate at the same figure as in

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Mr. E. Ray Speare of Newton Centre has given two tennis cups one for ladies and one for gentlemen. These cups will be known as the "Playground and Social Service League" cups and the holder of these cups will be decided by tournaments to be played the first part of September. The winners of the tournaments to have possession of the cups until the following September and to have their names engraved upon the cups. Any person winning three legs on the cups will have permanent possession. The ladies tournament is open to anyone who has been a resident of Newton Centre since Jan. 1, 1909.

The gentlemen's tournament is open to anyone who has been a resident of Newton Centre since Jan. 1, 1909 and who is under 20 years of age. All entries should be made with Wm. N. Howard, play ground director. An entrance fee of 25 cents will be charged which will be spent for balls for the tournaments. All entries will close Sept. 4, 1909.

NEWTON FIELD DAY.

A track championship event open to any registered amateur athlete residing in the city of Newton will be held on the Newton Centre Play-ground, on Labor Day, September 6th. Three valuable cups will be awarded to the persons making the three highest number of points, in these events, 100 yards dash, one mile run, running high jump, running broad jump, and 12 lb shot put. First place in each event will count 5 points, second place, 4 points, third place, 3 points, fourth place 2 points and fifth place 1 point. The entrance fee for all the events will be 25 cents each person.

On the same day a series of events open to boys of Newton under 15 years of age will be held on the Newton Centre Playground. The events will be 200 yards dash, running high jump and running broad jump. The entrance fee will be five cents for each event.

Entries for either of these meets must be filed with Mr. W. N. Howard Physical Director of the Playground on or before Sept. 4th.

Y. M. C. A. NEWS.

The baseball enthusiasts of this vicinity have been treated to first class playing by the Association team and its opponents. August 7th the team playing the strong Ironquols Club of Lynn and after nine innings of the fastest kind of playing the home team won by the score of 6 to 4. The pitching of Thomas was a feature also the catching of Falvy who by his accurate throwing aided very much in winning the game.

On August 14th the supporters of the local team were again treated to a great game lasting eleven innings before the winner was settled, the final score being 7 to 6. Frank Belding the High School south paw made his first appearance this season with the Association team and pitched a very steady game keeping the hits well scattered. The excellent work of John Hines at short stop brought forth repeated applause from the fans, the batting of Capt. Loneragan and Halliday were also features. Green who had been playing right field and had been very weak at the bat gave way to Charlie Newcomb the local express man, he has a reputation of being a heavy hitter, and was put in as a pinch hitter, he got on first base but the batters following him failed to score him. The association team has struck a fast gait, and is furnishing some good baseball.

The team expects to play the strong Cambridgeport team next Saturday. The shower rooms are being thoroughly cleaned and have been painted throughout with white enamel.

MISS JOYCE DEAD.

Miss Catherine A. Joyce the daughter of the late John and Bridget Joyce, died quite suddenly last Saturday from heart trouble. Miss Joyce was a native of Newton and attended its public schools. For many years she was an esteemed and valued member of the staff of the Newton Graphic, leaving several months ago on account of ill health. She is survived by three sisters, Mrs. James H. Flanagan of Lincoln road, Mrs. Edward Smith of Morse street, Miss Della Joyce of Thornton street and one brother, Mr. John T. Joyce of this city.

Funeral services were held Monday high mass being celebrated at the Church of Our Lady at nine o'clock. Rev. Michael Dolan PR being the celebrant, Rev. James F. Kelly, deacon and Rev. Chas. J. Galligan of West Newton, sub deacon. There were many boral offerings.

SHARPSHOOTERS MEET.

Mr. Martin C. Laffie of Carleton street will attend the 36th annual encampment of Berdan's Veteran U. S. Sharpshooters at the Weirs, N. H., next week leaving on Tuesday.

The 1st Berdan sharpshooters were organized in New York, with Cos. C, I and K coming from Michigan, E from New Hampshire, F from Vermont, and G from Wisconsin. This was in August, 1861. The men were selected with great care, and all had to be qualified marksmen. The organization was under the special authority of the War Department, with Hiram Berdan as Colonel. The regiment first attracted notice at the siege of Yorktown, where, with their telescope rifles, they silenced the enemy's guns. Later the regiment was supplied with fine rifles, manufactured expressly for them by Sharp. The regiment was incorporated in the Third Corps, and later transferred to the Second. At Chancellorsville the regiment distinguished itself by capturing the 23d Ga.

The regiment won a place among the fighting class by a loss of 153 killed out of a total enrolment of 1,392. Hiram Berdan was the first colonel, and Lieut-Col. Casper Tripp was killed at Mine Run. In 1864 the regiment was broken up, with the companies transferred to other regiments.

PLAYGROUND NOTES.

The announcement that Mr. E. Ray Speare has offered challenge cups for September tennis tournaments for both boys and girls has aroused great interest among those that are using the new tennis courts, and keen competition is bound to result.

Manager King of the N. C. C. A. ball team has arranged for a series of games with the West Newton team. The first game was played here on Saturday, the 7th, Newton Centre winning 5 to 4; the second will be played this week in West Newton, and it is hoped to have the third here later in the month. Such a game would be keenly anticipated by the three hundred people who watched the home team's wonderful eighth inning two weeks ago. With bases full, two out and two strikes called against him, Barry placed a beautiful low drive over first baseman's head scoring the needed three runs. The steadiness of Gaw prevented West Newton from tying in the ninth.

The new bubbling fountain which the city has placed on the playground is an admirable addition to the equipment, the cement construction has an air of permanency that is pleasing. Good construction, too, marks the new see-saws. Did anyone ever see sturdier looking teeters? Last Saturday the four of them were supplying enjoyment to fourteen young citizens at one time.

NOTES OF LOCAL SPORTS.

In a game which went 11 innings Newton Y. M. C. A. defeated Atlantic A. C. of Dorchester, 7 to 6, on Cabot park diamond on Saturday afternoon. One run scored by the association players in the eighth tied up the score, and for three innings neither side was able to score again, until Newton finally got a man home. Features were the playing of Hinds at short and the allround work of Loneragan. The visitors hit well. Newton made six hits and one error, and Atlantic made 12 hits and three errors. Belding and Loneragan were the battery for the winners; Snow and Nixon for the losers.

Karl Mosser, the Brae Burn player, won the championship of Maine in golf at the Country club course in Portland on Saturday, when his playing won the admiration of a big gallery of spectators. In the final round he beat Forrest, 9 and 7, over 36 holes. Mosser is only 20 years old.

POLICE NOTES.

Thomas Williams, aged 61, who said that he had no home, walked into police headquarters Tuesday and said that he wished to be taken care of. He was detained on a charge of vagrancy. In court he said that he had saved up $68 and gone to Boston several weeks ago, had become intoxicated and spent all his money and wished to be sent away until he could get straightened out. He was given 25 days in the house of correction. "Thank you," said he when Clerk Wales read the sentence.

Five boys ranging in ages from 9 to 13 appeared in a juvenile session of the police court Wednesday on charges of having stoned Boston & Albany railroad trains. They were placed on probation until Nov. 27. For some months there have been frequent complaints of passenger trains on the main line through this city being stoned, and several times passengers have been injured by glass from the broken windows.

Trouble over a key to a store room in the Brae Burn Country clubhouse resulted in a fine of $10 being paid by Florian A. Gytis, chief of the club, for assault and battery upon Miss Florence A. McCarthy, an employee, in court Wednesday. Miss McCarthy, who has charge of the store room in the clubhouse, testified that Gytis demanded the key to the room from her. When she refused the request, she said, he seized her by the arm and threw her against a radiator, causing bruises and discoloring to her body. The chief pleaded guilty to assault, but said that he had charge of Miss McCarthy's work and simply took hold of her arm when she turned her back upon him. He sent to the clubhouse for money with which to pay the fine.

Boston Elevated

The New Line to
MIDDLESEX FELS
Is Now in Use

Middlesex Fells, forest clad and verdant, with its craggy heights and moss grown dells where cool breezes and refreshing shade are found, may now for the first time, be reached by our cars, which run through the heart of this magnificent reservation whose sylvan charms have been developed by the hand of man.

For those who delight in being close to nature, for those to whom the picturesque makes strong appeal, for all who wish to escape from the heat and confusion of the city, the Fells has many attractions. Here one may ride for miles, or walk for hours through a great tract of woodland, broken by occasional stretches of grass carpeted lawns. Winding paths, and roadways present charming pictures at every turn.

Broad sheets of water sparkle in the sunlight. Macid pools mirror the bordering trees, shrubs and plants. Streams, arched with overhanging branches, ripple among moss grown stones. Countless birds make music in the tree tops. Squirrels, rabbits and other harmless wild things scurry in the underbrush. The growth, life and activities of a primitive wilderness are upon every hand.

This resort is now accessible by our cars to the residents of the twelve cities and towns in which this Company operates.

"1892" Pure Spun Aluminum Ware

15 Days at Our Risk

Buy any piece of this ware from your dealer—try it fifteen days. If in that time you find that all the claims we make for it are not true, and if it is not just as represented, take it back and get your money.

Here at last is the ideal kitchen and cooking utensil—"The Ware That Wears"—made from Pure Spun Aluminum, and guaranteed by the makers to last 25 years with average usage. "Spun" Aluminum, mind you, not cast Aluminum, which will sometimes crack and scale. Spun Aluminum Ware will never crack, peel, scale or break.

Enamel ware is iron coated with colored glass. Iron expands with heat. Colored glass does not, but chips off into the food with dangerous results to those who eat it.

"1892" Pure Aluminum Ware Saves Doctors' Bills.

It enables you to bake bread, pies, pancakes, etc., without grease, which is the great cause of dyspepsia and indigestion. Aluminum gridles require no grease; hence are smokeless and odorless.

"1892" Pure Aluminum Ware Will Not Scorch or Burn

—is easily cleaned, will not rust or corrode. Handsome in appearance. Looks like silver, but weighs only about one-fourth as much, and is light and convenient to handle.

The original and only genuine Spun Aluminum Ware is made by the Illinois Pure Aluminum Co. at Lemont, Ill. Every piece bearing their trade-mark, the Maltese Cross, and marked "1892" Pure Aluminum Ware is absolutely pure, wholesome and hygienic—guaranteed for 25 yrs.

See that you get the right goods and accept no substitute.

For Sale by Newton Highlands, Mass.

ENAMEL WARE CAUSES CANCER, SAYS DOCTOR

Tells Homeopaths Particles From Dishes Start Growths in Stomach.

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 11.

INTRODUCTION of modern enamel ware in the kitchen of the country is responsible for many cases of cancer, was the striking theory advanced by Dr. William H. Dieffenbach, of New York, in a paper entitled, "Observations on the Etiology of Cancer," read before the Bureau of Sanitary Science and Public Health, at which leading experts of the International Homeopathic Congress met today to discuss questions of public health.

The argument advanced was that chipping of the hard-coated dishes used in preparation of meals allowed minute but dangerous particles of foreign matter to become mixed with the food. These are taken into the stomach, where the cancerous growth is caused by abrasions which they make in the walls of the organ.

Regulations of the Board of Health of Newton

WHEREAS: The Board of Health of the city of Newton is of opinion that the following regulations are necessary for the public health and safety: now therefore it is—Ordered: That the following regulations be and are hereby adopted and all other regulations previously adopted by this Board of Health are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER I.

PRIVY VAULTS, CESSPOOLS, DRAINS AND SEWERS.

1. Buildings to be provided with suitable privy vault or water closet. No person shall occupy or permit others to occupy any building owned by him, as a dwelling, tenement or lodging-house, unless such building is provided with a suitable water-tight privy vault, or with a water-closet, nor unless every water-closet, sink, set-bowl, slop hopper or like fixture is properly trapped and connected with a water-tight soil pipe of sufficient size to carry off the contents of such water-closet or fixture to a cesspool or sewer. Every building used as a tenement for more than one family shall be provided with at least one privy vault or water closet for each family.

2. All water-closets to be provided with suitable flushing apparatus. Every building occupied or let as a dwelling house and connected with a public or private sewer or cesspool shall be provided with sufficient water-closets, which shall be kept at all times supplied with water by a proper system of pipes running thereto, and maintained in working order; and every building so occupied and connected in which water-closets are not supplied and maintained in accordance with this regulation shall on the order of the Board of Health be forthwith vacated and shall not again be occupied or let as a dwelling until so supplied.

3. Privy vaults and cesspools not to be built without a permit. No person shall build or cause to be built any privy vault or cesspool without permission of the Board of Health, and unless such privy vault or cesspool is constructed in a thorough and substantial manner, lined with stone, brick or other suitable material of sufficient thickness and strength to prevent the walls from falling in, and located so that the inside of the same shall be at least three feet distant from the line of any adjoining lot or street and at least twenty feet distant from the bank of any pond, drain or water course. Every cesspool shall be of sufficient size to contain at least eighty cubic feet, measured from a level, eighteen inches below the surface of the ground, and when not water-tight, shall be at least twenty feet from the outside of the cellar wall of any tenement or dwelling, and thirty feet distant from any well, spring, or any other source of water supply used for culinary or domestic purposes.

4. Privy vaults and cesspools to be kept in proper repair and emptied when required by the Board of Health. The owner or occupant of premises in which there is any private sewer, drain, privy vault or cesspool, shall cause the same to be kept in thorough repair, and every privy vault and cesspool to be emptied and cleansed at least once each year, and at such other times as may be necessary to prevent its becoming offensive, and whenever it is filled to a point within eighteen inches of the surface of the ground, and whenever required by the Board of Health. If the owner or occupant of any tenement or building neglects to empty and cleanse a privy vault or cesspool connected therewith within forty-eight hours after notice to do so, the Board of Health may have the same emptied and cleansed, and have the expense thereof collected from the owner.

5. Privy vaults and cesspools when discontinued to be filled with proper material. The owner or occupant of premises in which there is any privy vault or cesspool, the use of which is discontinued, shall cause the same to be emptied of its contents, and filled with earth, sand, gravel or ashes.

6. Privy vaults and cesspools not to be emptied without permission from the Board of Health. No person shall empty any cesspool or privy vault, or carry or empty any night soil or other offensive matter in any street or near any house except by permission of the Board of Health.

7. Buildings to be connected with the sewer. Every building situated on a public or private street, court or passage way in the city of Newton, in which there is a public sewer, shall be connected with a good and sufficient particular drain with such public sewer when required by the Board of Health.

8. Catch basins to be used in certain cases. No person shall discharge any contents of any privy vault, manure pit, or carriage wash into a sewer except through an intervening catch-basin, the outlet pipe of which shall be high enough above the bottom to prevent any but liquid contents from passing over into the sewer. A sufficient trap shall be placed in every private drain connecting such catch-basin with a sewer.

CHAPTER II.

HOUSES AND PREMISES.

1. Rubbish, etc., to be removed. Every owner and every occupant of any building or premises in or upon which is any dead animal, dirt, saw-dust, soot, ashes, cinders, shavings, hair, manure, paper, oyster, clam or lobster shells, waste or stagnant water, rubbish, or filth of any kind, or any refuse fish, animal, or vegetable matter whatsoever, shall when ordered by the Board of Health remove the same within such time as shall be stated in the order.

2. Manure; how to be used. No owner or occupant of land shall permit decaying animal or vegetable matter, contents of vaults, privies or cesspools to remain thereon for purposes of fertilization without being immediately ploughed in or otherwise rendered inoffensive, but the use of well rotted manure or odorless fertilizers as top dressing for lawns is permitted.

3. Rubbish, etc., not to be thrown in streets, etc. No person without a license from the Board of Health shall throw into or leave in or upon any street, court, square, lane, alley, public enclosure, or any pond, stream or body of water within the limits of the city, any dead animal, dirt, oil, sawdust, soot, ashes, cinders, shavings, hair, manure, paper, oyster, clam, or lobster shells, waste water, rubbish, or filth of any kind, or any refuse, fish, animal or vegetable matter whatsoever.

4. Drainage and filth not to be allowed to run out on the surface of the ground. No owner or occupant of any tenement or building shall permit any sewage, garbage, contents or drainage of a privy vault or cesspool, or sink drain, or other filth, or source of filth of said tenement, building or premises, to empty on the surface of the ground or enter into any drain, brook, stream or pond of water.

CHAPTER III.

GARBAGE AND HOUSE OFFAL.

1. How to be kept. All house offal and refuse animal or vegetable substances shall be placed in suitable water-tight vessels and kept in a place convenient for removal by persons duly authorized by the Board of Health. Such vessels shall be kept covered and not permitted to become offensive.

2. Suitable receptacles to be provided. The owner, agent, or lessee of every building occupied as a dwelling by three or more families shall provide suitable receptacles for ashes, rubbish and garbage, and shall not allow any ashes, rubbish, or garbage to be thrown in or about the yard or premises.

3. House offal and garbage not to be removed without permit. No person unless authorized by the Board of Health shall handle, disturb, or remove the contents of any receptacle for ashes, garbage, or rubbish of any kind placed in yards, passageways, or public or private streets.

CHAPTER IV.

STABLES.

1. Petitions for stables. Every person desiring to erect or occupy a stable in the city of Newton must present a petition therefor to the Board of Health, said petition to be made out in form prescribed by the Board. A copy of the plan of the proposed building must accompany the petition.

2. Construction of stables. Every stable hereafter constructed in this city shall be provided with a suitable water-tight manure pit. The stable shall be properly ventilated; the gutters and wash stand properly connected with the sewer, unless otherwise allowed by the Board of Health, and the whole built in a manner satisfactory to the Board of Health.

3. Manure not to be allowed to accumulate. No owner or occupant of a stable shall allow quantities of manure exceeding two cords to accumulate in or near said stable, and no manure shall be allowed to accumulate or remain uncovered outside of a stable building.

4. Manner of removing manure. No person shall remove or carry any manure through any public or private street except in a tight covered vehicle and in such a manner that said manure shall not be dropped on the street.

5. Manure pits to be protected against flies. Every manure pit shall be so built as to prevent the entrance of flies.

6. Gutters and runways to be kept clean. All gutters, stalls, runways and floors shall be kept clean and free from accumulations of manure, and shall be treated with chloride of lime or other suitable disinfectant at least once in every ten days.

7. Permits revocable. Every permit granted for the occupation of a stable may be revoked at any time when it shall appear to the Board of Health that such revocation is necessary for the public health and safety or that the conditions of the permit have been violated.

CHAPTER V.

COLLECTING GREASE.

1. Permit for. No person shall remove from any dwelling house or other place any grease, or refuse fatty matter without first obtaining a permit so to do from the Board of Health.

CHAPTER VI.

COMMUNICABLE DISEASES.

1. Diseases dangerous to the public health. The diseases known as actinomycosis, Asiatic cholera, cerebro-spinal meningitis, diphtheria, glanders, leprosy, malignant pustule, measles, ophthalmia neonatorum, scarlet fever, small pox, trachoma, trichinosis, tuberculosis, typhoid fever, typhus fever, varicella, whooping cough and yellow fever are hereby declared to be communicable diseases and as such dangerous to the public health.

2. Physicians to give notice. When a physician knows that a person whom he has been called to visit is sick with a disease dangerous to the public health, he shall give notice thereof in writing over his own signature to the Board of Health, within twenty-four hours.

3. Householders to give notice. When a householder knows that a person within his family or house is sick with a disease dangerous to the public health he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Board of Health. In cases where a physician has been called in, the notification of the physician will be accepted in place of that of the householder.

4. Persons not to attend public schools. No person who is ill with a disease dangerous to the public health, or any occupant of a dwelling in which a person is ill as aforesaid, shall attend any public school during such illness until the teacher of the school has been furnished with a certificate from the Board of Health, or from the attending physician of such person, stating that the danger of conveying such disease by such person has passed.

5. Isolation of sick persons. Whoever is infected with small pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, cerebro-spinal meningitis, leprosy, yellow fever, typhus fever or Asiatic cholera shall immediately be moved to some hospital set apart for the treatment of such diseases, or to some isolated place or room designated by the Board of Health, and no person who has been so infected shall leave such hospital or room until the Board of Health shall certify that all danger of communicating such disease to others has passed.

6. Dwellings to be labelled. Every house in which a case of small pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, cerebro-spinal meningitis, leprosy, yellow fever, typhus fever or Asiatic cholera shall occur shall be labelled with a card bearing the name of the disease in such form and manner as may be determined by the Board of Health, and such placard shall not be removed except by a duly authorized agent of the Board of Health.

7. Label not to be removed. No person shall, without permission from the Board of Health, remove from any dwelling any such card affixed thereto by authority of said Board, nor shall any person obliterate or deface such card, nor shall the occupant of the dwelling permit such card to be removed, obliterated or defaced, and he shall immediately notify the Board of Health of the removal, obliteration or defacement of such card.

8. Persons not to enter labelled dwellings. No person, except the immediate family, physicians, nurses and undertakers, and such persons as may be needed to supply the inmates with the necessities of life, shall enter or be permitted by the occupant to enter any house which has been labelled as aforesaid.

9. Property not to be removed, nor residence changed. No person in whose dwelling there shall occur a case of small pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, cerebro-spinal meningitis, leprosy, yellow fever, typhus fever or Asiatic cholera, shall, until instructions are received from the Board of Health, permit any clothing or other article that may have been exposed to infection to be removed from the house, nor shall any occupant of such dwelling take up a residence elsewhere without the consent of the Board of Health, nor shall any book from a circulating or public library be taken into such house until the card has been duly removed.

10. Persons not to enter room in which sick person is. No person other than the attending physician, nurse, attendant or a duly authorized agent of the Board of Health shall enter, nor shall any dog, cat or other animal be allowed to enter, any apartment or other place set apart for the treatment of small pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, cerebro-spinal meningitis, leprosy, yellow fever, typhus fever or Asiatic cholera until the Board of Health shall certify that said apartment or place has been satisfactorily disinfected.

11. Persons not to leave such room without permission. No person having the care of any other person who has been infected with small pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, cerebro-spinal meningitis, leprosy, yellow fever, typhus fever, or Asiatic cholera shall advise or permit such other person to leave any place designated by the Board of Health as a place of isolation of such infected person before said Board of Health shall have certified that such person can leave such designated place without danger to others.

12. Physicians not to permit persons to leave sick room. No physician who has been in attendance upon any person who has been infected with small pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, cerebro-spinal meningitis, leprosy, yellow fever, typhus fever, or Asiatic cholera shall advise or knowingly permit such person to leave any place designated by the Board of Health as a place of isolation of such infected person until he has given notice in writing of the recovery of such person and until said Board of Health shall have certified that such infected person can leave such place without danger to others.

13. Funerals of persons dying of communicable diseases. Any person having charge of the body of a person who has died of small pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, measles, cerebro-spinal meningitis, leprosy, yellow fever, typhus fever, Asiatic cholera or tuberculosis shall cause such body to be washed in a solution of corrosive sublimate of the strength of 2 drachms to 1 gallon of water, and to be completely wrapped in a sheet saturated with a solution of corrosive sublimate of the same strength, and immediately placed in a coffin or casket, which shall be securely fastened and the lid thereof sealed in two places with sealing wax, and said lid shall not be opened by any person thereafter without written permission of the Board of Health.

The funeral shall take place in accordance with the following instructions: no public funeral shall be held; the burial shall take place within 24 hours from the time of death unless further time be allowed by the Board of Health; no person except members of the immediate family of the deceased and those whose business calls them there shall be permitted to attend the funeral; no draperies shall be used; no public carriage shall be used for conveying the body unless the same shall be afterwards disinfected under the direction of the Board of Health. If placed in a receiving tomb, the body shall be enclosed in an hermetically sealed casket.

Every undertaker or person acting as such shall notify the Board of Health upon receiving notice of a death from any of the above diseases, and before receiving a permit for the removal or burial of such body shall certify that the instructions of the Board of Health have been complied with.

15. Public carriages not to be used to convey patient or body. No owner, driver, or other person having charge of any hackney carriage or other vehicle used as a public conveyance shall receive, or permit to be placed, or convey in any manner, in or upon such carriage or vehicle, any person sick with small pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, cerebro-spinal meningitis, leprosy, measles, yellow fever, typhus fever, or Asiatic cholera, or the body of any person who has died of either of said diseases except by written consent of the Board of Health and under such conditions as it may prescribe.

16. Release from quarantine. No person who has been sick with diphtheria shall be released from quarantine until the result of two consecutive cultures, the last of which shall be taken under the direction of the Board of Health, has shown that said person is free from disease.

Cultures from nose and throat may be required if the Board of Health shall deem it advisable. Cultures for release from quarantine shall be examined at the laboratory maintained by the Board of Health unless permission is granted to have the examination made elsewhere.

If positive cultures persist, the patient may be released from quarantine when the Board of Health is satisfied by inoculation experiments or otherwise that the bacilli are non-virulent.

A physician or other person having in his care a person suffering with scarlet fever shall report to the Board of Health in writing when such patient is, in his opinion, free from the disease. The Board shall then cause such patient to be examined and shall release such patient from quarantine when, in its opinion, he is free from contagion.

The time and method of release of a person suffering with small pox, cerebro-spinal meningitis, leprosy, yellow fever, tuberculosis, typhus fever or Asiatic cholera, shall be determined by the Board of Health.

The time and method of release of a patient suffering with actinomycosis, glanders, malignant pustule, measles, ophthalmia, neonatorum, tetanus, trachoma, trichinosis, typhoid fever, varicella or whooping cough shall be determined by the attending physician of such person, who shall immediately notify the Board of Health in writing of such release.

17. Disinfection. When a person who has been sick with small pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, tuberculosis, cerebro-spinal meningitis, leprosy, yellow fever, typhus fever or Asiatic cholera has been removed to a hospital, has recovered or died, the Board of Health shall proceed to disinfect the building in such manner as it shall deem proper. All bedding and personal clothing or property exposed to infection by any of said diseases shall be at once properly cleansed, disinfected, or destroyed, as the Board of Health may direct. No person, except members of the immediate family of the sick person, and those whose business calls them there, shall enter such building until after disinfection.

18. Persons with tuberculosis not to change residence without notifying the Board of Health. No person suffering with tuberculosis shall change his residence from one dwelling to another within the limits of the city, without giving immediate notice to the Board of Health of such change of residence.

Every physician or other person, having in his care a person suffering with tuberculosis, shall immediately notify the Board of Health in writing of any change of residence within the city limits, or of the removal from the city of such person.

19. Infected persons or articles not to be brought into the city. No person shall bring or cause to be brought within the limits of the city any person or article liable to propagate a dangerous disease, except by permission of the Board of Health and in such manner as it shall direct. Whenever it shall appear to any person that this provision has been violated, he shall give immediate notice to that effect to the Board of Health, specifying the location of such person or article.

20. Persons who have recovered from a communicable disease not to attend school without a permit. No person who has recovered from a disease dangerous to the public health shall be permitted to attend any public school in the city until he has presented a written permit from the Board of Health certifying that it is safe for him to return to school.

21. Vaccination. No unvaccinated child shall be permitted to attend any public school in the city, except upon presentation of a certificate granted for cause stated therein, signed by a regular practicing physician that he is an unfit subject for vaccination.

Certificates of unfitness for vaccination must bear a date not later than one year previous to presentation.

CHAPTER VII.

GOATS, SWINE, CATTLE AND LIVE FOWL.

1. Goats and swine. No person shall be permitted to keep any goat or swine without a permit from the Board of Health, and unless they are kept in a manner satisfactory to said Board.

2. Live fowl and cattle. No person shall keep any live fowl or cattle without a permit from the Board of Health. Every person keeping live fowl or cattle shall cause the place where they are kept to be well ventilated and drained and kept in a cleanly condition.

3. Live fowl not to be kept in dwelling. No person shall keep any live fowl in any building used as a dwelling.

4. Permits revocable. All permits granted for the keeping of goats, swine, live fowl or cattle may be revoked at any time when it shall appear to the Board of Health that such revocation is necessary for the public health and safety or that the conditions of the permit have been violated.

CHAPTER VIII.

BARBER SHOPS.

1. To be kept in cleanly condition, etc. Every barber shop and the furniture and utensils therein shall be kept at all times in a cleanly condition. Mugs, shaving brushes and razors shall be cleaned by immersion in boiling water after every separate use thereof. A separate clean towel shall be used for each person. Alum or other material used to stop the flow of blood shall be so used only in powdered form and applied on a towel. The use of powder puffs and sponges is prohibited. Every barber shop shall be provided with running hot and cold water. No person shall be allowed to use any barber shop as a dormitory. Every barber shall cleanse his hands thoroughly immediately after serving each customer. A copy of these regulations shall be conspicuously displayed in every barber shop in the city.

CHAPTER IX.

PRODUCTION, SALE AND CARE OF MILK.

1. No person to engage in the milk business without a license. No person, partnership or corporation except a producer selling milk to other than a consumer, or whose output to consumers does not exceed 20 quarts daily, shall engage in the business of producing milk for sale, or in the sale or distribution of milk, skimmed milk or cream in the City of Newton, without a license so to do under these regulations and such other regulations as the Board of Health may hereafter impose; and such license may be revoked if the licensee fails to comply with the conditions of his license or the regulations of the Board of Health.

2. Application for milk license. Every person, partnership or corporation, except a producer selling milk to other than a consumer, or whose output to consumers does not exceed 20 quarts daily, engaged in the business of producing milk for sale or in the sale or distribution of milk, skimmed milk or cream in the City of Newton, shall annually before the first day of June make written application to the inspector of milk for a license.

3. Licenses not to be transferred. A license issued to any person, partnership or corporation under these regulations shall be conclusive evidence of ownership and shall not be sold, assigned or transferred.

4. License to be displayed. Every person, partnership or corporation having a license to sell, deliver or distribute milk in the City of Newton under these regulations, shall keep a copy constantly posted in a conspicuous place on the premises, and every licensee using a carriage or other vehicle for the delivery of milk for sale in the city shall have his name, license number and place of business legibly placed in letters and figures not less than one and one half inches high, on each outer side of such carriage or vehicle.

5. Conditions under which cows must be kept. The conditions under which every cow is kept, whose milk is brought into the city of Newton, or delivered, distributed, sold or offered for sale in said city, shall be satisfactory to the Board of Health. No privy or watercloset shall be allowed in any building where cows are kept; no horses shall be kept in the same building unless completely separated from the cows by a partition, nor shall any swine be kept in or under any cow stable; nor shall horse manure be used as bedding or in the gutters. At least 400 cubic feet of air space shall be allowed for each cow.

No milk except that derived from a cow kept under conditions satisfactory to the Board of Health shall be brought into, delivered, distributed, sold or offered for sale in the city of Newton.

6. Milk to be handled in proper place. No milk intended for sale shall be stored, strained, cooled or mixed in any room used for sleeping purposes or for the stabling of horses, cattle or other animals, or for the storage of manure, offal or other offensive matter.

7. Milk rooms to be properly constructed. Every room in which milk is stored, cooled or mixed shall be provided with tight walls and floor and kept constantly clean. The doors and windows shall be properly screened to prevent the entrance of flies. Proper apparatus shall be provided for washing or sterilizing all utensils used in handling milk, and such utensils shall be thoroughly washed with boiling water or sterilized by steam after being used. No urinal, watercloset or privy vault shall be located in a room used for storing, cooling or mixing milk or so situated as to pollute the atmosphere of such room.

8. Milk to be cooled at once. All milk produced for the purpose of sale shall be strained and cooled as soon as it is drawn from the cow.

9. Milk, how to be stored. Milk kept for sale in any store, shop, restaurant, market, bakery or elsewhere shall at all times register a temperature of not higher than 50 degrees Fahrenheit, and shall be stored in a covered cooler, box or refrigerator. No vessel containing milk for sale shall be allowed to stand outside of such cooler, box or refrigerator, except while a sale is being made. Every can, bottle or other vessel of any sort, used in the sale or handling of milk shall be cleaned or sterilized before it is used again for the same purpose.

10. Refrigerators to be kept clean, etc. Every cooler, box, or refrigerator used for the storing of milk for sale shall be properly drained and cared for and shall be kept in such location and under such conditions as shall be satisfactory to the Board of Health.

11. Vessels used for milk not to be used for other purposes. No vessel used for holding or conveying milk intended for sale shall at anytime be used for holding or conveying any other substance whatsoever.

12. Wagons to be kept clean. All wagons or other vehicles used in the conveyance of milk for sale or distribution shall be kept in a cleanly condition and free from offensive odors.

13. Temperature of milk for sale. No person shall sell or deliver or have in his possession with intent to sell or deliver, any milk of a temperature exceeding 50 degrees Fahrenheit.

14. Communicable diseases in persons engaged in handling milk. Every person engaged in the production, storage, transportation, sale, delivery or distribution of milk, on the occurrence of any case of any disease dangerous to the public health, either in himself, or in his family, or among his employees, or within the building or premises where milk is stored, sold or distributed, shall immediately notify the Board of Health. No person having any disease dangerous to the public health or having recently been in contact with a person having such disease, or having been in any house where such disease exists, shall milk or handle any cow used for producing milk intended for sale, or handle any vessel used for such milk, or in any way take part or assist in handling such milk until the Board of Health shall certify that it is safe for him so to do. No bottle, can or receptacle for the reception of milk shall be removed from any tenement or dwelling wherein any person has any disease dangerous to the public health, except with the consent of the Board of Health.

15. Swine not to be kept. No swine shall be kept in or under any building used for the production, handling or storing of milk intended for sale.

CHAPTER X.

MEDICAL AND SURGICAL APPLIANCES IN FACTORIES.

1. Every person, firm or corporation operating a factory or shop where machinery is used for any manufacturing purpose or for any other purpose except for elevators or for heating or hoisting apparatus, shall at all times keep and maintain free of expense to the employees, a full set of the following articles, the same to be kept in a suitable dust-proof case.

Absorbent cotton, in small packages.
Absorbent gauze, in small packages.
Adhesive plaster, 1 in. wide, one 10yd. spool.
Bandages, (cotton) 2 to 2½ in. wide.
Bandages, (gauze) assorted.

One pair dull-pointed scissors.
One pair sharp-pointed forceps.
One tourniquet.
Four ounces Creolin, Lysol or Camphenol, with large empty bottle for making solution.
Jar carbolyzed vaseline.
Brandy ½ pint.
Splints, Four strips 30in x 4in x 3-16in.

CHAPTER XI.

SPITTOONS IN FACTORIES.

1. Spittoons. The Board of Health hereby recommends the following as a spittoon for factories in accordance with Sect. 2, Chap.

503 of the Acts of 1907: The spittoon to be of metal or hard glazed pottery or of such other non-absorbent material as may be satisfactory to the Board of Health, with sides not less than 3½ inches high and with an opening not less than 5 inches in diameter.

2. Number. The number of spittoons required shall be determined for each factory individually but shall not be less than one for every six male and one for every twenty female employees.

CHAPTER XII.

MEDICAL INSPECTION OF SCHOOLS.

1. Inspection. The Schools of the City shall be inspected medically under the direction of the Board of Health, in a manner to conform with the requirements of the law, and the regulations of the Board of Health.

2. Medical Inspectors to act as agents. The Medical inspectors of schools are hereby made agents of the Board of Health for the purpose of compelling the observance of its requirements and are given the powers necessary to enforce their authority.

CHAPTER XIII.

HAWKERS AND PEDDLARS.

1. Must be licensed by the Board of Health. No person shall hawk, peddle, or expose for sale any of the articles enumerated in section fifteen of chapter sixty five of the Revised Laws, until he has recorded his name and residence with the inspector of provisions, and been assigned a number by said inspector.

2. Requirements for registration. No person shall be registered until he has given proof that he is over 21 years of age and of good moral character. In the case of non residents a letter from the Chief of Police or a police officer of his place of residence, stating that he is personally acquainted with the applicant and knows him to be of good moral character, must be presented to the Inspector of Provisions.

3. Vehicles to be numbered. Every vehicle or receptacle shall have the name and number of the person selling painted thereon in letters and figures at least two inches in size, shall be kept neat and clean within and without, and shall be submitted to the inspector of provisions on the first Monday in April and October, and at such other times as he shall require.

4. Peddlers shall not cry their wares unduly. No person so exposing for sale or selling said articles shall cry his wares to the disturbance of the peace and comfort of the inhabitants of the city.

5. Sale of diseased meat, etc., prohibited. No person shall sell or offer for sale any diseased animal or flesh, or any decaying or unwholesome milk, fish, vegetables, fruit, or other articles of food. No vender of meats, fish, vegetables, or fruits shall throw or put any parts thereof upon any street or lands adjacent thereto.

6. Carcasses of fowl to be plucked. No carcass of any hen, chicken, turkey, duck, or goose shall be brought into or exposed for sale in the city of Newton unless the feathers have been removed from the carcass before the same is brought into the city.

7. Food stuffs to be protected against flies. Every person engaged in the sale of foodstuffs shall cause his wares to be properly protected, by screens or otherwise, against contamination by flies or street dust.

8. Food stuffs not to be kept in living rooms. No food stuffs intended for sale shall be stored or kept in any room used for living or sleeping purposes.

CHAPTER XIV.

FUNERALS AND THE DISPOSAL OF DEAD BODIES.

1. Depth of Graves. No person shall inter or cause to be interred the body of any dead person in a grave less than three feet deep from the surface of the ground surrounding the grave to the top of the coffin.

2. Hours for Burial. No person shall inter or cause to be interred the body of any dead person at any other time of the day than between sunrise and sunset, except in accordance with a permit from the Board of Health. No person shall open a grave or remove the body of a dead person or the remains from a grave or tomb without a permit from the Board of Health.

3. Wall Draperies Forbidden. The use of wall draperies in any room or place used for a funeral or for the preparation for retention of any human body before or in connection with such funeral is forbidden.

CHAPTER XV.

BAKERIES.

1. Buildings occupied as Bakeries to be, etc. All buildings which are occupied as biscuit, bread or cake bakeries shall be properly drained and plumbed. They shall be provided with a proper wash room and water closets, having ventilation apart from the bake room or rooms where food products are manufactured; and no water closet, earth closet, privy or ash pit shall be within or communicate directly with the bake room of any bakery.

2. Rooms to be kept clean. Every room which is used for the manufacture of flour or meal food products shall, unless otherwise permitted by the Board of Health, have an impermeable floor constructed of cement or tiles laid in cement, and an additional floor of wood properly saturated with linseed oil.

The walls and ceiling of such room shall be plastered or wain scotted, and, unless otherwise permitted by the Board of Health, shall be whitewashed at least once in three months.

The furniture and utensils therein shall be so arranged that they and the floor may at all times be kept clean and in good sanitary condition.

3. Separate sleeping rooms required. The sleeping rooms for persons who are employed in a bakery shall be separate from the rooms in which flour or meal products are manufactured or stored.

4. Storing of manufactured products. The manufactured flour or meal food products shall be kept in perfectly dry and airy rooms so arranged that the floors, shelves and all other facilities for storing the same can be easily and perfectly cleaned.

CHAPTER XVII.

MISCELLANEOUS.

1. Old rags, old paper, or other refuse in a dwelling. No old rags, old papers or other refuse material shall be brought into or allowed to remain within any building used as a dwelling, if gathered from any place outside such building.

2. Spitting in street cars, etc. No person shall spit upon the floor, platform or any other part of a public conveyance, upon the floor, steps or stairs of any public building, hall, church, railway station or shop, upon the sidewalk of any public or private street, or upon the pathway of any park, square or common.

3. Cleaning of street cars. Every closed street railway passenger car operated in Newton shall be properly ventilated while in operation and shall be properly aired at the end of each round trip. It shall also be cleaned at the end of each day's run, in such manner as the Board of Health may direct or approve.

4. Tenements. No owner or manager of any tenement or lodging house shall permit more than one person for every 400 cubic feet of air space to occupy any one sleeping room.

CHAPTER XVIII.

PENALTY.

1. Penalty for violation. Whoever shall violate any provision of the preceding rules shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars.

Adopted Aug. 10, 1909.

New England CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

Boston, Mass.

GEORGE W. CHADWICK, DIRECTOR

School Year Begins September 16, 1909

Everywhere recognized as the largest and best equipped school of music in the world. Its complete organization, its imposing Conservatory building and splendid equipment, and the new Residence building offer exceptional facilities for students. Every department under special masters. The reciprocal relations established with Harvard University afford pupils special advantages for literary study.

Owing to the practical training of students in our Normal Department, graduates are much in demand as teachers and musicians. The privilege of lectures, concerts and recitals, the opportunities of ensemble practice and appearing before audiences, and the daily association with the Conservatory are invaluable advantages to the music student.

A number of free violin scholarships available for 1909.

GRAND OPERA SCHOOL

This school gives a practical training for Grand Opera in regular professional rehearsals. The conductors, stage managers and répétiteurs are of the staff of the Boston Opera House. Through this Opera School young Americans will have the opportunity to obtain a debut in the Boston Opera House when they demonstrate sufficient ability.

Office open for registration September 9th.

MASSACHUSETTS SAVINGS IN-SURANCE LEAGUE.

Mrs. John T. Prince, prominent in many philanthropic and social projects, appears on the advisory board of the savings bank life insurance committee of the Women's Educational and Industrial Union, which has just issued a booklet addressed to the women of Massachusetts, designed to arouse popular interest in the effort to encourage thrift and provision for the future among the women of the state. The members of the Union feel that the opportunity for obtaining life insurance and old age pensions at cost should be brought to the attention of every woman, whatever the occupation or condition of life. To this end they have secured the cooperation of the principal women's clubs throughout the Commonwealth, and have appointed an advisory and executive board which includes many of the most prominent women in Boston and vicinity.

—Mr. Wm. M. Buffum of Beacon street, Quartermaster Sergeant of the First Corps of Cadets, is at the front with that organization in the present war maneuvers.

—Mr. Joseph Breck Jr. of Beacon street went Monday to Lenox for a stay of several weeks. Miss Margaret Breck returned last Saturday from Mansfield, Conn., after a short stay.

—Miss Edith Parsons of Durham, N. H., returned home Wednesday after a week's visit with Miss Janet Kane of Beacon street. Miss Priscilla Parsons is now the guest of Miss Fannie Kane.

—Mrs. H. R. Lane and daughter Hortense went Monday to spend the week as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Hill at Royalston, Mass. Miss Margaret and Miss Beatrice Lane are visiting in Danvers.

—Waltham Tennis Club won from Waban on the former courts, last Saturday, thus evening up the series. The home team captured both doubles matches and one in singles, giving them the odd match, Waban winning the first two singles contests. The visiting team played without two of the strongest men, W. H. Parker and D. M. Hill and were bothered by the strange courts, playing below their usual form as a consequence. Garrison won his match from Drury again and Robinson defeated Warren in a fast contest, but Raney lost to Barnes and the doubles were easy for the home players. The summary: Garrison d. Drury, 6-2, 6-4, 2-6, 7-5; Robinson d. Warren, 6-1, 1-6, 6-3; Barnes d. Blaney, 6-4, 6-4; Ashby and Warren d. Turner and Fisher, 5-7, 6-0, 4-6, 6-1, 6-0; Teele and Bowler d. Williams and Cook, 6-3, 6-2.

The heater that presents a third more surface to the direct heat of the coal, is the "WINCHESTER". This is due to its corrugations overhead. Yet it is so simple that a child can run it. For steam or hot water. Made by Smith & Thayer Co., 236 Congress Street, Boston, Mass.

95 CENT GAS.

Gas Commission Allows Consolidation of Local Company With Edison.

The Edison Electric Illuminating company of Boston has been authorized by the Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners to acquire the electric locations and properties of the Waltham Gas Light company, while the same Board has granted to the Newton and Watertown Gas Light company the right to the purchase of the gas franchises and property of the Waltham company.

At the State House this week the Board made public their approval of the petition of the Edison company and the Newton and Watertown Gas Light company to acquire the Waltham Gas Light company's properties. Other companies are included in the merger, according to the following partial report from the State Board:

tracts executed by these companies with each other the Edison company is to pay for the electric location and property of the Boston company, $1,300,000; for those of the Chelsea company, $350,000; those of the Newton company, $500,000; those of the Waltham company, $600,000; and the Newton company is to pay $500,000 for the property of the Waltham company. The several companies also covenant that they will not further prosecute the business of furnishing electricity or gas, as the case may be, as heretofore. * * *

"The Waltham company is to be liquidated. After its purchase of the Waltham company the capital and debt of the Newton company will be the same as they are now, as it is to receive the amount for its electric property. * * * The direct result of the transaction will be to separate in these communities the gas business from the electric business. The facilities for furnishing and distributing light, heat and power will not in any event be diminished.

"It is clear that gas and electricity can be profitably supplied over far wider areas than was formerly thought feasible. Greater efficiency in operation and greater economies in costs are possible with a large lighting company serving a given territory than to several independent companies serving different sections of the same territory. There is a public advantage in having the gas and electric business separately conducted and under independent management and control. The natural rivalry between the two should result in substantial benefits to the public.

"It may safely be assumed that the Edison company can readily supply electricity in the territories of the other companies at lower costs than these companies could be expected to do. The advantages to the public from the consolidation of the Newton and Waltham Gas companies, after disposing of their electric business may reasonably be expected to lead to substantial reductions in price and improvement in service.

"The maximum net prices for electricity in the districts of the several companies are: Edison, 12 cents; Boston, 14 cents; Newton, 12 cents; Chelsea, 15 cents; Waltham, 16 cents per kilowatt hour. Prior to the present year the price in Newton was 18 cents, but it was reduced in anticipation of the transfer of its electric property to the Edison company. The immediate results of the consolidation will be the establishment of the Edison prices throughout the territory. The Edison company has also assured the Board that after it has had time to avail itself of such economy as may follow the consolidation it will reduce the maximum price to eleven cents throughout the territory not later than Jan. 1, 1911. With respect to the price of gas the Board has the assurance of the parties in interest that the price of gas supplied by the Newton company after the purchase of the Waltham company shall be reduced from the present price of $1 to ninety-five cents on or before Jan. 1, 1910."

For the above named reasons the Board approves the various sales and consolidations.

NEWTON TRUST COMPANY

Since the organization of the Newton Centre Trust Company (now Newton Trust Company) in 1894, its directors have always endeavored to conduct its affairs in such a manner as to entitle it to the full confidence and approval of every patron, that it might become a benefit and credit to the City of Newton.

The result of this policy has been a steady, healthy, and never-ceasing growth, until at present the Newton Trust Company is the largest and strongest banking institution in the suburbs of Boston.

—The services Sunday in St. Mary's church were conducted by Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, rector of Trinity church at Newton Centre, owing to the absence of Rev. W. R. Cole.

—Arrangements are being made for the annual picnic of St. John's parish. Owing to the poor health of Rev. P. H. Callahan, the arrangements are in charge of Rev. John J. McGrath.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. French of Glen road are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Tuxbury of North Tonnawanda, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. Tuxbury made the trip here in their automobile.

—Residents of the Lower Falls district are speculating whether further work will be done on the Wellesley side of the new steel footbridge over the Charles river, which was opened several days ago after having been in process of construction many weeks. An iron railing has been erected on the Newton side, but on the approach from the Wellesley side boards similar to those used on the old wooden structure have been placed as guard rails.

—Two canoeists, a young man and a young woman, were rescued from the Charles river near Long bridge, Wednesday afternoon by James Wylie, an employee on the estate of F. M. Crohne. The canoeists overturned their craft in midstream. Neither were able to swim. The accident was seen by a Lower Falls man, but as he was also unable to swim he did not venture into the water but ran for assistance. Wylie put out a boat and rescued the couple when they were pretty well exhausted.

NOTES OF LOCAL SPORTS.

On the Cabot Park grounds on Saturday afternoon Newton Y. M. C. A. won from Cambridgeport, 7 to 5, in a fast game. One of the features was the playing of Wood, who struck out 16. The fielding of Hanson of Newton was also creditable, while for the opponents White put up a good all round game and Normile struck out 7. Newton got 12 hits and 3 errors; Cambridgeport 6 hits and 4 errors. Wood and Falvey were the battery for Newton; Normile and Quinn for Cambridgeport.

In the series for the championship between the North and South sides of the city, the Newton Centre A. A. and Newton Catholic club teams are now even. Newton Centre won the first game, 5 to 4, but on Saturday afternoon the Catholic club players won out on West Newton common, 9 to 0. Catholic club got 10 hits and 1 error; Newton Centre 4 hits and 5 errors. McCourt and Ryan were the battery for the Catholic club; Gaw and Linnehan for Newton Centre.

Low scoring was a feature of the medal handicap tournament at Brae Burn Country club on Saturday afternoon. G. R. Angus, who won the gross prize in class A, was around in a fine 75, and there were two other players, H. L. Dexter, Jr., with 77, and Percival Gilbert, with 78, who returned gross scores under 80. Dexter, with a handicap of 20, won the net prize in the first division. In class B the gross prize went to R. B. Sprague, who had 93. F. C. Tufts, with 97—20—77, captured the net. Those playing in class A were G. R. Angus, H. L. Dexter, Jr., W. S. Wait, S. W. Stevens, P. Gilbert, W. B. Herrick, C. S. Cook, Jr., H. L. Ayer, C. T. Luce and W. D. Smith, while those in class B were F. C. Tufts, R. B. Sprague, F. R. Mitchell, C. C. Bell, G. E. Gilbert, E. Davidson and J. J. Mitchell, Jr.

Prof. Charles Zueblin of this city, well known Brae Burn golfer, won the Essex county cup, the chief trophy of the club, on Saturday after two good matches in the last of three days' open meeting at Essex Country club, Manchester. In the final match he was pitted against H. Potter of St. Louis, who had disposed of some good players during the tournament. Prof. Zueblin went out in 42 and came home in 40, his card being 82. His opponent was 85.

WILLIAM J. IRVIN DEAD.

William J. Irvin, aged 35, died Tuesday at his home, 114 Pearl street, after an illness of seven months.

He was at one time superintendent of Newton postoffice, but a number of years ago relinquished that position at his own request to become a carrier attached to the same office, believing that the outdoor work would benefit his health.

He was stricken with a severe illness while delivering mail early in January, and for a time little hope of his recovery was entertained. Later he improved considerably and was able to be out of doors, although unable to resume work. He was in particularly good spirits last week, but Monday suffered a relapse and passed away Tuesday. He was the son of James Irvin of this city, and is survived by his wife and two infant children.

Funeral services were held this morning at ten o'clock at his late home, in charge of Rev. W. D. Barnes, the assistant at Elliot church. The interment was at Lowell, where there was a simple service at the grave.

PIONEER IN BUSINESS.

Burdett College Applies Counting Room Practice.

Burdett is now said to be the largest commercial school in the world. Its original methods and progressive spirit have established a record which makes its practical training widely recognized among business men.

This was the pioneer school in New England to adopt the actual counting room methods and its students are educated under the same general conditions to be found in the most modernly conducted offices.

For many years it has been well known that the graduates of the book-keeping and banking departments at Burdett knew their business thoroughly. The same standard of efficiency is being insisted upon in its departments of stenography and typewriting, including the actual office letter practice and modern office appliance work.

The Burdett method of touch type.

writing, enabling the operator to use a typewriter without looking at the keyboard, has made the Burdett graduates very valuable office assistants.

Doubtless the success which Burdett College has earned is due not only to its practical standards of training, but also to the care which the school takes of its graduates through its situation department.

The high rents in the heart of the city make it prohibitive for an institution to secure additional rooms until actually pressed by increased business to do so. No more pertinent comment can be made upon the remarkable success of Burdett than to state that during the past year it became necessary, in order to avoid a waiting list, to add six schoolrooms to its plant. The enrollment to date is so much greater than that of a year ago today that during the past week, four more rooms have been leased, a total of 10 since September, 1908, in order for the school to keep abreast of its enlarging business. Burdett seems to have struck the keynote in educating students so that they are eagerly sought by the business world.—From Boston Herald.

THEATRES

Castle Square Theatre—The John Craig Stock Company begins its second year at the Castle Square Monday afternoon and evening. The Castle Square will be under the sole leadership and management of John Craig, and he has re-engaged the entire stock company that helped to make last season so notable. Miss Mary Young will be the leading lady, with Mr. Craig himself as leading man, and the personnel of the company will comprise Theodore Friebus, Donald Meek, George Hassell, Wilfred Young, Bert Young, Al Roberts, Gertrude Blin, Mabel Colcord and Kate Ryan. For his opening attraction, Mr. Craig has chosen the brilliant American comedy of "Clothes," and it will be played but a single week at the Castle Square, with performances every afternoon and evening.

Orpheum Theatre—Never before in the history of summer stock productions in Boston has a play been run three weeks and this makes all the more remarkable Manager Lindsay Morrison's announcement that "Quincy Adams Sawyer" is to be held over next week. During these two weeks all records in stock attendance have been smashed. Over thirty-seven thousand five hundred people have seen "Quincy Adams Sawyer" and capacity audiences have been the rule at every performance. The show itself needs no comment. The hundreds of thousands of people who have seen it during the past six years find it pleasing to witness it over and over again. There is always a fund of humor that even to the person who has seen it a score of times seems inexhaustible. The play will include the same excellent cast, headed by Howell Hansel as "Quincy Adams Sawyer," and the same original properties and scenery which have added so much to the production, will be retained.

GEORGE ADE'S MANICURE.

Of all the types drawn by George Ade, now recognized as America's greatest humorist none has hit the popular fancy better than his manicure, which he introduced in a short comedy, with the mayor of a western town as the other principal character. In it the mayor's son while at college fell in love with the village manicure, and when he returned home, the woman followed him and tried to extort money from the father. The manner in which Ade worked out the situation, showing the humorous side of it, even though dealing with an adventure is one of the very best things he has ever done. The sketch is called "The Maid and the Manicure" and will be presented at Keith's next week by Edwin Holt and company.

Mr. Holt was formerly with Maude Adams and is one of the best known comedians now on the stage. This week will also be the last of the Faddies, when Mrs. Nichols and her forty women players will give a farewell program made of request numbers sent by admirers. This has been the most successful season the Faddies have ever played, and the programs given by them have been of a higher order. Another novelty this week will be Kid Gabriel in his wonderful poses, being faithful reproductions of the famous Remington paintings of life on the cow ranch. This will be their first presentation in New England. Others will be the Four Rhythmic Acrobats, Smith and Campbell humorists, Arthur Rigby black-face comedian, and the four Dancin' bugs, something that will prove a surprise in the dancing line.

—Rev. Mr. Hunkley, pastor of the Baptist church at Weston left Saturday for a vacation trip of several weeks in Vermont. During the next few weeks extensive repairs will be made to his church.

—Mr. and Mrs. Walter McCammon of Central street are expected home early next month from Buston's Island, Me., where they have been spending several weeks. Mr. McCammon's motor boat has been one of the fastest motor craft in the fleet there this summer. He made the trip from Newton there, and is planning to return in the boat.

—The service at the Congregational church was conducted on Sunday by Rev. Edgar E. Davidson of Newtonville. He will also conduct the mid-week service this evening. The service next Sunday will be in charge of Rev. Dr. G. Glenn Atkins of Detroit. It was announced, and Rev. William C. Gordon will return from his vacation trip before the following Sunday.

—The experiment of spreading tarvia on North avenue, which was tried last spring by Road Commissioner Coburn of Weston, has proven even a greater success than had been looked for. The road has not been touched since the first application of dust laying material three months ago, and during the summer it has been used by many automobilists.

Because of the success of this experiment the treating of other thoroughfares in Weston, bordering Auburndale, is contemplated for next season.

—Mrs. W. F. Spooner of Aspen avenue returns next week from several weeks' stay at Wentworth, N. H.

Y. M. C. A. NEWS.

The association team kept its winning gait by defeating the strong Cambridgeport team, last Saturday, by the score of 7 to 5, winning the game in the eighth inning with a fine batting rally when the score was 5 to 3 against them. The Cambridgeport team defeated the local team the first of the season and the victory Saturday was coveted by the association team. The lineup of the Y. M. C. A. was as follows: Falvy, catcher; Wood, pitcher; Belding, first base; Haskell, second base; Lonergan (Capt.), third base; Hines, shortstop; Hanson, left field; Wharton and Turner, center field; Macpherson, right field. Wood pitched a star game, striking out 16 men, Lonergan was the star batter, making a home run the first time at bat, Hanson made a wonderful one hand catch which spoiled a home run, the catch reminded the spectators of the great Ty Cobb. The team will play in Brookline Saturday against the Longwoods.

Physical Director Macpherson and Assistant Lucas have been putting the locker room and gymnasium into first class shape for the fall work, and the place looks much brighter for their labors.

The young men of Newton and vicinity who are to plan for their winter's activities, would do well to consider the association as a good investment; with its spacious gymnasium, containing the best basketball court in this section; a fine hand-ball court, lanes for 20 yard dashes, and a floor track, thus offering every inducement for athletic training under scientific supervision. For those not wishing to take up competitive athletics, classes will be arranged, the work will be graded and emphasis paid on all around development. These classes will be announced later. Physical Director Macpherson is planning to introduce some new features in the work this year and is looking forward to a good season.

HYMN SUMMONED HELP.

Encouraged by the singing of the favorite hymn, "Rescue the Perishing, Care for the Dying," by a squad of Gospel workers on the banks of the Charles river at Auburndale on Sunday afternoon, metropolitan park policeman William Elliott saved a man and a young woman from drowning.

Patrolman Elliott was standing upon the observation platform near the bridge scanning the river with his field glasses. Beside his platform is an emergency pole, while at its base and at the water's edge is a small, but natty cedar lifeboat built upon speed lines.

While standing on his platform patrolman Elliott saw a man and woman having difficulty in their canoe. The man did not appear to understand the handling of the little craft.

The throng of worshippers who surrounded the Gospel singers on the shore suddenly sent up a shout. They had seen the canoe upset and the man and woman thrown into the water. But the leader of the half-dozen men of the band of religious workers was calm and he instantly began singing the hymn, "Rescue the Perishing, Care for the Dying."

Patrolman Elliott at once slid down the emergency pole to his boat. Picking up his oars he pulled to the side of the man and woman struggling in the water. Fortunately they fell into water which was just above their shoulders, but they were slowly sinking into the soft muddy bottom and in a short time would have been totally submerged.

The woman was hysterical and was pivoting on her toes so that it was a difficult task for the policeman to pull her into his boat. But he did it and then rescued the man. They were taken to the shore.

A half hour later a woman, wrapped in a blanket was seen upon the shore drying out 50 ft bills in the sunlight. The man was 100 yards away wringing the water out of his trousers. The names of the tipover victims were not given out.

FORMER DAYS RECALLED.

The following extracts from a recent letter of Mr. J. W. Bridgman, a former resident of Church street, Newton, will undoubtedly be of interest to our older readers:—

Goldsboro, Md., Aug. 18, 1909.

Reading an article in the Chicago Tribune to-day in relation to the 100th anniversary of Oliver Wendell Holmes occurring the 29th inst., led me to think of a long time ago.

Fifty (or fifty-one) years ago, when I was a clerk in Mr. Cole's store in Newton, the Elliot Debating Club provided a winter's course of lectures to be delivered by prominent men.

One of those secured for an evening was Mr. Holmes. He arrived at Newton an hour or so before the time for the lecture, which was to be given in Cole's Hall which was in Mr. Cole's store building. The time for closing the store came and the hall was not yet open. As I was a member of the club, Mr. Cole suggested that I stay in his office till time for the lecture and thus provide a waiting place for Mr. Holmes who was already there. I was glad to do it, and though a boy only about nineteen years of age, no one ever enjoyed an hour more than I did that spent with Mr. Holmes and from that time to this have never forgotten it.

The subject was "The Chief End of Man." The lecture was eloquent, full of many fine points, and all listened to every word. The closing sentence was "The Chief End of Man is to find his place and fill it."

This closing sentence has come to my mind many, many times.

If not asking too much, please let me refer to another old recollection connected with that old hall. In it was held the regular meetings of the temperance society composed of the young people of Newton. I happened to hold the office of chaplain in the society. New members joined often and in the ceremony was the charge of this officer closing with the words "So live that when your lamp of life shall set it shall be as the morning star which goeth not down behind the darkened west but melts away into the brightness of Heaven."

These thoughts have come to me to-day by going back to the early days when there was great pleasure for me in taking part in what was going on.

J. W. BRIDGMAN.

POLICE.

Charged with fraudulently procuring entertainment in a boarding house, Oscar F. Carlson, alias Fred O. Carlson, 22 years old, giving his address as Worcester, was sentenced to two months in the house of correction in court here Saturday. Mrs. Mary J. Carr of 507 Waltham street, West Newton, testified that Carlson obtained 17 days' board without paying his bill in her home, and that he also borrowed $5 from her, representing that he needed the money to buy tools. Inspector O'Halloran, who arrested him in Worcester, testified that the prisoner had just served a month for larceny in that city and that he had previously served a year for larceny in Bridgeport, Conn.

POLICE WIN AT BASEBALL.

The police crossed bats with a team picked from Newton street railway and Norumbega park employees in a seven inning baseball game on West Newton common Wednesday forenoon, and by superior stick work the patrolmen won out, 12 to 6.

Neither side was able to score in the first inning, but in the second the police struck their gait with three runs, repeating the performance also in the third, sixth and seventh innings. The street railway players managed to bring the score up several times to a point making it somewhat anxious playing for their opponents, but each time the police closed the inning with a good lead.

"Darby" Dolan whanged out a home run for the police in the second, "Gene" Cronin did the same for the street railway team in the third and Bergin of the street railway players got a "homer" in the fifth. There were frequent periods of really fast playing by both sides. Harry Mallen unpaired.

The teams lined up as follows: Police—Hannon and Murphy p. Goode and Hannon c. Farrell 1b, Larivee 2b, Murphy 3b, Sartwell ss, Cronin lf, Dolan cf, Hughes rf.

Street Railway—McMahon p, Howe, Bergin and Foster c, McCarthy 1b, Metcalf 2b, Fogwill and Bergin 3b, McGrath ss, Bergin lf, Ryan cf, Cronin rf.

The score:

Police 1 2 3 4 5 6 7—R

Police 0 3 3 0 0 3 3—12

Street Railway 0 1 1 0 2 2 0—6

R. A. Van Wart sent over a sufficient supply of lemonade during the contest to quench the well developed thirsts of the players, whose strenuous exercises took place under the hot rays of a mid-summer sun.

McKenney & Waterbury Co., No. 181 Franklin St., corner Congress, have the largest assortment of up-to-date lighting fixtures in Electric, Gas and Oil, for immediate shipment. Everything required for the summer home especially.

MRS. ALVORD'S DEATH.

Mrs. Harriet Lincoln Alvord, wife of Ralph F. Alvord of Newton Highlands, who terminated her life by inhaling gas at her home Aug. 18th, had suffered at periods from melancholia, the attack of the past few weeks being especially acute. A close watch was maintained to prevent any accident, but she eluded vigilance.

Mrs. Alvord was the daughter of A. A. Lincoln of Wollaston and a resident of that place previous to her marriage. A graduate of Wheaton Seminary, her preparation was made at the Quincy High School. In all the relations of life she won many friends by her gentle manner and beautiful character. A rare Christian woman, she was the center of a happy home and a devoted family.

HEAVY LOSSES IN CARD GAME.

Convicted of larceny of $20 from a fellow countryman in a card game at Newton Upper Falls late at night,
Frank Grinnal, 21 years old, a tinsmith living at 57 Mechanic street, was fined $50 in the police court Friday.

Anthony Szukis testified that he was invited to join a card game at Grinnal's home. Suddenly the lights were put out, he said, someone struck him a severe blow on the head and when he recovered consciousness his money was gone.

Learning that Grinnal was about to sail for Russia today, Patrolman Dugan went to the house and arrested him at 1:15 this morning. Grinnal had two pocketbooks, one containing about $300 in gold coins of United States and Russian denominations. In a pocket he had bills which corresponded in denominations to those taken from Szukis. He pleaded not guilty to the charge, however, and declared that Szukis came to the house without invitation. He paid the fine, but was delayed in making the trip
back to his old home.

DEATH OF W. A. GOODMAN.

William A. Goodman, who had for many years been engaged in the insurance business in Boston, died suddenly Monday evening at his home at 73 Lombard street. Death was due to angina pectoris, and followed an illness of only 12 days. He was in his 62d year.

He was born in New York city.
When quite young his parents moved to Hartford, Conn., where they resided for a short time prior to coming to Boston. When a youth he was employed in his father's office in a clerical capacity, his father then being a member of the insurance firm of James Goodman & Co. at 46 Congress street.

Following the death of his father
Mr. Goodman founded the insurance firm of Goodman, Jacobs & Cate, and when that firm dissolved he became a partner in the business of Martin
L. Cate at 72 Kilby street.

During recent years he had offices at 112 Milk street, and was widely known in the insurance business throughout New England.

He moved to Newton about 12 years ago, and had made many friends in this city. He attended Eliot church.

He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Miss Mabel S. Goodman of Newton and Mrs. R. E. Belcher of Medford Hillsdale.

Floral tributes from his former business associates and from a host of friends were sent in large numbers for the funeral, which took place Thursday afternoon at the family home. The service was conducted by W. D. Barnes, a divinity student who has had charge of Eliot church during the summer. A simple service was conducted, and the body was taken to Forest Hills cemetery for interment.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON MEETINGS.

The meeting on the tract of land
this side of Weston Bridge held Sunday afternoons at 4:30 under the auspices of the Evangelical Alliance will be held next Sunday at 4 o'clock and at the close the West Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold a service of music with an address by Prof. John A. Nicholls on "The Best Remedy for the Nation's Greatest Curse." He is considered one of the best temperance orators of the day.

CITY HALL.

The republican city committee, of which Ex-Alderman Albert P. Carter is chairman, has filed notice with the city clerk's office, of its intention to participate in the primaries. The other parties have not yet filed such notice, not having received from the state committees a record of the number of delegates which this city will be called upon to send to the various conventions. In previous years such notice, which is required by law, has usually been filed shortly after the middle of August.

POLICE NOTES.

James Trudo, aged 21, of 23 River avenue, was charged with assault and battery on a fellow employee in the silk mill at Newton Upper Falls.
It was testified that he struck a young man who had objected to Trudo throwing snuff in his face.

Frank A. Williams of 87 Charles street, who appealed from a fine of $15 imposed for assault upon Vincent Barrett, aged 6, of Auburndale, appeared in court Friday and asked permission to withdraw the appeal. Judge Kennedy reaffirmed the previous fine, which Williams paid.

Among the sales of land in Auburndale this week is that of 126 Auburn street corner of Commonwealth avenue which has been purchased by Miss C. G. Farnum of Boston from Fred Johnson, 140 feet on Auburn street and 80 feet on Commonwealth avenue. Miss Farnum will erect a beautiful villa on this land to be completed Nov. 1. Broad piazzas and all modern improvements. Edwin F. Terrill, 12 Exchange street, Boston, architect.

OLD ESTATE TO BE OCCUPIED.

Work is well under way in demolishing the mansion on the old William G. Appleton estate, bordering the Charles river in the outskirts of Newton Highlands. This estate was half a century ago one of the largest in this city and included more than 300 acres. Here the late Mr. Appleton had a magnificent dwelling, and collected a large number of valuable books, parchments and coins. A number of years ago 59 acres of the estate, comprising that section lying next to the river, was secured by the city of Newton for the water department. The remainder of the estate, some 260 acres, recently came into possession of Robert G. Shaw, 2d, of Brookline, and it is said that Mr.
Shaw is to have a large country home built there.

STREET TRAFFIC CENSUS.

The Massachusetts Highway commission is engaged in taking a census of the street traffic all over the state to determine what use is being made of the highways. In Newton the inspection will be in charge of Street Commissioner Ross and begins tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock, continuing for 14 hours each day for a week. Mr.
Ross has fixed the inspection points at Newtonville square and at the junction of Commonwealth avenue and Centre street.

BASE BALL LEAGUE.

An interesting contest is going on in the Base Ball League now playing its games on the Newton Centre Playground under the direction of Mr. W.
N. Howard, the standing being as follows:

	Won.	Lost.
Davenport	5	0
Newton Centre	5	1
Newtonville	4	1
Young Americans	3	3
Newton	2	4
Beacons	1	6
Upper Falls	0	6

The game scheduled for next Monday afternoon at 2:30 between the Davenport and Newtonville ought to have an important bearing on the standing and will be of great interest.

NORUMBEGA PARK.

At the present rate the present season will go on record as the most prosperous of its 13 years' history.
No previous season up to within the last week of August can show an average daily attendance of average daily receipts to compare with those of this summer thus far. Notwithstanding the fire which wiped out the theatre and left the park without its most popular attraction for a period of about ten days these are the notable facts.

Norumbega Park's Zoological Garden is a model one, and a real treat to lovers of animals. Each specimen is found in natural and comfortable enclosures and is consequently seen at its best. In the open air theatre for the coming week, beginning Monday afternoon, August 30, there will be another big vaudeville bill that hids fair to outshine even the exceptional programs of the past two weeks.

For full list of acts see the Boston
Sunday papers.

NEWTON CENTRE WOMAN
CHOSEN.

Mrs. Helen R. Smith of Newton Centre, was appointed Wednesday at a meeting of the governor and council as trustee of the state hospital and state farm. She is the wife of Charles L. Smith, and her home is at 9 Morseland avenue. She has served during the past 10 years as treasurer of the Newton District Nursing association, and at the present time is a member of the training committee of Newton hospital.

Miss Lucy M. Learned, the daughter of the late William H. Learned, died last week Thursday at the home of her sister Mrs. Guy Lamkin on Langley road, aged 60 years. Funeral services were held from the Lamkin residence on Sunday afternoon.

Henry Hammel, aged 67, a painter well known in this city, died yesterday at his home, 234 Parker street.
He had lived in this city practically all his life. He is survived by his wife, two sons and a daughter. The funeral will take place Sunday at 2
P. M. at the family home.

A marriage license returned to the city clerk's office made known the wedding of Harry A. Morash of 1324

Whitney Hubbard, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hubbard of Hollis street returned early this week from Sandwich, where he has been spending most of the summer, and is visiting in Scituate for a few days.

Many friends will sympathize with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Bacon of Fairview street in the sudden death on Monday of their only son, Winchester, aged ten year. The death took place at their summer home, at Wheeler's Point, Gloucester, and was caused by acute poliomyelitis, a disease of the spinal cord. Funeral services were held at the chapel of the Newton cemetery on Tuesday afternoon in charge of Rev. W. D. Barnes, the assistant at Eliot church.

AUTO DRIVER HURT IN EXPLOSION.

A leaking gasoline tank of an automobile caught fire and exploded about 11 Sunday forenoon on Commonwealth avenue boulevard near South street, Chestnut Hill, causing such severe burns to the chauffeur, Richard Jones, 35 years old, of 15 Irving terrace, Cambridge, that he was taken to Newton hospital for treatment.

Jones was driving the machine at a fair speed along the south roadway, when other automobilists noticed that the tank was leaking in such manner as to leave a thin trail of gasoline behind the machine. As the machine neared South street, before other motorists could warn the chauffeur, there was an explosion heard for a considerable distance.

The tank took fire and flames shot up about the upper part of the machine. Before the chauffeur could stop the car or jump, his clothing caught fire and he was severely burned about the body.

Jones was placed in the machine of A. P. Pierce of Jamaica Plain, which happened to be passing, and was hurried to Newton hospital. The machine operated by Jones was considerably damaged.

CITY HALL.

Mayor Hutchinson will resume his duties next Monday, after a fortnight's rest at Casco Bay.

Police Inspector Frank B. Fletcher left Tuesday evening for a vacation, which he will spend at Stoneham, where his family is summering. During his absence the detective bureau will be in charge of Inspector Edward P. O'Halloran.

City Messenger Joseph D. Wellington left this week for Bustin's Island, Me., where he will spend the remainder of his vacation.

The way to heat a cold house is to put in the heater which will produce the greatest heat with the least fuel. The coldest N. E. towns use "WINCHESTERS" in the most exposed houses. For steam or hot water. Made by Smith & Thayer Co., 236 Congress street, Boston, Mass.

OUTING AT RIVERSIDE.

Land and water sports, two contests which the official announcer said were baseball games, and a host of other attractions concluding with dancing afforded an attractive program keeping about 700 persons busy during the annual Houghton & Dutton company field day at Riverside Saturday afternoon and evening.

The arrival at Riverside was made shortly after 2, a special train conveying most of the members. The Houghton & Dutton baseball team met the L. P. Hollander & Co. team as the first athletic event, the former team winning, 11 to 1, in four innings, Carter pitching well throughout.

The buyers then lined up against the floor managers, and at the end of four innings the game was pronounced a tie, 5 to 5, although faithful "rooters" for either side claimed victory. Alexander McGregor umpired the first inning. When it was noticed that every decision that he made was either a strike or a hit, E. P. Davis was put in to replace him behind the pitcher's box. Despite the strenuous effort of Depper to call the game when his team, the buyers, were leading by a single run, the "contest" went four full innings with victory finally undecided.

After a series of track and field events, with Johnny Mack of Yale and William Donovan of Harvard as officials, there was a pleasing exhibition in the big swimming pool by the Berlo family of South Boston. The aquatic performances of this family ranged from fancy swimming to the Monte Cristo sack dive, but the biggest round of applause was accorded the little four-year old Berlo who sat upon his mother's back when she dove and then struck out for himself. Misses Madeline and Florence Berlo won applause with a life saving exhibition.

Water sports were then indulged in by members of the association, prizes being awarded in each event. Many of the young women enjoyed canoe and launch rides on the Charles river, and after luncheon dancing attracted everyone to the pavilion. The arrangements were in charge of the following officers of Houghton & Dutton A. A.: E. P. Davis, president; E. P. Morse, vice president and treasurer; C. F. Vedder, secretary; John N. Jordan, financial secretary; E. P. Morse, C. F. Vedder, W. R. Richards, S. H. Thurber and W. McNamara, entertainment committee.

DEATH OF HENRY D. DEGEN.

After a long illness Henry D. Degen, aged 77, for many years one of the best known residents of Newton Centre, died late last Friday afternoon. His home was at 629 Commonwealth avenue.

For many years he was widely known as treasurer of the New England Deaconess association, and in this capacity took charge of large sums of money raised by Methodist parishes throughout New England in aid of this work. He was prominent for some years in the cotton trade, and at one time served as president of Newton board of aldermen.

He is survived by his wife, one son and one daughter.

Henry Dutton Degen was born in New York city, June 10, 1832, the son of Rev. Henry V. Degen. He was graduated from Wilbraham academy, and for five years was engaged in the work of the American Sunday School union. Coming to New England he was with others instrumental in forming what is now the Wakefield Methodist church, in 1859.

In 1861 he enlisted in the three months' volunteer service, being made

WHY

"1892" Pure Spun Aluminum Kitchen Ware Is Better Than Agate or Enamel

Because it is sanitary and saves your money, time and health. The genuine spun aluminum ware, stamped with the Maltese Cross, will outlast any other cooking utensils and is guaranteed by the makers for twenty-five years.

It is pure, wholesome and hygienic—no danger of metal poisoning—cannot chip into the food, because pure SPUN Aluminum expands with the heat and will not crack, scale or peel like the old style ware.

Enamel ware is iron coated with colored glass. Heat causes the glass to chip off into the food in minute particles, which, taken into the stomach, is apt to cause serious troubles, including cancer, according to some medical authorities.

"1892" Pure Spun Aluminum Ware is made from solid Aluminum throughout—no coating of glass—and expands uniformly under heat. It cannot crack, scale, peel like the out of date enameled utensils; it does away with all possible danger from this source.

You owe it to yourself, and to every member of the household, to give this new and better kitchen ware a practical test. If it fails to do what is claimed for it, you get your money back without a quibble or a cross word.

At your dealers.

Patent Tension Steel Shears Free

To every new subscriber to the Newton Graphic

The Latest and Most Useful Household Invention

The cutting edge on these shears is indestructible and will never wear dull. They will cut anything and everything, from wet tissue paper to a heavy horse blanket. Note the Patent tension Spring. It does away with resharpening entirely. Eight inches in length.

Eight-Inch Patent Tension Spring Shears

The Shears are manufactured of the very highest grade steel, perfectly tempered and heavily nickel plated on a highly polished surface. The patent tension spring takes up all the wear on the rivet so that the cutting edges will never wear dull. A simple turn of the little thumb screw will adjust the blades to cut anything from the thinnest and most delicate fabric to the heaviest material. Every woman who has had the exasperating and trying experience of attempting to cut with a dull pair of shears, will appreciate the value of this new invention.

Read This Guarantee

We guarantee the quality of the material and the workmanship in these shears to be first-class in every respect. That the tension spring doubles the usefulness of the shears and does away with the necessity of resharpening. A printed guarantee certificate accompanies every pair and contains the following: "If this pair of shears breaks or becomes defective in any way within five years from the date delivered it will be replaced with a new pair free."—By The Hamilton Silver Co., Muncie, Ind.

HOW TO GET A PAIR OF THESE SHEARS FREE

Onpayment of a years subscription in advance we will give you absolutely free a pair of these patent tension steel spring shears. We have only a limited number. Take advantage of this great opportunity at once by calling at this office or sending your subscription by mail. $2.00 a year.

THE LATE BERTRAND E. TAYLOR

Bertrand E. Taylor, aged 53, for many years a prominent Boston architect, died Monday at his home, 238 Grant avenue, Newton Centre.

Bertrand Eugene Taylor was born in St. Johnsbury, Vt., April 29, 1856, his father being Jacob Taylor and his mother Harriet Thayer Taylor.

His early education was obtained in the Academy of his native town, from which he graduated with honors in 1877.

Coming to Boston, he studied with the firm of Ober and Rand, Architects, taking special studies in the Institute of Technology. He soon became office superintendent for the firm and on the retiring of Mr. Ober was made a partner, the firm becoming Rand and Taylor. His early studies were added to by several extended trips to Europe for special study and research.

Early thrown into the company of young and enthusiastic surgeons and physicians, among whom were such men as Dr. Edward Cowles, afterward of the McLean Hospital and Dr. Rowe of the Boston City Hospital, he became deeply interested in hospital and sanatoria work and very naturally his architectural practice grew into this class of building.

He served many State and Municipal Boards and his name became well known from the Atlantic to the Pacific for intelligent and thoughtful planning of this class of institutions and he was often called in consultation when such buildings were under consideration.

He was later associated with Mr. Henry H. Kendall and Mr. Edward F. Stevens. This partnership was dissolved in 1907 and the new firm of Kendall, Taylor & Co. was formed by Messrs. Kendall and Taylor.

Among the important commissions with which Mr. Taylor has been connected are the New Hampshire State Hospital for the Insane, The Westboro State Hospital, The Massachusetts Hospital for Epileptics, The Worcester Insane Asylum, The Wrentham State School, The Boston City Hospital, The Corey Hill Hospital, The Massachusetts Homeopathic Hospital, The Newton Hospital, The Anna Jaques Hospital at Newburyport, The Hitchcock Hospital at Hanover, N. H., The Merritt Hospital at Oakland, California, and many others in different parts of the country.

He was an impetuous, enthusiastic worker, never sparing himself and giving an enormous amount of study to his problems to secure the best possible results. His artistic temperament was keen and sure and a designer of small homes he was exceedingly successful.

He designed many of the buildings at Northfield for Dwight L. Moody and when only a draftsman in the office of Mr. Rand designed and carried out the alterations of the Hotel Vendome. He became associated with the late James W. Tufts and built a large part of the model village of Pinehurst, N. C.

He aroused loyal devotion in the young men who came under his influence and numbers many strong friends among the former employees of his office who have entered professional life.

He believed in helping young men and was a charter member of the Boston Architectural Club and for many years an active supporter of its work.

He was a member of the Newton Centre Savings bank corporation and director in the Newton Centre association.

clates. He was a member of the First Congregational church at Newton Centre, Dalhousie lodge, A. F. of M., in the 32d degree; Odd Fellows, Newton club, National Arts club of New York, the sons of the American revolution and a founder of the Boston architectural club.

He was married to Miss Helen C. Payne in 1883, and their family consists of five children, Ruth, Dorothy, Clifton, Aldrich and Marjorie.

Mr. Taylor was always greatly interested in the welfare of this city, taking a particularly deep interest in Newton Centre, being identified with the improvement association and other movements for the advancement of that section.

His wife is one of the best known clubwomen of this city, and has served for a number of years as president of the Newton federation of women's clubs.

Attended by former business associates and a host of other friends, the funeral took place at 3:15 Wednesday at the family home. A simple service was conducted by Rev. Edward M. Noyes, pastor of the First Congregational church. Joseph Vlau of Cambridge sang "Abide with Me" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." The floral offerings were beautiful, particularly those from organizations with which Mr. Taylor had long been connected. Burial was in the family lot in Newton cemetery.

Waban.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Elmer of Cambridge took possession of and moved into the Baker house on Tuesday.

—Mrs. F. W. Kane of Beacon street left town by auto on Wednesday for a week's stay at Royalston, where she will be the guest of Mrs. D. M. Hill.

—Mrs. Ritchie and Mr. D. I. Baker of Windsor road bade farewell to their Waban neighbors and friends on Monday of this week, and have removed to Chicago, where they will make their future home.

—Among those who have returned to this village this week from their summer outing, we notice Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Robinson of Windsor road, from Provincetown, Mr. Richard Whitely also from Provincetown.

—The older residents of Waban will sympathize with Mrs. Norris and daughter Vivian, in the loss of husband and father, Mr. Charles S. Norris, who died at Worcester on Saturday last of an acute attack of appendicitis. The funeral was held at All Saints' Episcopal church at Worcester on Tuesday and the burial was at West Brookfield.

Newton Highlands

—Mrs. J. H. Abbott and daughter, who have been the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Thompson of Forest street returned to their home, Rexton, N. B., this week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Skelton of Newtonville announce the engagement of their daughter Annie Adeline Skelton to Mr. Frederick Albert Lowe of Newton Highlands.

—The funeral services of Mrs. Harriet L. Alvord took place last Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her late home on Rockledge road. The interment was at Wollaston, Mass.

PLAYGROUND NOTES.

It seems to be an admirable idea to have an athletic event for all Newton which shall have the approval of those most interested in the athletics of the city, and the fellow who can win the first annual contest at the Newton Centre Playground on Labor Day will have good reason to be proud of his all round ability. The boys' events on that day will also give some of the younger ones a chance to try themselves out in competitive events.

Mr. Howard is planning to introduce soccer-football on the playground next month and the boys are waiting anxiously for the colder weather that will give them a chance at the new game. Many of the light, yet active boys are going to loom up as star-players in this kicking game who get little show in our other game of football. If two or three soccer-football teams are organized round town there will be some keen contests and by Thanksgiving the older generation will think they have been on the side lines long enough and we shall have a Married or Single Men's contest.

Mayor Hutchinson has proved an executive most cordially and effectively interested in the playgrounds of the city. The new bath house on Crystal Lake was built last year at his direction and when last June, the facilities proved inadequate he took prompt steps to improve things to the great satisfaction of the hundreds of boys and the neighboring residents. There are now two men in charge, and a new raft, a life boat, and buoyed life line.

TRACK MEET.

In addition to the announcement made last week of the coming track meet to be held Labor Day at the Newton Centre Playground, Director Howard wishes us to state that entries will be received from any unregistered athletes as well as those who are registered amateurs. The cups to be awarded the winners are now being engraved and will be exhibited the coming week in different parts of the city.

BIRTHDAY RECEPTION.

On Friday evening a very pretty reception was given at the home of Mr. A. N. Bullens in honor of his birthday.

About thirty of his immediate friends and neighbors gathered to greet him. The house was charmingly decorated with flowers and plants. The unique feature of the evening was the lighting of the candles—one for each year of the host's life.

The candles surrounded a huge birthday cake and it was a very novel and brilliant sight.

Boston, Mass.

School Year Begins September 16, 1909.

Everywhere recognized as the largest and best equipped school of music in the world. Its complete organization, its imposing Conservatory building and splendid equipment, and the new Residence building offer exceptional facilities for students. Every department under special masters. The reciprocal relations established with Harvard University afford pupils special advantages for literary study. Owing to the practical training of students in our Normal Department, graduates are much in demand as teachers and musicians. The privilege of lectures, concerts and recitals, the opportunities of ensemble practice and appearing before audiences, and the daily associations are invaluable advantages to the music student. A number of free violin scholarships available for 1909.
